A Horned Snake.

A very handsome species of snake is the rhinoceros viper, which bears, as its name suggests, horns on its nose. It is most beautifully colored when freshly emerging from its cast skin, but its form is by no means elegant, being very thick in body, with a bulldoglike head. It may attain a length of more than six feet and is a very deadly animal.—Quarterly Review.

Unsympathetic.

"This is a cold, unfeeling world," he remarked bitterly.
"Ha!" returned his companion. "You, too, have heard the ribald laugh when you slipped on a banana skin, have you?"

Simple.

Ethel—A sixteen page letter from George! Why, what on earth does he say?
Mabel—He says he loves me.—Pittsburg Gazette.
