A very pleasant affair occurred at the home of Mrs. J. P. Riddle on Friday, Oct. 28, 1904, the occasion being the eightieth birthday of Aunt Nellie Graves. Entirely without her knowledge, some twenty five or thirty old folks assembled to surprise the old lady. Among the old couples were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Dow, aged 85 and 80 years; Mr. and Mrs. John Kudd, aged 75 and 70 years; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Langley, aged 60 and 64; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wiggins, about 60 and 55; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Howarth, aged 79 and 60, and others were there not having a partner with them. A social time was enjoyed, jokes and reminiscences indulged in. A fine lap supper was served, an address was delivered by Mr. Wiggins, a census of the nativity of the guests were taken and resulted as follows: 5 or 6 from Pennsylvania; 3 from Ohio; 2 from Massachusetts; 2 from New York; 1 from Virginia; 2 from Michigan; 1 from Illinois; 1 from Nebraska; 1 from England; 2 from Scotland, and further than this dependent sayeth not. However, a nice little purse was presented, and as Aunt Nellie expects to live to be one hundred years it was decided to meet and celebrate her one hundredth birthday.
