MANY HEAR FAIRBANKS

Big Crowd in Town Yesterday to Hear the Candidate.

GOV. CUMMINS ALSO SPEAKS

Speeches Made From a Platform Erected South of Central Depot Fully 2000 People Present.

Fairbanks day was a big day in the quiet campaign that is being waged by the two parties for the control of the National government. The Carroll band was on the streets early and furnished fine music all day long. Good crowds came into town over both railroads, which had made excursion rates for the occasion, and large numbers of farmers and their families drove in from the country to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing the vice-presidential candidate.

A platform was erected just south of the Central depot from which the address was made. The special train arrived on time and the candidate was greeted with cheers as the rear end of the train came up even with the platform. The way from the car to the platform was kept open by the Roosevelt First Voters' Club who were gaily decked in the national colors. Senator Fairbanks was introduced by Congressman Conner and spoke in part as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—I appreciate the generous welcome which you have accorded me as an evidence of the fact that each and all of you are interested in the questions of the day. I am gratified to meet the friends and neighbors of the present Secretary of the Treasury, Leslie M. Shaw. (Applause) who is administering with conspicuous ability the duties of the great office founded by Alexander Hamilton, one of the greatest statesmen in the history of our country. It affords me great pleasure to meet on this platform your present representative in the halls of Congress, J. P. Conner. I have witnessed his work in your behalf and can say that he is loyal to republican interests and consecrated body and soul to the welfare of the great Tenth district of Iowa.

We have much to be grateful for as citizens of this country, but we have more to be grateful for under a republican administration than we have under a democratic administration. Under a continuation of republican administration, agriculture must flourish. There seems to be a kind of inseparable connection between republican success and agricultural prosperity. Democratic administrations are marked by the want of prosperity among the farmers. During those periods the products of the farm brought inadequate prices. There is no genius with ability subtle enough nor mathematician with knowledge sufficient to estimate all the loss which fell upon the farmers during the last democratic administration. When I say the last democratic administration I mean the last, for until the American people forget the recent administration of the democratic party, I predict there will not be another one for many, many years to come. (Applause) We wish to continue our present prosperity because it makes our country great and strong. I have read much and have studied the sentiment of the American people on the questions of today and it is my opinion that on the 8th day of next November, from all over this great country of ours, there will come up an overwhelming endorsement of the present administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

Senator Fairbanks then thanked the audience for their more than cordial greeting and yielded the platform to a number of distinguished statesmen whom he said was with him.

Gov. A. B. Cummins was then introduced, who was greeted with cheers. He did not pretend to be one of the distinguished statesmen to whom the Senator referred. He yielded to no man in his affection for the principles of the republican party nor in his admiration for the vice-presidential candidate, Charles Warren Fairbanks. He expressed a dominant feeling of pride in Iowa, pride in her fertile fields, her great men and women, pride in the republican party of Iowa and also in the democratic party. He said he believed the republicans of Iowa were the best people on earth and that the democrats of Iowa were the next best. The Governor spoke only a few minutes and was followed by Congressman Walter I. Smith, of the Ninth district. Smith only had time to tell one or two good stories when the time for departure arrived and the party had to go to their car. As the train was getting ready to pull out large numbers crowded around the rear platform to shake hands with the candidate, who accommodated as many as he could and then waved to the cheering crowd as the train pulled out.

Among the party of persons were: Governor A. B. Cummins, Senator Dolliver, who remained inside, Congressman Smith, Lyle Young, editor of the Des Moines Capital, Fred Fairbanks, son of the candidate, Rosco King, Senator Fairbanks private secretary, John Birar, private secretary to the governor, National Committeeman Ernest E. Hart, Stutz Way, chairman of the republican Tenth district committee, D. M. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the national executive committee, Webb Byers of Harlan, Julian Richards and Tom Dawson of the associated press, and Leon Brown, special correspondent of the Register and Leader. J. P. Conner joined the party here and accompanied them as far as Fort Dodge.

After the departure of the vice-presidential train the band entertained the people up town before and after dinner until the speaking commenced at the hall at 1:30. For this afternoon meeting two speakers of national importance had been secured, Hon. J. W. Owenby, of Texas, and J. H. Schively, of Washington. Both made fine addresses and were listened to by a large audience which filled the hall. However, we go to press too early to give a synopsis of what they said.

WHEELER JUNIOR SAGAMORE.

Is Elected to High Office In Redmen Circles. Receives 76 Votes on First Ballot.

Just as we go to press we learn by telephone that O. W. Wheeler has just been elected Junior Sagamore of the Red Men at their convention held in Des Moines. Mr. Wheeler received 76 votes out of a total of a little more than 100, notwithstanding the fact that his opponent made a strong fight in the campaign.

This victory assures the election of Mr. Wheeler next year as Senior Sagamore.

The Coffee club will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. K. Burch.

DOW CITY WINS 5 TO 6

Denison Lost to the Visiting Team Last Saturday.

THE GAME WAS A CLOSE ONE

Overconfidence on the Part of the Home Team and Time Being Called Lost Them the Game.

It wasn't overtraining that lost the football game last Saturday to the visiting team. It was overconfidence. The word commences with the letter "c." Our boys were too sure. They went into the game with the idea that they were going to have a walk-away, but before the game was finished they had to put in some hard playing to prevent a shutout.

The game was played on the college grounds and was witnessed by two hundred people or more, although the receipts easily show that all did not pay. Denison won the toss and kicked to Dow City on the 25yd line, who returned it 15 yds. Denison then secured the ball on a fumble and made a spectacular gain of 10 yards on the first down. The ball then passed from one side to the other on fumbles and was finally planted behind the goal posts by Dow City after two end runs of 20 and 35 yards. Dow City kicked a goal, scoring them 6.

The second kick-off went to Denison, who landed the ball on Dow City's 15 yard line. The pig skin was then chased back and forth across the field and at the end of the first half it was in Denison's possession within one or two yards of the enemy's goal line. Ten touchdowns and added five to their score.

Denison scored her touchdown in the second half. Weeks started from the middle of the field on an end run and when well down the line passed it to Maloney, who placed it behind the goal posts. The kick for goal was a failure. At the end of the second half the ball was again in the enemy's field and threatening their goal line.

Denison's line was impregnable, or nearly so, and nearly all of Dow City's gains were made on end runs. It took our boys a good while to figure out the combination to their interference. On the other hand our boys were able to make comparatively good gains by bucking the line and on end runs. Denison carried the ball much farther than did the visiting team. Not once was Denison forced to relinquish the ball on account of not having made the requisite five yards in three downs, while Dow City was forced to punt a number of times.

The umpire and referee, Humphreys and Keyes alternately; time of halves, 20 minutes; score 5 to 6 in favor of Dow City.

THE NEW CLUB ROOMS

Are now Completed and Ready For Occupation.

ARE NICELY FURNISHED.

An Entire Suite of Rooms Including Bath and Toilet For Convenience and Comfort of the Members.

The rooms for the Commercial club in the Saggau building are now completed and ready for occupancy and are models of convenience and comfort. They occupy the entire upper story of the new store building on Broadway and will make a splendid home for the commercial club.

The rooms are reached by an exclusive stairway leading onto Broadway which is kept locked. But each member is provided with a key so that he may have access to the rooms at any hour of the day.

The upper hallway extends the entire length of the building so that any of the rooms may be entered from the hallway without passing through the others. The reading room and secretary's room are at the north and facing Broadway. The secretary's room has a fine desk, the reading room contains a large reading table covered with the best current magazines while both rooms are furnished with the fine Mission chairs made by Mr. John Fastje. Back of the reading room is the card room, furnished with three dealing tables and comfortable chairs while in the rear is the billiard room. This is furnished with a fine $200 billiard table of the best make and also contains high chairs for the spectators. The bath and toilet room is entered from the extreme end of the hallway and completes the convenience and comfort of the club rooms.

The rooms are all handsomely painted and frescoed, the reading room and secretary's room in red, the card room in blue, and the billiard room in terra cotta, while all of them are carpeted with fine rugs. They are furnished with a hot water heating plant, and some fine electric light chandeliers will be installed as soon as they arrive. W. D. Luney has charge of the rooms and will keep them clean and in order for the club.

The membership of the club now numbers over sixty and it is expected that a large number of new names will be added to the list. If the present interest in the club is maintained it will be extremely beneficial, not only to the members as individuals, but to the city of Denison as a whole in the building up of industries and in the furthering of enterprises which will be helpful to the city.

RUMMAGE SALE A SUCCESS.

A Run of Three Days Last Week Nets Them Nearly Three Hundred Dollars.

The rummage sale held last week by the City Federation of Women's clubs was a success in every particular. Being the third rummage sale held within a period of ten months the ladies were more than well pleased with the results. They were not out much for expenses as the rent of the building in which the sale was held was donated to them. It was held in the Otto building on Broadway and lasted three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The articles for sale were not as easily obtained as heretofore as the town was pretty well rummaged for articles of this character for previous sales. The goods were all very cheap, the highest priced article selling for $3.50 and the net proceeds of $2.86 is a surprisingly large amount, being about $100 less than the amount made at the first sale.

Every afternoon the store was crowded with purchasers, and the lunch department and market day were also well patronized. The money made by the ladies is for the purchase of a piano for the club room at the library building and with the amount they ought to be able to place a good instrument.

MEETING OF FIRST VOTER.

Next Thursday Evening at City Hall. Will be Addressed by Hon. George W. Egan.

There will be a meeting of the Republican First Voter's Club next Thursday evening at the City Hall. Hon. Geo. W. Egan of Logan will address the meeting and all are invited to attend. The meetings of the club held heretofore have been well attended and the one of Thursday night should draw a good crowd.
