MANY SEE BEN HUR.

A Wonderful Production, Well Staged and Witnessed by Thousands.

During the past week many citizens from Denison have attended the Ben Hur production at Boyd's Theatre in Omaha. All have pronounced the play grand, although those who witnessed the production last season say the character of Ben Hur was not as good this season. To attempt a description of Gen. Lew Wallace's great play almost battles one, it is gorgeous and grand, and one is held almost spell-bound from start to finish. The display of scenery, elegant costumes, and the many devices used to bring out to better advantage the scenes are simply wonderful. There are in the neighborhood of three hundred people used in the production, and while the Boyd theatre is a large one, one wonders how all can be accommodated. Many who witnessed the play say it was the finest ever produced on the American stage. This statement does not seem exaggerated for you are held almost spell bound from the first when the three wise men see the star of Bethlehem in the east to the closing where Judah mother of Ben Hur, his sister and sweetheart Esther, are lovingly brought together after the lowly Nazarene has cleansed the mother and sister from the dread disease leprosy.

Manager Burgess of the Boyd is to be congratulated upon having booked the attraction, and he informs us that Denison furnished the best crowd of any town within a radius of one hundred miles. He has a number of other first class attractions booked for the coming season, and will take particular pains to advertise the fact in Denison.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. T. J. Garrison was at home to her many lady friends, in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Garrison. One hundred and fifty invitation had been issued and the palatial home was filled with guests. Upon entering the guests were ushered upstairs by Master Earling Garrison, Miss Blanche Stephens waiting in the hall with frappe, and each guest was served with delicious beverage. The house decorations were autumn leaves and berries and flowers and the color effect was very beautiful. During the afternoon all were favored with delightful instrumental music by a number of prominent musicians present and Miss Polster rendered a vocal selection in a very charming manner. Later refreshments were served in the dining room and consisted of two course service and was much enjoyed. All were glad of an opportunity to again meet Mrs. Ray Garrison, this is her first visit to her home since removing to Grand Junction. The only out of town guest was Mrs. Ben Heath of Dow City.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. P. Conner and her sister, Mrs. F. H. Morgan were at home to about one hundred and fifty guests, the hours being from two to four and from four to six. As is customary with Mrs. Conner every detail for the carrying out of a successful affair had been arranged and the guests were royally entertained. The decorations for the occasion were green and white in the dining room and red in the parlors. The refreshments were pronounced delicious and unexcelled and the service of the very best. Both Mrs. Conner and Mrs. Morgan are popular ladies and an invitation to accept of their hospitality was gladly received.

Mr. Ward Cramer, who has been out in Nebraska, the past few weeks, where he took up a homestead, was in town on Wednesday last. He was on his way to Algona, where he will make his temporary residence.

More Honors For Crawford County.

It is no little thing to start out to the State Fairs with a herd of young cattle of your own breeding and take first honors in every contest of the Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois State Fairs but that is what W. A. McHenry has done this year with his Aberdeen-Angus cattle and he has only been second in his aged herd, his yearling bull Censor is the Junior Champion bull of the year and his fine bull, Western Star and Bobbie Dobbs have been first and second prize bulls in the two year old class. The cattle will be returned home this week to rest and get ready for the Royal Show at Kansas City and later they will go to the Chicago International. Mr. McHenry has become a recognized breeder of National fame. He has repeatedly purchased imported cattle of the best strains for his herd until it has become nigh on invincible. No small part of this honor belongs to the fitters W. E. Cole and his able assistant John B. Brown who have become famous in the art of feeding and fitting.

GETS THIRTY DAYS.

Steals Minister's Grip, and Gets Clutches of the Law.

On Wednesday afternoon Rev. Carlson came down from Kiron over the Boyer Valley Line and while waiting for a train to go east left his grip on the depot steps. A bum who had been hanging around the depot promptly appropriated the same and went down the track to the bridge, and not stopping to open the grip, took his knife and slashed the side out of it. Among other things he found a new suit of cloths, some linen and underwear. He then proceeded to "dress up." The minister in the mean time had missed the grip, and together with Agent Mahoney instituted a still hunt. Mr. Mahoney saw the thief walking away from the bridge, and after a short time succeeded in capturing him. When taken the fellow appeared intoxicated and would not walk. He was loaded into a wagon and given a ride up town, and when asked if he would immediately get out of town jumped up and said he would willingly do so. This move knocked the drunk question in the head and the fellow was taken before Justice McLennan and given thirty days. He was then so obstinate that he had to be carried back to jail.

Col. C. Green has been at Okoboji the past week putting some necessary repairs on his cottage at that place. He also spent sometime fishing.
