U. G. JOHNSON & CO.

John Pithan and little son were down from Ells on business Saturday.

Emil Mauritz and Chas. J. Larson were down from Kiron on business Monday.

Miss Garnet Norman went to Logan, Saturday where she takes her whistling lessons.

Mrs. Geo. Neave went to Omaha this week to hear "Parsifal" in the original, and to spend a few days visiting Omaha friends.

Sunday was such a beautiful day, Grace Park was filled with children hunting wild flowers and a great many "grown ups" indulged in long walks and drives.

The social that was to have been given at the Presbyterian church last Tuesday evening and was postponed, will be held next Tuesday evening. All members of the congregation are invited.

The Friday club had an interesting meeting. Birds were under consideration and Mesdames Savage and Lina Ley read fine papers. Mesdames Williard, McAhren and Harding were elected members of the club.

Mrs. Hope has presented the library with some books of much value. Such interest as her's is much appreciated by the library board. Mr. George Lass has given two photographs, one of the library and the other a winter view of Grace Park.

The Review has made arrangements with Mr. Hearn manager of the piano contest so that hereafter it can issue one vote for every cent paid on subscription. It is a mighty good way to help some deserving person and the Review can use the subscription money now as well as at some other time.

THE REVIEW wishes to state that it is not receiving subscriptions for the Weekly State Register nor is it giving that paper as a premium this year. The Register is a good paper and is well edited, but there has been so much confusion in the past in outside subscription accounts that THE REVIEW has decided to cut out all clubbing offers. We have enough sins of commission and omission of our own to stand for without guaranteeing the mistakes of other papers. We say this so that those who took advantage of the Review's offer of last year may know that when their time on the Register or any other paper with which the REVIEW clubbed, expires they will be continuing it on their own responsibility and at the regular subscription price so far as we are concerned.

THE ANDREWS OPERA COMPANY

Denison Music lovers are rejoicing that the Andrews opera company is to be with us on Tuesday April 4th. This is one of the oldest and best known companies on the road and has long been a favorite in Denison. A large number of tickets have already been sold for the performance and there is sure to be a large audience. Those who have ordered tickets can get them reserved on Saturday morning. The price of tickets is seventy-five cents for all arm chairs and the performance will be well worth the money. "Birds of feather" is the opera to be given here and we are assured that that not only are the scenic effects fine, the costumes radiant and the girls pretty, but that only the very best musical talent is employed.

Those having ordered tickets for the Andrews opera company will reserve them at Johnson's Book Store Saturday morning April 1st. Those not having signed the list can procure seats at above named place. Prices 75-50-35 and 25.

A FINE CONCERT.

The concert given by Miss Ellis of Des Moines was a great success and as predicted by THE REVIEW was the musical event of the season. Miss Ellis was greeted by a fine audience and her selections met with much favor. Miss Randall's selections were also much enjoyed. The duet given by the Misses Lally was a great addition to the program. Miss Hazel Laub who always plays beautifully played Miss Ellis accompaniment.

The concert not only delighted the audience but added a neat little sum for city federation.

Mrs. J. B. Romans and the other members of the federation worked hard to make the concert a success and we are glad that it was one in every respect.

Miss Ellis has a very fine trained voice the tone of her voice fine and the register and range varied and strong. Both in dramatic selections and ballads, Miss Ellis' voice showed to great advantage and captured her hearers. Her stage presence is good and we predict a great musical future for this gifted young artist.

A NEW GERM.

The Department of Agriculture has been developing a germ which has the property of supplying nitrogen direct free to growing plants. This is good for all leguminous plants such as peas and beans and is also good for clover. Through the kindness of Hon. J. P. Conner, Denison college expects to receive a sample of this cultivated germ. A limited portion can be given to friends who wish to try its value. This preparation is applied to the seed before planting. It is only useful on the above named plants and when the land is worn out or is not sufficiently fertilized. After a crop of clover or peas or beans have been treated with this preparation other crops grown on the same land will be benefited.

GOES TO WATERLOO.

Mr. H. C. Finnern leaves this week for Waterloo where he has purchased a flourishing German newspaper, the Deutscher-Amerikaner. Mr. Finnern is a young man of industry and ability. Both as an editor and as a publisher he has won his spurs and we bespeak for him the good will of the people and the business men of Waterloo. His paper will be an influence for good in the community and should receive every support and encouragement. Waterloo evidently knows where to go when it wants good men and no better men could be found both as to ability in their special lines and as to moral integrity than the two who go from here, Mr. H. H. Savage and Mr. H. C. Finnern.

A glance inside the new Balle Brodersen store reveals what a beauty the store will be. We would suggest that before it is too far completed the firm donate the use of it for a grand charity ball.

VISITS OLD MEXICO

man office and registered for a berth next day on the Golden State limited. In Jauroz we tried to get into the prison. At the entrance we encountered two soldiers in uniform. One with a gun and the other with a short sword something like a machete. I walked up to them and says "can we get in here" receiving no reply we stepped into a cage like place about 10 by 12 with iron bars on 3 sides an iron gate was opened to let out one of the attendants we made a rush for the gate but it was slammed in our faces. We were told we could not get in without a permit from the Mayor, as his honor was conspicuous for his absence and purposely too I think, we fell back in good order. The party seemed imbued with a burning desire to see an encounter between a human and a Bovine known in common parlance as a bull fight. The price was $5.00 Mexican and $2.50 U. S. money.

I quoted the old adage about a fool and his money. They all said we may be crazy but we aint no fool. So we cut it out and visited the old church several hundred years old. There we found many Pilgrims kneeling and offering up invocations to whom I know not.

We then took in the Mexican public market where everything was in the crudest form, and what looked to me the poorest quality on earth, they had red-peppers, green peppers, big peppers and little peppers, and every other kind of peppers you could think of. They had poor potatoes, poor turnips, poor beets, poor squashes, in fact every thing in poor quality. They had a good many vegetables I never saw before, I inquired the names but don't remember them, they were selling meat that would make a canine deny his ancestors. I have no doubt if one of our intelligent American dogs would happen to pass by, and looked at their bologna sausage he would recognize his long lost brother. I was told the Mexican officers had spotters all over the city and not to buy anything however cheap it might be for the officers on the bridge would know it before my car got there, and that meant to get pulled.

I said "do not fear me, I am on my way to the coast and I am not looking for bargain counters nor trouble especially with revenue officers." Our car was stopped coming over and each one of us were questioned if we had anything subject to duty, and they finally asked me if I had anything I said "yes, I am a descendant of George Washington and can't tell a lie, I have a bull fight in my head and a cigar in my mouth which came in my possession across the line," the officers said "we never charge a descendant of George Washington revenue," so I went on my way rejoicing. Arriving back at El Paso I learned that the golden state limited going west was seven hours late. I immediately went to the Pullman office cancelled my order for next day, and got sleeping accommodations on evening train.

Mrs. B. was well rested and we got out of there at 8 o'clock that night. When we got down there in Arizona our train was attacked by Mexicans, there was no one either killed or injured. It happened in this way, a freight train had been wrecked and about fifty Mexicans had been employed in clearing up the wreck. Among the wreckage was a car load of oranges our train stopped just opposite, I was standing on the rear end of the observation car. I held out my hand and said give me a low ball, an orange was thrown and I caught it, I then cried out there is no limit to this game, they evidently understood English for the oranges came thick and fast, and we had oranges for everybody on the train. This is what we called the attack by Mexicans. When we got to Yuma the weather was boiling hot, I took off my coat and vest, picked up a fan, and said to the conductor, we must be getting in the neighborhood of Hades He said "it is just over the line in Mexico" I asked him if he would not tell the engineer to put on a little more steam to get away as soon as possible. At this time it was about 30 below zero in Denison. We pulled in the promise land at Los Angeles, Cal. on the evening of Jan. 14th. More anon.

Best Bred PERCHERONS In the County

TO THE PUBLIC

I desire to announce that I now have on hand four of as nice Percheron stallions as were ever brought to the county, and am now ready to accommodate the public in this line. I have not looked at the price in making my selections. I looked at the bone and quality, size and weight, and all are true animals, and none better are to be found in the county. I bought some of the best L. W. Ayers had in his barn and all are young and free from blemishes, and as good in style as any coach horse, and all are dark colors. They are all horses from one end to the other, are of the best blood to be found in France. The high price of land nowadays does not allow you to breed to poor animals, and as you want to breed your mares up instead of down, breed for size and bone and quality. The horse market demands well bred animals nowadays, and if you are careful in your breeding your animals will always find a ready market and at good prices. My stallions are fit to go into any show ring and stand as good a chance to win prizes as the importers of the bigger breeders in the state. I will not lay down, on the square, with any horse in our vicinity.

These horses are such as Bedford, 25262; Vulcain, 26841 and Mont Dor, 8979. My new horse "FORFAIT" No. 33173, arrived last week from Shenandoah where he was purchased direct from the importers. "FORFAIT" was foaled May 30, 1902, making him now about three years old. He now weighs 1750 pounds and will mature at 2200. He is a beautiful jet black, clean limbed, strong and hardy. He has gentle disposition, and in fact, I think he will prove to be the best stallion that ever stepped into Crawford county. Bills announcing stands will soon be distributed.
