LIBRARY PLANS ARE MATURED

Committee Will Select Architect Next Monday.

Have Already Decided as to General Plans For the New Carnegie Library Building.

On next Monday evening it is proposed to hold a meeting of the Carnegie Library committee at which time it is expected that the supervising architect will be selected, and the plans for the building will then be drawn as speedily as possible, the materials assembled here and actual work commenced as soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring. It is proposed to spend about eight thousand dollars on the building proper, leaving approximately two thousand dollars for heating, plumbing and furnishing. The Library will be built of brick and stone, and will consist of one story and a basement. In the basement it is proposed to have a large lecture room, suitable for the meeting of clubs, the holding of lectures and other similar meetings. The basement will also contain the furnace room, packing and receiving room, and toilet rooms. The upper story will be arranged as one room so that every portion will be under the eye of the librarian. There will be an alcove for a children's reading room, one for adults and a study room, together with the library proper and the office.

Bids have been received from supervising architects in Denison, Council Bluffs, Des Moines, Chicago and St. Louis and at the Monday evening meeting it is proposed to decide who shall have charge of the building. The committee has carefully studied many plans and already knows practically what it wants. It is to be hoped that nothing will interfere with the Monday night meeting as the people are becoming impatient to know that something has actually been accomplished and that if possible the new library may be open to the public next fall.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Declamatory contest at the college chapel next Tuesday evening, the 25th. Miss Theobald of Manilla took up normal work on Monday.

College will not dismiss on the Friday after Thanksgiving. A number of students will go home but so many stay that the work will continue.

There are in all probability parties in town who would like the services of a young man for his board while he attends school. If so they should send to the college.

Hor. J. P. Conner was unable to be present on Wednesday as announced but he has fixed the date without fail for Monday morning of next week. The students are expecting a pleasing and profitable address at that time.

Prof. Martin gave an excellent reading at chapel on Thursday. Other entertaining and instructive features are on the program for the future.

Mr. Jens. Behn received on Thursday the sad news of the death of his uncle.

Miss Florence Hall took dinner at the dormitory on Monday and spent half a day in visiting classes. She graduated from the normal course last year. At present she is having a vacation but in a couple of weeks she will begin teaching again.

Miss Louise Hannah lately returned from Mexico where she has been engaged in a mission school. Miss Hannah graduated in 1899. She made a pleasant call on Thursday evening.

The Teacher's Law.

Chapter 125 of the 29th General Assembly of Iowa enacts a law for compulsory attendance at school of all children between seven and fourteen years of age. This law, as any other, does not enforce itself, but requires the assistance of officers and the people generally. The law provides in section 5 that trustees may be appointed by the school authorities. This is however hardly needed or expected in the rural communities. Section 7 of the act makes it the duty of all teachers, county superintendents, and school officers and employees to report promptly to the secretary of the school corporations any violations of the provisions of this act, of which they have knowledge or information.

The Attorney General of the State, as also the Superintendent of Public Instruction, holds that the school year ends March 1st; therefore any child of the prescribed age, who has not attended school for 12 consecutive weeks before that time, will be required to attend from the 1st of December to the end of the term to have complied with this law. It becomes the duty therefore of all teachers and directors who know of such cases to give notice, to the secretary of the township, of any child which does not attend school, and it is hoped that this law may be strictly carried out in Crawford county.

Where cases of this kind are reported to the secretary, it is made his duty to inform the president of the board, who shall, if necessary, call a meeting of the board to take such action, as the facts shall justify. See Sec. 7 on page 108 of the new school-laws.
