PROF. MARTIN QUILTS DENISON

For Three Years Instructor in Elocution At The Denison Normal. He Enters Simpson as Assistant.

Prof. John Dunn Martin, for three years at the head of the department of oratory of the Denison Normal College has accepted a position as assistant instructor in elocution at Simpson college at Indianapolis and consequently will not return to his old field of labor in the Fall.

As an instructor Prof. Martin has achieved wonderful success and as a reader he has been the most popular and the most entertaining of any that have ever been in charge of the work at the college. He leaves behind him a host of friends who regret very much to see him go but who are glad that he has entered a larger field of labor, and wish him all success in his new location.

CORNER STONE IS LAID.

Scientists Lay Corner Stone For New Church on Wednesday Last. Ceremonies Simple but Impressive.

The corner stone of the new church to be erected by the Scientist Association of Denison was laid last Wednesday, Mr. Chas. C. Kemming, first reader, having charge of the ceremonies. The ceremonies were of a private nature, in keeping with the rules of the organization. The foundation for the new edifice is now completed, and the carpenters are expected to commence work on the building at once.

ACCUSED OF BEATING CHILD

Spray Malone Given Seven Days and a Half For Inhuman Treatment to His Own Child.

Spray Malone, living in Kenwood, was brought to Denison on Friday afternoon by Constable Clark Sierritt and placed in jail. On Thursday evening, it is said, he beat his little three-year-old child to almost insensibility and his seemingly insane act greatly aroused the community. He was taken before Justice Huntington in Dow City and was sentenced to seven days and a half in the county jail.

Mearl Gable came home Thursday night from Indianapolis, where he has attended Simpson college for the past year.

We would like to have you to us. That is why we advertise claims for your trade are based upon what we can do.

LOWER COURT FAVORS LAUB;
Judge Church Makes Denison in Laub Romans Case. Will Be Carried to Supreme Court We Understand.

Judge Z. A. Church last week handed down his decision in the Laub-Romans case, and the plaintiff H. C. Laub has scored first blood in the legal contest over the valuable Denison block. We are informed that the case will at once be appealed to the Supreme Court, the attorneys on both sides feeling confident of the ultimate success of their client. For our part we greatly regret that this litigation has taken place but now that it is before the courts we do not consider it a legitimate

SUPPLEMENT.

Arion News Letter

Dr. W. E. Clay, of Pearl City, Illinois visited over Sunday with his old friend and classmate, Dr. Coon

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Reece are entertaining a little miss who arrived on Sunday to gladden their home.

Our business men have petitioned the Milwaukee Co. to allow their present agent, Mr. Umphrey, to remain permanently with us. Mr. and Mrs. Umphrey are cultivated and refined people and have a nice family of bright children. They are both good musicians, and, altogether, they are too desirable a family to be allowed to leave town.

Our teachers, Duell and Howorth spent Sunday at their homes in Woodbine

On Tuesday the carpenters will begin the work of remodeling the building recently occupied by the Anchor, into an office for Dr. Coon, who recently purchased the building.

News About Deloit.

We are very sorry a ball game is being indulged in within our city limits Sunday afternoons and hope the practice will soon be discontinued. The citizens should not encourage this in any shape or form. It looks bad and is bad, first to those who profess christianity and to strangers who pass through our town, second the noise and confusion which disturbs the peace of those who desire to rest. All ought to have more respect for the Sabbath. Some provision can be made through the week for the play. The excuse "too busy" is a poor one. 'Tis the Lord who prospers the work of our hands, and we have no promise that He will honor those who dishonor Him. We know not how soon we shall be called to account for our stewardship here, and our record should not be of that character that we shall be ashamed of in the day of judgment.

Mr. N. H. Brogden, Mrs. C. J. Cose and Mrs. Geo. Wianus were at Omaha trading last week.

Mrs. Eugene Brogden was on the sick list last week.

We learn Mrs. Grant Browne underwent a surgical operation at the hospital in Fort Dodge recently and is doing nicely.

The citizens were quite alarmed last Thursday afternoon to learn of the sudden death of James Newton. Mr. Swanson's boy was coming to town and found him lying across the road dead with his hoe in his hand, and gave the alarm. His funeral was held at the M. E. Church Friday afternoon by the Wall Lake minister and considering the short notice, a great many gathered to pay their last sad rites to the deceased. We credit the town as being one of the best places in existence to drop their work and attend all funerals.

S. Horr will sell ice cream next Saturday afternoon at his store.
