An Affront.

Editor Paul S. Junkin, of the Adams County Union-Republican, expresses himself on the Hearst candidacy as follows: "It is an affront to the democratic party, and to the American people as well that such a man as W. R. Hearst should be even mentioned for the nomination for president. It is a disgrace to the democratic party that he represents a New York district in congress. The democracy has been denounced in the bitterest terms possible and its honor and its honesty have been impeached, but the greatest insult it has ever received from its enemies is insignificant in comparison with that involved in the fact that some of its members seriously contemplate the nomination of Hearst. He is as yellow morally as his papers. There is scarcely a man in the democratic party who would not be preferable to him.

The suggestion of the REVIEW that both Mr. B. Y. Nicholson and Mr. J. B. Romans should be re-elected as members of the school board seems to have met with almost universal approval in Denison. The school election is on Monday next and those who approve of the present board should remember to cast their votes. In a standing reproach to Denison that more interest is not taken in our school elections and while no contest is expected in the present election it would be well that every citizen should be present at the polls. Remember the election is on Monday.

Sentenced for Ill-Treating Soldiers.
Berlin, March 6.—Lieutenant Steffens has been sentenced by a court-martial at Koenigsberg to three months' imprisonment in a fortress for ill-treating privates. One hundred and eighteen charges were brought against Steffens, twenty-five of which were of beating soldiers with his sword.

Bank Robbers Identified.
Hartford, Conn., March 6.—A. W. Hoffman, cashier of the Union bank of Union, Mo., reached this city last night with a detective. Mr. Hoffman saw William Rudolph and George Collins when they robbed the bank at Union. He says he can identify the money found in the possession of the prisoners.

Chaplain Gavitt Exonerated.
Denver, March 6.—Chaplain Henry C. Gavitt, United States army, has been exonerated by court-martial from the charge of not paying his debts, which was brought against him by a Chicago firm. General Funston approved the findings. Chaplain Gavitt will return to his post at Fort Grant.

Oats for Starving Finns.
Portland, Me., March 6.—The steamer Montauk, which sailed last night for Hango, Finland, carried the largest cargo of oats ever taken out of this port, about 300,000 bushels. This cargo goes to Hango-Udde for the relief of the starving Finlanders.

Both Victims of Tragedy Dead.
Lincoln, March 6.—Janie Thomas, who shot and killed Fred Broderson a week ago and then shot herself, died last night.

TELEGRAMS TERSELY TOLD.

Bradstreet's reports that bank clearings for February, this year, were the largest on record for that month. They aggregated $8,419,000,000.

J. B. Floy, prominent citizen of Canadian county, was shot and killed by his stepson P. C. Putnam, during a family quarrel at their home near El Reno, Okla.

A large quantity of hay on the docks of the Barry Transportation company at Chicago was destroyed by fire Thursday night and the dock sheds were badly damaged. Loss, $50,000.

Mexican charcoal burners on the Sosa hacienda killed their former overseer, Juan Guillermo, and cremated the body by placing it in a pit and keeping a hot fire over it for ten days. The men escaped.

Ellen Vail, fifty-five years old, and her daughter, Elizabeth Vail, twenty-two years old, met death in a fire in New York Thursday. The older woman was suffocated and the younger jumped from the fourth floor.

Over 2,000 emigrants left Liverpool Thursday for Canada. The emigration season is considered to have opened and this month's bookings by all the Canadian steamship lines are the largest for forty years.

Alan Melton, a well-to-do farmer, living near Henderson, Ky., who fatally wounded his daughter and shot Mrs. Joe Culver, committed suicide Thursday in a barn when he found the building was surrounded by officers.

President Stays by Crum.

Washington, March 6.—The president will send to the senate the nomination of W. D. Crum, colored, to be collector of the port of Charleston, S. C. This will be the second nomination of Crum, the senate at the session just closed having failed to confirm him.

When Ice Covered Europe.

During the long tertiary epoch, when opossums dispersed themselves on the earth in the valley of the Rhine, the earth was in the throes of mountain making. The Alps, the Himalayas, the Andes, the Andes, attest the power of her activity in those days. At their termination our continents stood greatly higher than they do now, and this aided their glaciation, although it does not fully account for it.

But as they became loaded with ice Europe and America gradually, and we may venture to say contemporaneously, sank. This was inevitable. Owing to the extreme heat and pressure prevailing in its interior the earth is an eminently elastic body. Its surface actually bulges in or out with a very slight increase or decrease of the load upon it.—Edinburgh Review.

Not in His Seat.

A certain congressman was very busy at his desk in the house one morning when a page announced, "A gentleman in the lobby to see you, sir." "Tell him I'm not in my seat," said the congressman after looking at the card. The boy, a sturdy looking chap, did not move. "But you are in your seat, sir," he answered in matter of fact tones, "and I can't say you are not." The congressman looked at the lad angrily, but seeing that he was in earnest, moved into the vacant chair of his neighbor. "Now tell him I'm not in my seat." "Yes, sir," said the boy briskly and went to deliver the message.

Effect of Chloroform on Chinamen.

It takes a very large dose of chloroform to anesthetize the Chinaman. He passes under its influence more slowly and rarely shows the excitement often characteristic of the initial stage of anesthesia. Still more rarely does he suffer from sickness on his return to consciousness. This greater aptitude of nature helps to recovery from severe accidents and operations.—London Hospital.

PRES MACLEAN WILL SPEAK

President of State University Accepts Denison Invitation.

Will Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon Before Graduating Class on May Thirty-first.

Prof. H. H. Savage has received from President George E. Mac Lean, his acceptance of Denison's invitation to deliver the High School Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday May 31st. This announcement is most pleasing to the university men living in Denison and our people are to be congratulated upon this opportunity of hearing one of the most finished orators of Iowa. Pres. Mac Lean is a Doctor of Divinity as well as President of Iowa's greatest educational institution, and is a leading spirit in the Presbyterian church of the west. It is to be hoped that the old university students will make Dr. Mac Lean's visit the occasion for a reunion which will serve to strengthen the ties of friendship.

THE TARTAR CUE.

Said to Be Worn Out of Gratitude to the Horse.

Herbert Allen Giles in "China and the Chinese" says that there are strange misconceptions as to the meaning of the Chinese cue, which has really been worn by that nation for only about 250 years.

It was imposed by the Manchoo Tartars, the present rulers of China, as a badge of conquest. Previous to 1044 the Chinese clothed themselves and dressed their hair like the modern Japanese.

They still wear what is incorrectly known as the "beautiful native dress of Japan." As a matter of fact, the Japanese borrowed their dress as well as their literature, philosophy and early art from the Chinese. The Japanese dress is that of the Ming period in China, 1368 to 1644.

But where did the Manchoo Tartars get the cue? They depended as a race almost for their existence upon the horse. The accepted theory is that out of gratitude and respect for his noble ally the Tartar, so far as he could, took on himself the equine form and grew a cue in imitation of a horse's tail. This somewhat grotesque theory might fall to the ground, save that it is supported by striking evidence.

Official coats as seen in China at the present day are made with peculiar sleeves, shaped like a horse's leg and ending in an unmistakable hoof, covering the hand, which are known as "horsehoe sleeves." Incised therein a Chinaman's arms look much like a horse's fore legs. The tail completes the picture.

Simple.

The Doctor—A queer case of insanity came under my notice the other day. The fellow is perfectly sane as long as anybody is looking at him, but raves violently when his friends quit watching him.

The Professor—Humph! Out of sight, out of mind.—Chicago Tribune.

After the Supper.

Eve—Am so sorry!
Adam—Too bad! It was a Yod's gar-dinet—August 30.

It is a great deal easier to teach an old dog new tricks than it is to make him forget his old ones.

THE LADIES FEDERATE

Unite to Furnish Club Room For Public Use.

Three Organizations Interested in Providing a Place For Literary Clubs and Gatherings.

The Ladies of the Friday club, the Denison Womens Club and the P. E. O. held a meeting at the City Hall on yesterday afternoon, and formed a club federate. The main purpose of the federation is for the purpose of united action toward furnishing a club room, which is to occupy the basement floor of the Carnegie Library building. This club room will be for the free use of any literary club and its management will be under the control of the library board. The ladies are to be congratulated upon their public spirit and their able efforts to second the work that has been so generously done toward securing for Denison not only a fine building but a fine library and a suitable meeting place for the encouragement of literature and study.

With the understanding that the club room would not be the private property of the organization above mentioned, but would be free to any and all organizations having kindred aims. We think the effort of the ladies a most commendable one.

The Bulletin is copying the Review's market feature, with the difference of course that that paper does not reach its readers as often as does the Review.

The Review has been badly printed this week. No one of our subscribers has worried more about it than have the publishers. An accident to the distributing rollers on the big press is the cause. New rollers were ordered some time ago and are expected daily. When they come there will be no more need for spectacles or profanity on the part of our readers.

AN ARCTIC MEAL.

Getting Supper For Men and Dogs on the Polar Ice Sheet.

Dogs were unhitched and fastened, as usual, and then each of the Eskimos climbed over the ice foot with his snow knife and disappeared behind the parapet, where the other two were already cutting snow blocks. I fastened my dogs, got out their ration of pemmican, cut it up and fed them, standing by with whip in hand to see that there was no bullying, and that each dog got his share. Then I unpacked the cooker, oil can and kitchen pot, passing them up the ice foot as high as I could reach. I did not wait for the completion of the igloo to commence my preparations for supper, but with a few strokes of the spade excavated a niche in the snow bank, put the cooker in out of the wind, filled the lamp with oil and the boiler with ice, placed a few snow blocks around it for still better shelter and lighted up. By the time the igloo was completed I had enough water melted for our tea, and supper was entirely ready by the time my men had fed the dogs, and they lost no time in freezing their clothing of snow and joining me in the igloo. Still less time was consumed in getting the pemmican, and less again in falling off to dreamless slumber.—Commander Robert E. Peary in Outing.

Too Smart.

"It does not always pay to be too smart," said a lawyer. "At our boarding house a new waitress was employed, and a young chap asked her what he should call her.

"Call me Pearl," she said.

"Are you the pearl of great price?" he asked.

"No," answered the girl. "I guess I am the pearl that was cast before swine."—New York Times.

Wanted to Pay.

Very much indebted customer enters a butcher's shop, remarking, "I'll take a leg of mutton, and I want to pay for it."

"All right," replies the butcher, handing forth the meat, which customer takes and starts to go. "Look here," cries the butcher, "I thought you said you wanted to pay for it?"

"So I do," was the reply, "but I can't."—London Telegraph.

Disinterested Friendship.

The majority of men recognize nothing in human affairs as good unless it yields some return, and they love those friends most—as they do their cattle—from whom they hope to obtain the most profit. Thus they lack that loveliest and most natural form of friendship which is sought for its own sake only, nor do they know from experience how beautiful and how lofty such friendship is.

Happy Day.

"What are you writing?" asked the freshman.

"Just dropping a line to my governor, wishing him many happy returns of the day," replied the sophomore.

"Why, is this his birthday?"

"No; pay day. He sent me a check this morning."—Philadelphia Press.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Shaeffer returned home to-day for a short visit. She hopes to bring a cousin with her when she returns.

Mr. Carl Swenson visited his friends in school on Tuesday and Wednesday. He finished his commercial course last year and has since taken telegraphy. He was on his way to Sioux City to enter the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern.

Mr. W. O. Highstreet called on his college friends during the latter part of last week. He was on his way to Nebraska to look after his farming interest in that state.

Several of the students have been on the sick list with colds and la grippe. Miss Emerson has accepted a position with the "Boys" as clerk.

Miss Blanche Gable returned this week. She is a member of the class in shorthand who are about to take up speed work.

Miss Myrtle Saul and Margaret Owens called at the college Wednesday afternoon. Miss Saul's health is some what better but she is not sufficiently improved in health to return to her work.

Mr. Jas. Hartigan returned to college after absence on a business trip to Chicago.

Rev. Mr. Morphy of the Baptist church gave the address of the week. His subject was "Man". He discussed the subject under four heads: first physically; second, socially; third, intellectually; fourth morally. He gave a number of definitions which have been contrived to tell what man is. One of the peculiar ones that was made in all seriousness by the old philosopher is "Man is a biped without feathers." The speaker showed that "Man" cannot be fully defined because of his complex nature and the fact that he is decidedly

The speaker made a strong plea for care of the health as a necessary preparation for a life of usefulness and happiness. The address was especially helpful to students in preparation for the duties of life.

Plants That Grow.

Plants have developed almost as many dodges for perpetuating their existence as animals, only we don't so easily recognize them. Did it ever strike you that every seed, bulb or tuber is not merely a reservoir of material for the plant that is to grow out of it, but also a mass of fuel for supplying heat necessary to the sprouting seedlet? More than this. If you look at the early spring buds and flowers, you will notice that those which are likely to be exposed to frost, such as catkins or willow and hazel, are well protected by a thick covering of soft material, a regular plant overcoat.

PARMENTIER IS GUILTY

Jury Deliberates But Twenty-five Minutes

A Hard Fought Case Results in Conviction for Serious Offense.

M. L. Parmentier has been found guilty on the charge of keeping a house of ill fame at Arion in the spring of 1902. The verdict was rendered on Friday forenoon after the jury had the case but twenty-five minutes. It is reported that three ballots were taken the first being eleven for conviction and one for acquittal, the second the same and the third unanimously for conviction. The case has been most stubbornly contested, the testimony covered that of nearly forty witnesses and from the nature of the case was of a highly sensational character. The crime of which Parmentier has been found guilty is justly a penitentiary offense, nothing can be more repulsive than the thought of a man seeking to profit by the depravity of lewd women and equally lewd men. The conviction stands as a warning that Crawford county will not tolerate any such plague spot. It was brought out at the trial that Parmentier was running a lunch counter at Arion and that the place bore a good reputation until the spring of 1902, when attracted by the fact that a large number of railroad workmen were located at Arion, four women came and took up their residence at the Parmentier place. The actions of these women were much scandal in the community and the better elements took step to have the nuisance abated. These measures resulted in the indictment of Parmentier and the conviction of yesterday. Parmentier had begun suit for damages against Mr. Staller who filed the information but this suit will probably be dropped if the conviction holds.

While we regret the necessity for such a trial should arise in Crawford county we can but rejoice that the dignity of the law has been maintained and that the guilty party has not been allowed to escape.

Bailey and Bradley of Dunlap were the attorneys for the defense and County Attorney P. J. Klinker and P. E. C. Lally represented the state. The jurors were: Wm. Anderson, Clays Rusch, Jno. Schlies, A. J. Barrow, Jno Kelly, C. H. Galbreath, Nelson Wingrove, J. Paist, Aug. Fikmier, F. S. Wirt, D. P. Robertson and W. E. Butler. The promptness with which the verdict was rendered, emphasizes the victory won by the prosecuting attorneys.

Dep. Sheriff Meehan paid vail a call yesterday.

Mr. Ed Butts of Dow City spent Thursday in Denison.

In the first bums of spring time came in via a stock train yesterday.

Mrs. J. U. Wise of Dow City visited Denison friends on Thursday.

Mr. Pat Hedderman of Arion was in Denison on business yesterday.

N. R. Wilder the deal man of Dow City, was a Denison caller on Friday.

The Sons of Veterans have presented the press of Denison with some very kindly resolutions which we will publish in our next issue.

A. R. Hill expects to go to Grand Rapids Mich. next Sunday evening where he will attend the head camp meeting of the W. O. W. as a representative from the Denison Camp.

DUMAS AND HIS BARBER.

Origin of the Practice of Speculating in Theater Tickets.

The practice of speculating in theater tickets, strange as it may appear, was started by the elder Dumas. He patronized a Paris barber named Porcher, and one day this worthy while shaving the novelist asked him why he did not sell the tickets given him by the managers of the theaters where his plays were produced.

"To whom could I sell them?" asked the author of the "Three Musketeers." "Why, to me, if you like," replied Porcher. "And what would you do with them?" asked Dumas. "That's my business," replied the barber, continuing to lather the browned face of the famous story teller.

"But I give you tickets whenever you ask for them," said Dumas. "Ah! One or two are not sufficient for my purpose," responded Porcher. "I must have all your tickets, and every day too." And you will pay for them?" said the dramatist. "Cash," was the simple yet practical reply.

Dumas at that moment was very badly in need of money, so he at once concluded the bargain. Porcher, who shortly after this gave up shaving and cutting hair, made similar bargains with other authors and quickly became rich.
