Deaf Persons Don't Get Sensitive.
"Strange thing, but do you know that deaf persons never get sensitive?" said an old surgeon in the employ of one of the transatlantic lines recently. "This was found out," he said, "when a whole class of deaf mutes went aboard some years ago, and, despite a particularly rough passage, none of them wanted to lie on the deck and beg somebody to heave them overboard.
"That's the sensitive feeling, you know. A little investigation proved that the stomach nerves are mostly controlled by those of the ear, and that deaf persons are not nearly so liable to the nausea that comes from the rolling motion of a ship as are others.
"The experiment of saturating a ball of cotton with cocaine and thus dulling the hearing has been tried by ship surgeons since. It gives relief to those who dread any sort of a sea voyage; but, after all, the best way to do is to 'feed the fishes' and get over it."—Philadelphia Press.

The First Siege Guns.
It has been stated that it was in 1687, at the siege of Candia, in Crete, that siege guns were first used. This statement is contradicted, however, by a writer, who says that just before the siege of Constantinople a Hungarian or Wallachian cannon founder named Urban cast in 1452 at Adrianople a cannon "which remained for many years the wonder of Europe and marks an epoch in the continually increasing power of guns." Urban's cannon was dragged by sixty oxen to Constantinople in 1453 and threw a stone ball of 1,200 pounds weight. It was fired seven times a day and once each night. The Turks used at the siege two other cannon nearly as large and altogether had fourteen batteries, each containing four guns, along the length of the wall.

Bizet's Red Ribbon.
Bizet, the author of the popular opera "Carmen" who died a month after its first production, was not at any time a lucky man. He was even decorated through a mistake, says a writer, "for his friends, presaging the failure of 'Carmen', bombarded the minister before the production and begged a decoration for M. George Bizet. 'Bizet' asked the minister. 'Who is Bizet?' 'A remarkable genius,' was the reply, 'who has already produced several extraordinarily fine works. Among them the most popular is perhaps 'L'Arlesienne'."

American money passes current at par in all parts of the Dominion, and one never hears pounds, shillings and pence mentioned outside of the customs. In the matter of money Canada has a grievance if she chose to take it up, for surely Canadian coin does not pass at par, often not at any figure, in all parts of the United States.
