THE RATE BILL.

By an almost unanimous vote the House has passed the Esch-Townsend bill regulating freight rates. This brings several matters to mind for consideration.

In view of the fact that every member of the Iowa delegation voted for the bill and that no Iowa voice was raised against it either at the time of its passage or at any other time, we can but feel that grave injustice has been done the delegation by many Iowa people who raged in a frenzy of protest against the bill.

It is a pity that the Iowa delegation voted for the bill and that no Iowa voice was raised against it either at the time of its passage or at any other time, we can but feel that grave injustice has been done the delegation by many Iowa people who raged in a frenzy of protest against the bill.

FEDERATION NEEDS.

At the called meeting of the city Federation of clubs on Saturday afternoon a number of important matters were brought before the members. The S. S. C. was made a part of the Federation the older clubs extending a most gracious welcome to the new comer.

Mesdames Boynton and Caswell advocated a revision of the Federation constitution and a committee was appointed to advise changes. It was decided soon after the first of March to give a concert. The concert is to be given by a celebrated singer and promises to be the musical event of the season.

The club voted to expend seventy-five dollars for pictures for the club room, and they hope to give an art exhibit in the near future. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Shaw for the handsome and useful gift of a clock recently presented to the club by her.

At the regular meeting of the federation in March the annual election of officers will be held. Mrs. Morgan will entertain the ladies with an account of her Washington visit and light refreshments will be served. A number of other plans are projected by the Federation, among them a talk on library work by Miss Alice Tyler of Des Moines of the Iowa library commission.

Mrs. Laub suggested that Miss Tyler be invited to give a lecture and we trust that Miss Tyler who is a fine speaker will be able to come.

ALOST AND FOUND VALENTINE.
Usually we do not feel like giving away state secrets' but the editor was fortunate enough to find a valentine, which the recipient evidently lost, and he will be much surprised, as will all the senders, in knowing that the elegant epistle has been given to the public.

In the first place, we want to congratulate the writers, and feel sure that if they would turn their attention to poetry, they would succeed without question. Hereafter, however, we would advise the gentlemen when they receive valentines to be a little more careful and not lose them. The names appear in full in the valentine, which we have suppressed, and only use the initials.

We all like Mr. G. we think he's mighty fine.
For out in Colorado, he's got a booming mine,
And once he got a dividend (though it came pretty slow).
But when it did, you ought to have seen that hard earned money go.

Misses S. and M. got chocolate creams, Mrs. W. butter-scotch.
Miss A. stick candy right up to the notch.
Miss L. got chocolates brittle, Oh! but they were fine.
O come thou second dividend, and be our Valentine.

Colonist Low One-way Second Class Rates.

Male and Female Burers.
Whereas some women will go into a vast establishment intent on spending a certain sum—say, on an article of dress—and will successively scrutinize half a dozen things besides what she originally wanted and retire without buying any, a man will stray in without any fixed plan of purchase and will sometimes purchase large quantities of goods that he never dreamed of wanting when he entered the shop.—London Truth.

Cookery and Government.
Rossini, the Italian composer, is reported to have said a droll thing on the unification of Italy when some one asked his opinion on this matter. He replied that he thought it very difficult if not impossible to effect it for the simple reason that the Neapolitans eat nothing but macaroni, the Florentines nothing but fagiuoli and the Lombards only polenta, while the Piedmontese swallow all they can get. "It is clear," he said, "that uniformity of cookery must precede unity of government."

Marriage.
Marriage is not the church, the ritual, the blessing of clergymen and the ratifying and approving presence of one's friends and relations at the ceremony. Still less is it a matter of settlements and expensive millinery. It is the taking of a solemn vow before the throne of the eternal. Nothing can make marriage an absolutely sacred thing except the great love, combined with the pure and faithful intention of fulfilling the vow involved.—Marie Corelli.

SONS OF VETERANS INSTALL.

Last Saturday night at McHenry hall occurred the regular installation of officers of the W. A. McHenry Camp Sons of Veterans. A large number of friends had been invited to witness the beautiful ceremony, and at eight o'clock installing officer Sear McHenry took charge and the following were installed as officers for the ensuing year:

Captain, N. L. Hunt; First Lieutenant, N. P. Cavett; Second Lieut., Fred C. Marshall; Members of Camp Council, A. C. Weeks, N. P. Cavett and L. D. Vasser.

After the installation exercises were completed Captain Hunt called on R. Shaw Van for a history of the camp, who responded very interestingly, as to its organization and progress.

Rev. Wm. E. Bryce was next called to respond to "Lincoln" and gave a glowing tribute to one of the greatest statesmen the world has ever seen. Starting into his administration with his country on the brink of the war, the treasury depleted, no munitions of war of the states already seceding, with himself no experience whatever as an official, it was indeed a giant's task to handle the reins of state.

After music, Mrs. J. B. Romans was called for and gave her exquisite rendering of the Telephone. She also gave her early impressions of Lincoln, whom she well remembers having heard in an address when she was a small girl. She said she went with several others, and when they approached the stage whereon he sat with several others all were wondering who the awfully homely man in the background could be and were not ready to believe it when they were told that it was Lincoln.

Ed Searer spoke for the cavalymen, telling of his first engagement. He is a good story teller and gave us some fine pictures of the battle field as seen in a fight.

Toast Master McHenry then said he had noticed some of the guests had shown unusual talent in devastating hash and would call on Prof. Van Ness. The professor gave a fine talk, as also did Prof. Savage, the next one noted as a devastator. Prof. Savage spoke more particularly on the question of talks by veterans to the school children, which has been done to a goodly extent by Mr. Richardson, and invited all the veterans to visit the schools at any convenient time and talk to the children.

J. D. Havens was the last to speak, and gave an interesting short talk on his army life.

We regret that these evenings of wit and wisdom cannot be more frequently enjoyed, as they tend more to the real refinement and culture of our people than many of the attractions so usually indulged in by our people.

The staff officers appointed by the captain are as follows:
Captain—R. Shaw Van.
Secretary—Ed. Blackman.
Treasurer—L. D. Vassar.
Sergeant of Guard—J. B. McClellan.
Corporal of Guard—E. C. Baum.
Prin. Musician—Sears McHenry.
Color Bearer—H. W. Boeck.
Camp Guard—Wm. Gilbreath.
Pick Guard—Geo. Boeck.

LIBRARY NOTES.
Lincoln's birthday on the twelfth has stimulated interest in his life. The library contains the following lives of Lincoln: "Every Day Life of Lincoln," a series of pen pictures compiled from books; "Life of Lincoln," by Ward H. Lamson, a former law partner of his; "Abraham Lincoln," an essay, by Carl Schurz; "Short Life of Lincoln," by Hay & Nicolay; "Boy Life of Lincoln," by E. S. Brooks; "Essays on Lincoln," by Lowell, Bolton, Danacet, and "Captain, my Captain," the poem on Lincoln, by Walt Whitman.

To Mr. J. W. Miller, the library is indebted for a number of years of the "Outlook".
Mr. Lally has presented the library with a fine history of the "Know-Nothing Party," by H. J. Desmond. The book is a beautiful edition and gladly welcomed to the history department.

TRAIN IS SNOW BOUND.

The Seed Corn Gospel Train is Stopped at Manilla. Interesting Meeting Held at That Place.
We learn by telephone from Manilla that Prof. Holden and his seed Corn Gospel train was snow bound at that point yesterday. About 150 farmers attended the Manilla meeting and much enthusiasm was aroused. This was the fourteenth meeting held in the state this year. It was expected to hold a meeting at Charter Oak last night, but as the Milwaukee is almost completely stopped up by the snow the train will probably not reach Charter Oak until today. This train will be in Denison sometime during the first two weeks in March.

THREE DUNLAP WEDDINGS.

A friend drops us a line to tell of three weddings which took place at Dunlap today. The parties are well known in Crawford and many friends will join in congratulations.
Mr. Wesley Siglin of Willow township and Miss Phebe Kuentzen of Monona, county were the first couple mentioned. They will reside on a farm in Willow township.
Mr. C. R. Talcott and Miss Adie May, both of Dunlap were married and will reside on a farm west of Dunlap.
Mr. T. J. Whitney of Minooka, Ill. and Miss Carrie Dunham of Dunlap were the third couple. They will make Illinois their home.

A SALVATIONIST WRITES.

States That Hathaway and His Crew Do Not Belong To The Salvation Army.

THE REVIEW has received the following letter from the Salvation Army headquarters at Omaha. The letter is self-explanatory.
February 11, 1905.
DEAR SIR:
Our attention has been called to the item which appeared in your paper a few days ago to the effect that some persons calling themselves members of the Salvation Army had conducted meetings in your city, and had also printing done, and left town without paying the bill. We are very sorry indeed to know that the good people in Denison have been imposed upon, also that you have been defrauded by these people, for as a matter of fact Hathaway is not connected with the Salvation Army, either as an officer or member. Also the other parties who were with him, are not members of the Salvation Army.

It is not often that we are troubled with people of this stamp, but since hearing of their imposition, we have done our best to warn the public. Believe me,
Respectfully yours,
A. MERRILL WEAVER,
General Secretary.

FOURTEEN BOOKS ONLY.

We have been house cleaning at THE REVIEW office and among other things we found 14 copies of a handsomely bound book "Practical Farming and Gardening." It contains 500 pages and is filled with helpful hints, recipes and suggestions. We are going to give them away. We do not need them in our business, and the farmers do need them in theirs. We are going to give these books to the next fourteen farmers paying their subscription to THE REVIEW.
No city chaps need apply. The books are for the farmers, and the farmers are going to get them. Remember there are just fourteen, and when they are gone there will be no more at our disposal—Hurry up now farmer friends and be one of the lucky fourteen. The books cost Mr. Tucker fifty cents each.

Deloit

Miss Vivian Jordan returned to her school work at Schleswig Saturday after a two weeks' vacation on account of illness. Her sister had been taking her place.
Bert Justice was down from Herring Sunday calling on friends.
The dance Friday night failed to draw a crowd on account of the cold weather.
The revival meetings closed last week.
Mrs. Jacob Worley is quite poorly with grip and heart trouble.
Henry Lincke shipped a car each of cattle and hogs, and so did Fred Petersen, on Saturday, and Julius Schroeder two cars of cattle and Chris Jessen one.

Miss Schurke came home from school at Denison Saturday.
Dick Brogden shipped a car each of cattle and hogs and J. P. Newton a car of cattle on Monday.
On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. John Dobson will have been married fifty years, and they now live within four hundred feet of where they were married, and they have never lived outside of the township. They have seen the birth of nine children to this union, of whom seven are still living, and have now about ten or twelve grand children. He is seventy and his wife is sixty-nine. They are still very hale and hearty and enjoy the esteem of all their neighbors. In speaking of Uncle Morris McHenry's notes in last week's REVIEW Mr. Dobson expressed the hope that they might be continued further. He relates some very interesting incidents himself of early settlement, and told THE REVIEW man of the trials of some of the early settlers. He referred to the trip of Mr. H. C. Laub in the winter of '56-7 for goods for his store, and of how hard a time they had in getting through. A widow woman and two children were with the party, coming to Dunham's Grove, and the horses gave out in the snow after they got this side of old Carrolltown, and Mr. Laub left the party there with food enough to eat, though it was frozen hard, and he walked on to Deloit for men and fresh teams to go after the party. All were brought in safely. Another incident to which he referred was the falling of the family cow through the floor into the cellar at Mr. Laub's, and the time they had recovering her.

Manilla
John Holdsworth died at his late home east of town last week, of heart trouble, and was buried Tuesday.
Thos. Walker of Vermillion, S. D., was visiting Mrs. G. W. Saunders last week.
The First National Bank has placed in front of the door a nice bill board on which they invite farmers to post their sale bills.
M. M. McAlpin drove in from Denison in the storm Saturday. He was on the road five and one-half hours, tipped over six times, had the horses down in the snow till he thought they would never get out, and came into town nearly frozen.

E. Brockelsby of Vail, was in town last week and purchased the John Clausen residence, which he will occupy after March 1st.
Col. C. G. Saunders of Council Bluffs, spent Saturday night with his mother, who's health has been very poor of late.
Geo. Disburg, the day operator, has been laying off this week on account of the illness of his wife and baby.
Dr. J. B. and Al. Gardner have been in the eastern part of the state attending the funeral of their father.
Several of the young people of Buck Grove attended the calico ball at Germania hall last Thursday evening.
Mrs. L. R. Gardner is reported quite ill.
T. R. Walker of Vermillion, Mr. Haskell of Chamberlain, and P. M. Ray of Sioux City were in the here last Thursday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry are entertaining a lady friend from Arkansas.
Grandma McNertney still remains very ill as the result of a fall on the ice.
Rev. Joseph Stephen gave a Lincoln Memorial service Sunday.
Mrs. Robert Winters is on the sick list this week.
The heavy fall of snow and the drifting have caused the route men to abandon the mail routes the past few days.
Fire Chief A. P. Petersen received a letter from the Manning Fire Chief last Thursday warmly commending the services of the Manilla hose team at the Manning fire, and on the following day he received a check from the city of Manning for fifty dollars and one from Hoffman & Co. for twenty-five dollars for saving their store and stock from burning.

We notice a genuine democratic howlin last week's Bulletin, regarding the prosperity of THE REVIEW, reminding us of the old adage, "It's the hurt dog that always howls."
Mr. Thos. Carey, who had been to Chicago with cattle, was in the Melbourne wreck last week, but fortunately came out unharmed.

Kiron

C. W. Carlson of Woodbury, who visited at C. A. Larson's last week, went to Denison Friday.
A fine daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clausen Saturday. All are doing nicely.
Fred A. Lawrence is very sick at present writing.
The marriage of Edward R. Peterson and Miss Emma O. Winquist occurred at the home of the bride's parents, near town on Wednesday, Feb. 8. Rev. Gustav Nyquist officiating. They will make their home at Hawarden, Iowa, on a farm. His sister, Mrs. Anderson, of Hawarden, and baby attended the wedding, returning to their home on Friday.

The next Lecture Course number will be given by A. W. Hawks, Tuesday, Feb. 21st. In the entertainments given by A. W. Hawks, the laughing philosopher, tears follow laughter. He tells funny stories, recounts pathetic incidents. He is without a peer, his facial expression is wonderful, no costumes, no make-up. Mr. Hawks wears his store clothes and makes his own faces. He comes endorsed by the entire Clergy and Press of his own state, Maryland.
Reserve seats for this number at Johnson's, Saturday, Feb. 18th.

NOTICE.
Owing to the fact that many have wished to take Osteopathic treatment and felt that they could not afford to do so I have decided to reduce my rate for treatment at office per month to $15. While this means harder work for the Osteopath, yet I hope by so doing to introduce the methods of Osteopathy as a curative system to such an extent as to permanently insure its standing in Crawford Co.
Osteopathy claims many cures in Chronic and Acute diseases where other systems have failed and it challenges the entire list of other curative methods in such diseases as Rheumatism, paralysis, nervous diseases and Female Disorders.
Consultation and Examination free. DR. E. D. MCLAREN.

FOR SALE.

SEED CORN SPECIAL.

It is little wonder when one reads the corn report for 1904, that the people of Iowa are interested so deeply in the Corn & Gospel Special trains that are being arranged for by the Chicago & North-Western Railway.
In 1904 Iowa produced 323,853,000 bushels of corn, 93,000,000 bushels more than the yield for 1903.
Nor is the state lacking in its output of other grains. Eight million bushels of wheat, 118,000,000 bushels of oats, and 12,000,000 bushels of barley were produced last year, along with 14,255,000 bushels of potatoes and almost 6,000,000 tons of hay.
Something of the value of the corn crop is indicated by the fact, not often called to the attention of the public, that in five counties of the state 20,000,000 ears of sweet corn are packed every year (enough for a line of cans 1,260 miles long). This is in addition to the train loads of cattle and hogs that provide meat for hundreds of thousands of people.

The creamery business, too is largely dependent upon the corn crop, and last year 62,222,457 pounds of butter were made by the creameries, there being 1,372,000 milk cows in the state.
The farmer with these facts before him needs no argument to persuade him that if he can increase his corn crop anywhere from ten per cent to forty per cent, it behooves him to lose no time in finding out how this is done and putting his knowledge to the test.
Professor Holden of the State College at Ames is doing a wonderful work along these lines. He tells the farmer wherein his lack of method in selecting his seed has proved a loss to him in the past, and how he can remedy the mistake.
The Chicago & North-Western Railway recognizes the importance of Professor Holden's movement, and schedules are being prepared for special trains which will carry the professor and his assistants to practically every station on the line in Iowa, beginning March 5.

The railway is sending to its agents announcements showing the itinerary of the train across the state, and much interest is being awakened.
The train is fitted up so that at each station lectures can be given in the cars, which are warm and afford comfortable seats for the farmers. Every grain grower in the state is invited to come out and hear Professor Holden.
He leaves no room for argument, but shows in plain and simple language just what is needed.
The grain growers along the North-Western Line have indicated that they propose to come out by the thousands to hear Professor Holden, and the Grain Dealers' Association is much interested.
