THE DENISON OF THE FUTURE.

It does not take a prophet to tell the future of Denison. Those who have seen towns of the same relative importance in the eastern states, have seen what Denison will become in time. While it is perhaps true that there are no surface indications of a boom, it is also true that there exist no causes for a belief that the town will not continue to make satisfactory growth and progress in the future as in the past. No one can doubt but that within the next dozen years the old frame structures on our business streets will give way to permanent brick structures. One building will compel another until the old frame structures are wiped out entirely. By the time this is accomplished the merchants will have learned that it pays to have passable streets all the year round and thus it will happen that the business streets and those leading to the depots will be paved. Preceding this improvement will be the building of a sewage system and as people become more enlightened as to the things of health, they will wonder that the town ever existed so long without this sanitary precaution and that property owners were not compelled long before to comply with the demands of good health and decency by the erection of suitable water closets in the business district. In a dozen years the Review will surely be published daily and we presume that by a year after the Bulletin will also. In a dozen years some of the small industries of the town will have grown to large ones and our people will have employment the year round. It is idle to speculate as to the wonderful changes which may take place on account of new inventions and discoveries, but it is safe to say the telephone will be in nearly every home in the country as well as in town and that the "telephone order" business will be a large item with all our stores. Denison will be a town of five thousand people in ten years and we may look for many great improvements if all work together for the common good and especially if the work of building up the city begins now. There is no time like the present and the merchant or business man who waits for prosperity to come to him will wait a long time. The many business changes which have taken place recently are indicative of renewed effort along business lines. The year is to be one of push and energy and activity.

The many projects which are talked of and which apparently come to nothing, are not entirely failures. They show that public spiritedness is not dead, that men are thinking and planning for Denison and in the end some good will come. The building of the new court house will give an air of stability to Denison. It will encourage permanent improvements along other lines. The building of the Carnegie library will add to the culture of the town and all these things together with our college and public schools will attract many people who wish to find a quiet and well ordered home for their families. No factor will be of more importance to the material welfare of Denison than the cultivation of public spirit. We had hoped a year ago that the business men's association would be more of a power for good than it has. While it carried the street fair through with great success it has failed in its object of drawing the business men closer together. Whether there is any special business or not the association should meet once a month if only for a comparison of ideas. The Denison of the future will be a good town to live in, it will have enough of the spirit of the west to keep it alive and stirring and it will have culture and refinement enough to make it desirable as a home.

Through the influence of Hon. J. P. Conner the Post Office Department has granted the Denison office an allowance for janitor service. It is difficult to keep a post office looking clean and it was impossible to keep it as it should have been when all hands were busy with the other work of the office. Sam Horton has been installed as official janitor and he promises to keep the office as neat as a pin. Denison now has one of the most up-to-date offices in the state and good janitor service will insure its being kept in first class condition. The public could contribute much toward keeping the office in neat condition if they would be more careful and remember that the cuspidors and waste baskets are not there for ornamental purposes only and that they can be used with safety and convenience.

Times Not Jealous.
The Denison Review appears this week experimentally as a thrice a week. The enterprise of the Review people is notorious, and this new move will undoubtedly meet the support it deserves from the enterprising people of Denison.—Charter Oak Times.

A Popular Appointment.

Republicans and democrats alike are pleased with the announcement that Mr. Louis Evers is to be the deputy under Recorder James McKim. THE REVIEW publishes an excellent likeness of this promising and popular young man.

Although born in Clinton county in Dec. 29, 1874, Louis is a Denison boy for he came here with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evers when less than a year old. He has always been bright, courteous and industrious. His education he received at the private school conducted by Mr. J. F. Harbush, the public schools of Denison and Denison college. He has followed his trade as carpenter and has been in the employ of different mercantile establishments during the winter months. On Jan. 8, 1902, he was married to Miss Ida Lorenzen, daughter of ex-county treasurer A. B. Lorenzen. He is a well liked member of the Germania Verein and is extremely popular among the German young people of the county. We believe he will make an excellent man for the exacting duties of the recorder's office and we congratulate Mr. McKim upon the wisdom of his choice.

By the looks of that obnoxious Bulletin stair-way it would seem as though "Providence" and "Mother Nature" are for the rights of the citizens and a clear right of way.

Mr. John Cook is rapidly assuming a leading place on the board of supervisors and is thus justifying the predictions of his Denison friends. He has introduced more businesslike methods in the board. John is honest and straight as a string and when he gets over the idea that every republican is his natural born enemy he will make a first class supervisor.

Want Postoffice Reopened.
Washington, Jan. 9.—Senator McLaurin of Mississippi called on Postmaster General Payne yesterday and urged him to reopen the Indianola (Miss.) postoffice. Mr. Payne told him that the case now rested with President Roosevelt, who was giving the question careful consideration.

Curzon Reviews Troops.
Delhi, India, Jan. 9.—The review yesterday by the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, of 30,000 British and native troops, led by Lord Kitchener, was the last important event of the coronation durbar.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.
The political crisis which has been prevailing in Japan has resulted in a deadlock.
Dan McLeod defeated Tom McInerney at wrestling at Cleveland Thursday night. He won the best two out of three falls for a purse of $1,000 and the championship of the world.
Arthur Brown, driver of a mail wagon, was arrested at New York Thursday, having in his possession checks to the value of $1,031 which, it is alleged, he stole from mail bags.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED

Explosion of Gas Plant at Mapleton is Fatal.

Several Other Workmen Are Seriously Injured. Nearly Every Glass in Town is Broken.

By the explosion of an acetylene gas plant at Mapleton, Ia., Thursday, the building in which the plant was located was wrecked, two men were instantly killed, and several others injured.

The dead:
JOHN MATHEWS, age 40; carpenter.
CHARLES BRADFIELD, age 40; carpenter.

Mathews and Bradfield were working on the building. At 1:45 o'clock Mathews was standing upon the roof of the ice tank and Bradfield was inside. As the drum exploded the roof was blown off and Mathews was hurled to a great height, falling a distance of fifty feet from the building. The top of his head was gone and his body was horribly smashed.
The explosion wrecked the plant, broke nearly every pane of glass in town and damaged the surrounding buildings.

National Board of Trade.
Washington, Jan. 9.—The thirty-third annual convention of the National Board of Trade will be held at the Shoreham hotel in this city, commencing Jan. 13, and will continue three or four days. The executive committee will meet here Monday next. The membership of the National Board embraces more than fifty of the leading boards of trade and commercial organizations throughout the country.

Banquet of Horsemeat.
Berlin, Jan. 9.—Six hundred people sat down last night to the most remarkable banquet that ever has been given in Berlin. The dishes consisted entirely of horsemeat, and were served in various forms. The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals issued the invitations to the dinner, which was given for the purpose of demonstrating the nourishing and palatable qualities of horsemeat.

Peter Nord returned to his home in Oklahoma Tuesday evening, after a pleasant visit among his many friends and neighbors here. He likes his new home and says it can't be beat.

THE FAVORED LAND.

That North Dakota has a future ahead of it in an agricultural way far beyond the fondest hopes of even the most enthusiastic, is being realized more and more each day. The past two years have worked wonders in the matter of settling up the western portion of the state and lands that a year ago were considered as worthless or were selling at from $2 to $5 per acre, are now being eagerly picked up at prices ranging from $7 to $20 per acre. The influx of new settlers and land lookers to the Slope county continues and even increases day by day.

The magnificent crops of the past two seasons in this section of the state have served to refute the statements made by certain knockers that this was merely a cattle country, and instead have placed the Slope among the front rank of agricultural districts—not even excepting the famous No. 1 hard wheat district of the Red river valley of the North. Our banking institutions are the strongest and most prosperous to be found anywhere, business houses are pushed to the full extent of their resources in handling

The above article is an editorial from the "Palladium" of Bismarck, N. D., published in that paper Nov. 21st, 1902. It was written by a man who lived in central North Dakota for some time, and one in a position to know from experience what the opportunities are in the "Eastern Missouri Valley Slope County." Certainly no section of the Northwest offers any better chances for the man on limited means, or the man of capital, for an absolutely safe investment. Good soil, sure crops, low taxes, settlers coming in by the hundreds, best of transportation facilities, furnished by three railroads, viz: the Milwaukee, the Soo Line and the Northern Pacific, churches of different denominations, and schools, are factors that will make any county develop. Do you think land, where all these factors are at work, will long remain at from $5.00 to $12.00 per acre? The rich prairie land of Burleigh, Kidder, Stutsman, Logan, Emmons and McIntosh counties will soon be commanding prices ranging from $25.00 to $50.00 per acre.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING—At present prices the first year's crop will pay for the land, and furnish a margin for improvement on the land, or for further investment. FLAX will do it. 1902 yield ran 15 to 18 bushels per acre, which is equivalent to more than that many dollars. WHEAT will do it. 1902 yield ran from 25 to 30 bushels per acre, which is equivalent to more than the price the land is selling at. OATS will do it. 1902 yield ran from 65 to 90 bushels per acre, which is equivalent to a return of $20.00 to $30.00 per acre. Other crops are grown with equal success, but there is no crop that beats the Hungarian Brome Grass. Yield about two tons per acre, and is the finest feed in the world for all kinds of stock.

STOCK RAISING—The famous buffalo grass furnishes the most nutritious feed for cattle and with very little shelter stock can run out all winter, and are ready for market in the spring.
COAL—The fuel problem which for so long confronted the early settlers in that country is now solved. Untold quantities of very fine Lignite coal are found all through the "Eastern Missouri Valley." It is not sold by weight or measure, but is furnished the farmer by the double wagon box at $1.00 per load.

CLIMATE—Second to none. The annual rate of mortality in North Dakota is only 6.16 per 1,000, while that for the entire country is 15 per 1,000.
Farmers, stockmen, merchants, professional men, will all find an opportunity to better their conditions in this new but rapidly developing section of the Northwest.

For further particulars concerning all the unsold Northern Pacific lands lying between the James and Missouri Rivers in North Dakota, write to Hackney-Boynton Land Company, St. Paul, Minnesota, or call upon their local representative in your town. If you decide to take a trip you will be furnished with the best of railroad rates, free livery and experienced locaters to take you over the lands. Railroad fare is returned to actual purchasers. Remember the conditions are such that the opportunity to buy land at from $5.00 to $12.00 an acre down, and the balance in five equal annual payments with 6 per cent interest will not last long.
