FRENCH STATUES DESTROYED

Irreparable Loss Occasioned by Work of Vandals at St. Louis Exposition.

St. Louis, April 26.—It was discovered that vandals had entered the French pavilion at the World's fair and destroyed two of the most beautiful of the Parisian marble statues in the sculpture exhibit. The statues were "L'Etiole du Berger" (The Shepherd's Star), by Rousel, and "St. Jean," by Dubois, and had been thrown to the floor and broken into bits. Six rose trees from the French garden were stolen. The French commissioners say their loss in the destruction of the statues is irreparable.

The Kiron Chronicle

Rev. C. G. Sahlstrom the noted Evangelist held a series of meetings at the Mission church here, leaving on Monday last week. His home is at Minneapolis Minn.

Lillie Larson is home from Minneapolis where she spent several months studying music. Lillie is a good musician and now more so after the course taken.

Since our last writing several important occurrences have taken place in our locality which should have been chronicled but we scribe not having the spare time, accounts for the absence of the Kiron letters. To report them now would be rather late besides it would be at this time rather stale reading.

Rev. N. Wickless and wife visited a couple of days at Denison last week returning home on Wednesday.

Kiron is soon to lose one of its fair flowers which a certain individual in Illinois has been watching bloom, and the day is very nigh when she will grace the society in the town where he resides. Of course we'll tell it soon.

Mrs. Herman Erickson and granddaughter Margreta Larson visited with relatives in Odebolt the latter part of the week.

The family of Aug Linman east of Kiron has been quarantined as one of the children has the scarlet fever.

Thilder Anderson a former Kiron boy but who has spent late years in Colorado is again in this locality visiting among his friends and acquaintances.

G. A. Norelius had a store warehouse erected last week on the east side of his store building a forced necessity to handle and store the large orders of goods he is weekly receiving.

Kiron has now nearly all kinds of business lines that conducted by men full of business and push who ever have the determination to draw trade. Goods are purchased at the lowest possible figure notwithstanding if there is not as large a line to select from as in the larger towns.

Mr. Walter Hanson who has spent the past two months in Kiron left on Saturday or his home at Batavia Ill. He had many friends here who would have liked to have him remain.

The Hellness association commenced their convention at the Kiron hall on Friday evening which will continue on Sunday. Quite a number from Denison and other points in the county are present.

Will Huckstep and James Newcom both from Milford township visited our town last week and each one took home a few corn planters with them.

Frank C. Grobman from Milwaukee representing the Metzton Piano Co. located in that town, has spent the past week in Kiron assisting the Co-agent here.

P. W. Weberg and Aug Lundell were among those who went into Chicago on Saturday night with stock for the market for their own feeding.

The parties who amused themselves throwing bricks and other objects against the barber shop at midnight Saturday night a week ago may have a man to meet as the result of their work. We are informed that a warrant is sworn out for their arrest and prosecution will follow.

Miss Grace Seelander made her usual trip to Kiron on Saturday and remained until Monday giving instructions in music. She will soon stay permanently and devote her entire time in instructing music in Kiron. She is a first class musician and most painstaking in her teaching and her pupils are progressing fast under her training.

The Hanson and Sands room store building presents a different appearance after being repainted both inside and outside. Mr. Maurits is doing the work. The building will soon be occupied by the 5 rain Bros. who will put in a complete line of hardware. The boys no doubt with their grit and determination will have a good portion of the trade. Success is the new venture.

Claudson Bros. have been appointed agents at this place for the H. H. Ford Produce Co. at Sioux City of the cream station established here and are now ready to purchase all cream for sale in this locality. The weighing and testing will be done in Kiron by them.

A large amount of freight is unloaded at Kiron each week, which indicates that the town is doing a large business and really it is so. Good goods and at the lowest possible price that the same can be sold for, has drawn trade from far and near.

The homes of J. G. Larson and Francis Norelius were adorned last week each with a new piano sold them by Claudson Bros. They also sold an organ to John Headstrom and one to Alfred Brown.

Since our last letter J. O. Nelson and wife have left for Wisconsin where they will cast their lot in the future. S. Molina and family have purchased their house and are now cosily settled in the same.

Chas. Carlson a former Kironite and who moved to Big Spring S. D. two years ago died at that place last month.

The illustrated lecture held by A. Bloom at the Kiron hall Monday and Tuesday evenings was attended and enjoyed by a large number. He has traveled greatly in the foreign countries and has gathered the views himself, which he shows from the magic lantern.

Death has again come and gone and this community's number is one less. The summons was for Helen Johnston the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnston who bade adieu to near and dear and this world on Wednesday evening April 13 at the home of her brother-in-law, I. A. Nordell southwest of Kiron. She had been bedfast but the short period of two weeks when death released her from all suffering and trials that this life is so full of. Of suffering she has had her portion, and a great deal more than the majority, and it was her desire to depart for the land where sufferings are banished. She was ready to go when the final moment came, being a true believer in Christ her Savior. She leaves parents, two sisters and one brother-in-law, other relatives and a circle of friends to miss and mourn her. She was 31 years, 3 months 28 days old at the time of her death. She was taken to her home where the funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, attended by a number of neighbors and friends. Rev. J. Niquist of the Baptist church conducted the services. Her remains were laid to rest in the Kiron Cemetery. Peace over her remains.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willoughby, of Bonesteel, S. D., came in last Thursday. They are the parents of Mrs. A. J. Mason, and old friends of the writer and family. They will remain here for some time to visit with us and make new acquaintances. They will go from here to Tennessee, their old home, also a daughter, making some stops on the way. They expect to visit in California and a daughter in Idaho, before their return home and may be absent from their home a year. Mr. Willoughby is an old soldier and they have been hard working old people, raised a large family and well deserve a recreation in their old age. He informs us that a dispatch had been received at Bonesteel
