SHOT DOWN ON STREET

Lieutenant Governor Tillman Uses Editor as Target.

OLD FEUD ENDS IN TRAGEDY.

Gonzales, the Victim, is in Critical Condition—Wildest Excitement Prevails in South Carolina Capital. Editorials Had Offended Tillman.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 16.—Narcisso Gener Gonzales, editor of the State, is at the Columbia hospital in a critical condition from a pistol wound inflicted by James H. Tillman...

The shooting occurred at Main and Gervais streets, in full view of the state capitol, the most frequented corner in Columbia.

It was just a few moments before 2 o'clock when the cry was passed along the streets that "Jim Tillman has shot N. G. Gonzales."

Mr. Gonzales was taken to the office of the State, where physicians pronounced his wound probably fatal.

Tillman was arrested and taken to police headquarters, where he was relieved of two pistols—the one with which he shot Gonzales and a large revolver of thirty-eight caliber.

The only attributed cause for the shooting is that during the recent primary election Gonzales bitterly opposed Lieutenant Governor Tillman in his race for governor.

During the spring of that campaign, Gonzales, in his fight to defeat Tillman, had editorially called him a debauchee and blackguard and had denounced him as a "criminal candidate" and a "proven liar."

It is rumored that the immediate cause of the attack was a message sent Wednesday by Gonzales to Tillman, Wednesday night, at the Columbia hotel, Lieutenant Governor Tillman said to a group of his friends: "Gonzales has sent me word that when we meet again we shall settle our difficulties with pistols."

Gonzales friends deny that he sent a message of any character to Tillman. Statements of eye-witnesses to the tragedy are somewhat conflicting, and it cannot be stated positively whether or not any words passed between the men before the shot was fired.

Walter Towne Commits Suicide At His Home Friday Morning

Points Muzzle of Shot Gun at His Heart and Pulls the Trigger With His Foot.—Exceptionally Bright Mind Unbalanced by Long Continued Illness.—Attempted to Kill Himself a Year Ago While En Route From Montana.

Walter Towne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salem Towne of Washington township, shot and killed himself at eight o'clock Friday morning.

The family rushed out of the house at the report of a shot-gun to find the young man wedged between the barn and corn crib, with the life blood ebbing away. The muzzle of the shot-gun still pointed at his heart, told too well the tale of self-destruction.

Walter Towne was one of the brightest and most promising of an exceptionally intelligent family. He was ambitious and studied and worked early and late.

He attended Denison college, and his instructors inform us that he was a bright, industrious and a hard working student. More than a year ago he went to the far west, and it was there his health became so under mined that his mind became affected. It was while returning to his home and loved ones that the suicidal mania first showed itself and he attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor, while enroute from Bridger, Mont.

At nine o'clock tonight he is resting easily and the doctor in attendance gives hopes of his recovery. His temperature is 102 and his pulse 120. The physicians say he is insane and that it is impossible to learn anything from him as to why he attempted self destruction.

Mr. W. C. Rolls of Dow City was a Denison visitor Thursday and paid us a friendly call.

loved ones pain. He was upright, honorable, intellectual, ambitious and industrious. We sincerely sympathize with the bereaved family in their deep affliction.

The REVIEW of January 24, 1902, tells the story of the first attempt of Walter Towne to take his own life:

THE FIRST ATTEMPT.

The following dispatch from the daily press tells the story of a great grief which has come to one of the most respected of the families of Crawford county. The young man was evidently driven to desperation by long continued illness which in turn drove him to at least temporary insanity and prompted the fearful deed.

Edgemont, S. D., Jan. 23 02.—Walter Towne, of Dow City, Ia., who was enroute to his Iowa home from Bridger, Mont., attempted suicide on a Burlington train as it neared this city Tuesday evening. He was riding in the rear Pullman at the time and nothing had been noticed out of the ordinary with him, when he suddenly drew a razor from his pocket and made a desperate slash at his throat.

At nine o'clock tonight he is resting easily and the doctor in attendance gives hopes of his recovery. His temperature is 102 and his pulse 120. The physicians say he is insane and that it is impossible to learn anything from him as to why he attempted self destruction.
