WALKING TO NEW YORK.
Frank Fiala of South Omaha, on a Walking Tour.

Frank Fiala globe trotter, from South Omaha, reached Denison yesterday at 3:30 p. m., having left South Omaha on the morning of the 20th. He is to walk from South Omaha to New York City, and then to San Francisco and back to Omaha, in one year. He starts without money and is to reach Omaha from San Francisco with $500. He is to report at one newspaper office in each town enroute, and get a certificate stating the time of his arrival. At 2:35 Mr. Fiala started for Vail. The distance he expects to cover in the year is 7000 miles, thus he will have to average about 20 miles a day, in order to win his wager. He is a globe trotter of some prominence and is confident that he will win his wager.

Hon. W. E. Bainbridge, Secretary of legation to Minister Conger in China, was in Denison yesterday as the guest of his brother-in-law Mr. Jacob Sims. Mr. Bainbridge has been through many thrilling experiences since he left Iowa with Minister Conger a few years ago. He has acquitted himself with such signal ability and integrity and good judgment that he undoubtedly has a brilliant diplomatic career ahead of him. Mr. Bainbridge was a member of the commission which adjusted Chinese claims amounting to $4,000,000 and it reflects great credit upon him that his findings were approved without change. Mr. Bainbridge is one of the brightest of the many bright men Iowa has given the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Burmeister celebrated their silver wedding Jan. 17th, surrounded by their children and friends. Rev. Lothringer delivered an appropriate oration upon Ps. 115-14. Two of the daughters presented an illustrated Bible, together with a silver card of congratulation.

Peppermint For Sleeplessness.
A physician declares that he finds peppermint water an efficient remedy for sleeplessness. This is a very simple cure, and it will not bring forth from the organs of professional opinion any declaration of unsoundness. It is added that a mixture of spirits of chloroform and peppermint water given in hot water to the victim of insomnia will produce sleep, but perhaps in the case of the admixture of chloroform water may claim a decided share in relieving the trouble. It is at least easy to try peppermint water, and the theory of its action is believed to be founded on its effect in withdrawing blood from the brain by attracting a fuller flow to the stomach.

He Asked A-miss.
"What's the trouble, my boy?" queried the minister of a young member of his flock. "You look sad."
"And I feel sad," replied the young man. "I asked Miss Silverton to be my wife, and she declined the honor."
"That's too bad," said the parson. "But it's in accord with the Scriptures, which says, 'Ye asked and received not because ye asked amiss.'"
"Well, what would you advise me to do?" queried the youth.
"Next time ask a widow," replied the good man, with a suspicious twinkle in his eye. —Chicago News.

Imitation Laughter.
This is a perfectly splendid liver medicine: Take a deep breath and then expel the air from the lungs in little puffs, like a donkey engine. Push out all the air you possibly can, drawing the abdomen in and up as far as it will go. The doing of this exercise will probably strike you as being so perfectly funny or silly that you will wind up with some of the real thing, which is, of course, better than the imitation. —Maxwell's Talisman.

ANOTHER ONE FOR THE COLLEGE

Musical Conservatory Scores Succes Wednesday Evening.

Chapel is Crowded to Hear the Recital, and Much Praise Bestowed Upon the Participants.

Last Wednesday the annual recital of the conservatory of music was held at the college, and the success and attendance was gratifying to the pupils of the department and the management. The programme was smoothly carried out, not a brake occurred during the evening to mar the success. Prof. Hoover and Miss Polster have proven many times their ability to impart learning and musical expression to their pupils and the people of Denison realize the fact and take advantage of the situation to listen to the fine music presented by the college. The pupils were required to give many encores to the hearty applause of the audience. They were assisted in the recital by the Denison Orchestra.

The following programme being carried out.

Esau and His Copyright.
Once a month it was the custom of a clergyman in a neighboring town to catechise the Sunday school. Among the questions asked was, "Who was Esau?" Several responded, but none of the answers was satisfactory, and as the pastor was about to tell them, one little fellow said, "I think I can tell you what he did."
"Well," said the pastor, "tell me what Esau did."
"Esau was the fellow who sold his copyright for a mess of potash."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Hint For the Future.
"It is a source of great happiness to me, my dear," remarked Mr. Baxter to his life's companion, "that no one can ever with truthfulness point to you as a woman with a past."
"Yes, James," replied Mrs. Baxter, "it should make you happy, and as tomorrow is my birthday it will make me happy to have everybody point to me as a woman with a present."—New York Herald.

Different Investments In Mind.
Julius—Would you like to live your life over again?
Edgar—No, but I'd like to spend over again all the money I've spent.—Stray Stories.

Inhospitable.
"Smithers is positively the most inhospitable man I ever saw."
"Yes; I never knew him even to entertain an idea."—What to Eat.
