DEATH OF MRS. D. W. FLACK.

Funeral Held at Catholic Church in Denison Last Thursday
Mary A. Flack, was born September 8, 1858, at Davenport, Iowa. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarthy and with her parents came to Crawford County in 1875. On July 30, 1883 she was united in marriage to Mr. D. W. Flack, at Odebolt Iowa. In November 1885 she and her husband removed to Springfield, S. D. at which place she had lived until her death, on April 19, 1904 except an interval of four years which was spent in Denison. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and one daughter Mrs. Doty Flack-Hill, of Moore, Nebraska, besides her mother and sisters Misses Ellen and Anna McCarthy of Denison, and three brothers, T. C. McCarthy of Denison, P. H. McCarthy, of Springfield, and John McCarthy of Yankton.

MRS. D. W. FLACK,
Who died April 19, at Springfield, S. D.

The direct cause of Mrs. Flack's death was due to a complication of diseases. She had not enjoyed good health for some time and death came to relieve her on April 19. The remains were brought to Denison for burial and the funeral was held at St. Rose of Lima church Rev. Father Farrelly officiating. There were a large number of friends of the deceased present to pay their last respects to the dead. In life Mrs. Flack was kind and considerate, her home and loved ones were her all, and her pleasant smile and cheering words will be greatly missed, not only by loved ones, but by a host of friends.

H. S. GREEN A BANKRUPT.

Adjudged by the Federal Court Here Yesterday—Cattle Company is Found to be Solvent
(Council Bluffs Nonpartel)
At the special session of the federal court convened by Judge Smith McPherson yesterday afternoon, H. S. Green, president of the defunct banks at Dow City and Buck Grove, was adjudged a bankrupt and the case was referred to W. S. Mayne, referee. The creditors will now elect a trustee, the date of the meeting to be announced later.

The Green Cattle company, in which H. S. Green is a partner, was placed in the hands of Morris K. Parsons of Salt Lake City, as receiver. His bond was fixed at $100,000 and his appointment was the result of agreement. The company is conceded to be solvent, its assets being found to aggregate about $260,000, with admitted liabilities of about $175,000. The principal holdings of the company are in Routt county, Colo., and include some 7,500 head of cattle.

Thomas P. Black of Dow City, who charges his failure to that of the Green banks, was adjudged a bankrupt, as was also Mr. Guthrie of Carroll.

Thos. Rao of Arion was in Denison last Friday.

CRAWFORD COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY HELD INTERESTING MEETING.

The Crawford County Medical Society held its regular monthly meeting at the city hall last Wednesday, at which time an election of officers was held. The day was an unpleasant one and consequently only two doctors from out of town attended. They were Drs. Evans and Co. n of Arion. The meeting was well attended by the Denison physicians, however and an interesting meeting was had. The officers elected are as follows: president, L. L. Bond; vice pres., W. B. Evans; secretary and treasurer, A. R. Randall. Dr. Waterhouse of Charter Oak was elected a delegate to attend the state convention at Des Moines the 19th of next month. Preparations are under way for the next meeting which will be held in this city next month. Interesting papers will be read and a report on the clinical cases will be made. This is only about the third meeting of this society since its organization last fall. It is supposed to meet regularly the third Wednesday of each month but it has so happened that those particular days have been inclement and consequently some of the meetings had to be abandoned, as the out of town doctors were not able to attend. It is to be hoped that hereafter the weather will be favorable and that all the doctors of the county will take advantage of the meetings as they will no doubt receive much benefit from them in a professional way.

the ordinary party bias of that body. The present session is no exception in this respect. The most notable speech of the session perhaps was that of Senator Dooliver on Wednesday. He spoke about two hours and held the closest attention of the senators and the people in the galleries. A notice of his speech was published in the Post, and consequently a large crowd was present, as Senator Dooliver enjoys the reputation of being an eloquent and entertaining speaker. He dealt principally with the trust question, and discussed that problem with masterly skill and ability. No other senator can draw an audience of intelligent listeners more surely than Dooliver. The lurid efforts of Tillman or Carmack tend to draw large numbers to the galleries, but the motive is one of curiosity and amusement rather than a desire to hear great orations and high class argument. When the Iowa senator attempts a speech of some length it abounds in epigrams, eloquence and political wisdom. He declared that he did not address himself particularly to the Senate, but hoped rather to reach the ears of the young men of the country, and is possible to controvert the growing sentiment that trusts and combinations are shutting the door of hope in the faces of the young men of this country by deminishing their opportunities. The senator very brilliantly argued that the contrary was true. He said that at no time in the history of the world had a man stood for more and a collar for less than they do at the present time. He denied the magnitude usually attributed to the trust evil, and maintained that natural laws operate more strongly in the market places of the world than all men made policies and legislative enactments. He cited instances where trusts had failed to monopolize the output of the products they sought to control.
