Uncle Johnny Tell His Son.

"Yes my child the President will be here in less than a month."

What are they going to do with him? Foolish boy, don't you see all the preparations that are being made? Why they have had a meeting and appointed committees.

What are committees for? Why they are to get their names in the papers and have committee meetings for the purpose of appointing sub-committees.

Are they going to have a band? Well I should say. What band? Oh I don't know, the committee hasn't got to that yet.

The parade will be fine. There will be the President in carriages and, well, the committee hasn't decided what else yet. And the President will speak from a grand stand some place about town. The committee hasn't decided on the location yet. Everyone can see the President on the line of march, which has not been fixed yet.

There will be special trains,—but the committee hasn't commenced to look that up yet. Isn't the time short? Oh no, my son the President isn't coming till next month. June will be time enough to commence making arrangements.

JAKE'S INSURANCE POLICY.

On Monday, May 11th, a special excursion bearing the members of the A. O. U. W. and their friends will leave Sioux City, Iowa, for Lead, S. D., where they will arrive on the following day at 2:20 p. m. While this is distinctly an A. O. U. W. train, anyone who wants to do so can go on the same train and avail themselves of the low rates offered. Jake Gable, the most popular traveling passenger agent in the northwest, will personally conduct this excursion, which insures to those who make the journey every courtesy possible and every precaution against accident. Jake's motto is "in case of doubt pursue the safe course" and as while delays have occurred by reason of accidents to engines, no fatalities have occurred to excursion trains conducted by Jake Gable. In fact, it is as good as an insurance policy to have Mr. Gable in charge of an excursion party. A large number of people from this part of the state will take advantage of the low rates to visit the wonderful Black Hills country. —Sioux Valley News.

Will it Be Cleveland?

The Brooklyn Eagle announces its support of Grover Cleveland as the next democratic presidential nominee. Any democrat, whether the patron saint of that party with his horns and hoof or Grover Cleveland, can carry the south, and Cleveland is counted on to carry the east as well. It will be a bitter pill for western democrats, but should Mr. Cleveland be nominated, the majority of them will fall into line with the "Wall Street butcher" they have been reviling since 1896. The REVIEW has never had any affection for Grover Cleveland; he is a gross selfish, tyrannous, bull-headed, unscrupulous man. We did not eulogize him when he lent his tacit support to McKinley, in fact it made us uncomfortable to have him even within smelling distance of republicanism. That was as close as he ever got—but 'twas enough. There can be no denial but that the eyes of many democrats are turning longingly to Cleveland as their candidate, and that Saint Grover has never been known to refuse—anything. What will the Iowa free silver press do should Cleveland be the nominee? What will become of the free silver republicans? It would be a matter for mirth were not the return of Cleveland and Clevelandism entirely too serious a matter. Iowa would give 200,000 majority against Cleveland, but what profit a man if he carries Iowa by a million and loses New York by one. The next campaign will be fought out in the East, the West is absolutely and solidly republican.

AN EDITORIAL LAMENT.

The types are calling for copy. There must be something doing that's plain.

For whoever heard of a print shop Where they churned for copy in vain.

We've talked of reform till we're dizzy With figures and facts we've rammed. But to date the only official reply Is "let people kick and be —"

The weather is most uninspiring. The crops haven't started to grow. Which last thing is really quite lucky. For the weather reports call for snow.

We're tired out of joking and jesting. The world is a confounded bore. For just when we think that the hook's filled. The types are yelling for more.

Some day when the Lord gives us "thirty" And in front of St. Peter we wait. We are going to ask him one question. "E'er we pass through that beautiful gate."

Is there going to be "copy" in Heaven. Or is there release from such pain? If there's not we'll turn back from the story. And go straight—to a print shop again.

July 1st is the date for the biggest harmony-feast the republicans of Iowa have ever held. Let there be no ghosts at the banquet.

If Uncle Tom's Cabin is to be excluded because it deals with an era that is past, every other historical novel should be excluded on the same grounds. Would it not be well for the North to wait until the South shows some inclination to drop sectionalism before it takes steps to drive from the minds of the youth the awful but truthful pictures of the past.

The hideous lessons of slavery cannot be too deeply impressed. There has been a growing tendency to revert to a species of slavery, and Southern writers are already extolling the old days when the poor Africans were tenderly cared for by their masters instead of being left to shift for themselves in a cold, heartless and lynching world. We do not think the time is ripe for the forgetting of our National sins. In life we find that a vivid remembrance of sin, and its consequence is the best possible safe guard against a repetition of the offense. People of this country cannot afford to forget the terrible crime of human slavery, even though the picture be a hideous one, and one not pleasing to our National vanity.

PHILONIAN PROGRAM

By the Philonian Society of the High School.

Hard Work and a Good Attendance Adds $28 to the Society's Excise-checker.

On Friday evening the Philonian society of the High School gave an open program. This was the third entertainment given by the literary societies this year, and the "Dinky D's," well maintained the reputation of the school for praiseworthy entertainments.

The selections on the program were from Longfellow, and were rendered in such a manner as to show careful preparation. Every number was good and received hearty applause, the last Hiawatha dramatized, proving a fitting climax. The play opened with a pantomime, The Peace Pipe, the lads with their many colored blankets, the feathered head dress, and copper colored faces sitting about the camp fire, each puffing in turn a long stemmed pipe were splendid likenesses of the true red-man.

Hiawatha as a child was given by presenting the wigwam in reality, at the door of which sat Nakomis, explaining in an affectionate manner the wonders of the earth and sky to her inquisitive grandchild.

Later the boy now grown to youth, was sent out by Iagoo, who gave him his fine bow and arrow, to kill the roebuck. Then in succession were given the wooing of Minnehaha, the fair and gentle daughter of the arrow maker, the wedding feast and picture writing, the death of Minnehaha, and Hiawatha's departure.

The High School room was filled with attentive listeners, and though the admission fee was small, the society took in over $28, which shows very plainly how much such efforts on the part of the pupils are appreciated by parents and friends.

ROUTE SIX IS APPROVED

Judge Conner Is So Informed by Post Office Department.

Early and Favorable Action Will be Taken. Route of the New Carrier.

Hon. J. P. Conner received a communication from the post office department yesterday stating that early and favorable action would be taken on the report of Special Agent L. A. Thompson, recommending the extension of Rural Free Delivery Service at Denison. The date on which the service will be established will be announced later.

This means that Denison is to have six rural routes, the new route filling in between routes 4 and 5 and giving almost perfect service to those living north west of Denison. It is not known what, if any, action has been taken concerning changes on the other routes.

As far as we are able to learn the routes of carriers 4, 5 and 5 will be about as follows.

Carrier 4—Route as at present, with possible change in south-west portion to avoid interference with Dow City route.

Carrier No 5 will go out over new route to N. W. corner, section 5 Goodrich township thence east one mile, south two miles to south line section 9 then following main road through sections 16-15, 22 and 27 and back over present route.

Carrier No. 6—Out on return line of Rte 5, to S. W. corner, section 35, Goodrich township thence west through section 31, north past Witt school house, striking old route of No. 5, out on No 5's old return route to N. W. corner section 5, Goodrich township thence east two miles, thence south, crossing Rte 4 at Blume school house, and proceeding south in all six miles to S. W. corner of section 36 Hanover township thence east one mile on north line of section one, Paradise township, south one mile to S. W. corner section Denison twp. The new route will accommodate about one hundred families living one or more miles from the present routes.

The patrons on the present return route of Carrier No. 5 will be served on the out trip of Carrier No. 6, thus giving them earlier service. It is not probable that the new service will go into effect before July 1st.

In the meantime we would advise those on the new routes to obtain suitable mail boxes as soon as the new line is officially established. Accord to a recent ruling neither the postmaster nor the rural carriers are allowed to sell or act as agents for any mail box and they can be obtained of the hardware dealers. We congratulate the farmers living north-west of Denison that through the efforts of Judge Conner, they are soon to have this improved service.

County Five at Chicago. Chicago, May 4.—Fire destroyed the inventory building at 151-153 Wabash avenue, causing a loss of $15,000. The building was occupied by several mercantile firms, whose stock was completely destroyed. The principal owners are the Vesterburg Clock company, Spieske Bros, tailors, and A. G. Spaulding & Co. The latter firm used the two upper floors of the building as a store room, and their loss is heavy, as their stores were full of valuable sporting goods.

MASSACRE STORY EXAGGERATED. Indications, However, that Many Have Been Killed at Salonica.

London, May 4.—Gwing to the existing censorship it is still impossible to obtain reliable news from Salonica. The news of a general massacre there probably is exaggerated, but the statements that several hundred were killed, emanate from several points, including Constantinople, where it is alleged that Turkey has decided to send an ultimatum to Bulgaria. Two Italian warships have arrived at Salonica, and the porte, fearing that foreign troops will be landed, has requested Austria to withdraw her squadron.

It is reported from Uskub, European Turkey, that the Turks are holding meetings in the mosques and discussing a general massacre of the Christians in Uskub.

Secretary Easley made the announcement today. It is the intention to have the problems now affecting capital and labor discussed by those most directly concerned in their settlement.

Among the results hoped for is the solution of many vexing problems between employer and employe before disagreement over them leads to labor troubles.

A Good Idea. Cedar Rapids Republican.

Hon. Sidney A. Foster, member of the Des Moines board of Park commissioners, is the father of a new idea. He believes in the establishment of township parks and necessary legislation to permit of the purchase of the necessary land. After the land is purchased, he suggests that a suitable hall or meeting place be erected. Within the building could be held all political meetings, elections, literary and social entertainments. He believes that the idea will find favor among the farmers and will permit of the development of a taste for the beautiful in the farming communities. He also advances the idea that a meeting place, such as he outlines, will do more to advance the interests of the good road movement than anything else. Dr. Foster's suggestion, if carried out, would be of advantage to numerous communities where no towns are located in the townships. In the days of the grange many such halls were built, and some of them are still in use.

Tornado Insurance.

(From The Iowa Homestead March 22, 1903.) The time of year has arrived when we may expect tornadoes or severe windstorms. The Homestead has always taken pleasure in calling the attention of its readers in Iowa to the reliability and cheapness of the Iowa Mutual Tornado Insurance Association of this city. This grand association has been in operation nearly twenty years and has given as near entire satisfaction as any company on earth could.

It has now nearly $100,000,000.00 in risks and 75,000 members. It paid $158,000.00 in losses during 1902 with a promptness and fairness not exceeded by any other company doing business in Iowa.

The membership is increasing faster than ever before. The business for February and first half of March exceeded that of any other year for same period.

There are several other State Associations which write tornado insurance, but none that can compare with the old reliable in size and reliability.

Losses to the amount of $25,000 to $50,000 do not affect the cost of insurance in this Association very materially while the loss of a few thousand in the smaller associations would cause a heavy assessment.

This association paid last year three times as many losses as for any previous ones, yet they only made an assessment of one and a half mill and have over $40,000 cash on hand at the present time.

This is the only association that writes tornado insurance exclusively and co-operates with the County Mutuals.

Be sure you insure in the association in which A. N. Backman is President and J. B. Herriman is Secretary. E. T. COCHRAN, County agent.
