THE REVIEW'S OPEN SHOP.

SHOWING conditions under which the Review of September 6th was printed. The old building was partially torn down and the paper was made up and practically printed in the open air. The present conditions are still more unfavorable. The old building has been entirely wrecked. The Review plant is in the new basement, under a false roof. Cement floors are not completed, the engine is disconnected and the press torn down. But a good time is coming. By next week we expect to have our brand new press in running order. Our floors all in, and while we must expect a leaky roof, we shall be quite happy in comparison with the disadvantages under which we have been laboring.

Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm

A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation. Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James N. Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by PH. A. SCHLUMBERGER.

A SCARLET AND WHITE WEDDING

On Tuesday evening Miss Gertrude Hunter and Harry Pester were married, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Mc Ahren.

Mrs. McAhren's artistic hand is always felt in anything she undertakes and the home was a bower of beauty. Palms and ferns banked the corner with sprays of red leaved, scarlet sage and white astors. These flowers were used in great profusion in the parlors.

The dining room was decorated with white carnations and the bride's chair trimmed with broad bands of satin ribbon.

About thirty guests witnessed the wedding. Miss Allie Wilson played the wedding march and Rev. Mr. Doughlan of Dunlap performed the ceremony.

Miss Ethel Hunter in a red crepe de chene acted as her sister's bridesmaid and Robert Romans was groomsman. The bride was very pretty in a white chiffon simply and daintily made.

The wedding was a very jolly one and the happy couple were most successfully launched on the sea of matrimony. Mr. and Mrs. Pester received many handsome gifts.
