Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bonesteel, of Grand Junction, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Haines. George delighted his many friends and others by setting up a temporary barber shop in Robert Beutal's hardware store during Friday and Saturday, and our citizens of the male persuasion enjoyed a luxury of a shave once more. As our town is still without a tonsorial artist the favor was greatly appreciated.

The death angel has been in our midst and borne away on his pinions the beautiful soul of Mrs. Kate O'Meara. She came here from her home in Rodney something over two weeks ago to visit her parents and other relatives, but was taken almost immediately by an attack of inflammatory rheumatism which developed into rheumatic fever which finally terminated in paralysis of the brain. All that medical skill, loving and willing hands could do was done to relieve the sufferer, but to no avail, and the dread summons reached her Sunday evening, May 15, at about six o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. White, whom she was visiting. Her maiden name was Catherine Elizabeth White. She was born in Herkimer Co., New York, September 17th, 1872, and when only a small girl, came with her parents to Crawford Co., which continued to be her home until 1896, when she was happily married to Mr. Peter O'Meara, who, with their two little boys, still survive her. Her parents, one sister and two brothers, besides a host of friends are left to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held at the Catholic church at this place Tuesday forenoon and were conducted by Rev. Father Tierney, of Manilla, after which the remains were taken to Denison where all that was mortal was laid to rest in the cemetery at that place. Rev. Father Farrelly performed the last sad rites at the grave. The sadly bereaved family have the deep and heartfelt sympathy of all. Mrs. O'Meara was an exceptionally lovable woman, consistent, honest and true, and a member of the Catholic church, and we know that in the realms of bliss, "He giveth His beloved rest."
