Miss Bertha Bayne and Miss Grace Deter left on Sunday for Wichita, Kan., where they will start a dress making establishment. We wish the young ladies the best of success in their new venture.

As I expect soon to leave the city I would request all those knowing themselves to be indebted to me to settle their accounts at their earliest convenience. Settlement may be made either with me or with Mr. Simon at the Broadway Meat Market.

Very Respectfully,
A. D. RANDALL.

Mr. Frank Fee has sold his handsome home in the second ward to Mr. E. McC. Andrews, of Jackson township, who will make Denison his home after the first of the year.

Mr. Peter Miller returned from Montana last week and will spend the winter in Denison. He reports all well out on the ranch. Miss Lillian will pursue her studies at Minneapolis this year.

The G. T. H. Club met with Miss Pearl Wilson on Friday evening. Two members were added to the club and a vice-president and a treasurer elected. The club will meet with Miss Ethel Hunter Friday, October 4th.

Mr. P. E. C. Lally goes to Jefferson to deliver an address before the Friday Club of that city on "Ireland." This will open the year's work of that club which will study the literary and social history of the emerald isle.

The resident Knights of Columbus tendered Mr. Frank Fee a farewell surprise last Saturday evening. Besides the pleasant memories they left a handsome souvenir of their esteem for Mr. and Mrs. Fee.

In connection with the Rummage sale at the Wilcox Laundry building next Saturday, the ladies of the Presbyterian church will have a market and cake sale, where lots of good things to eat can be had at reasonable prices.

The plans for Dr. B. F. Philbrook's new home are completed. Those who have seen them pronounce them unique and very attractive. The outside of the house will be cemented giving a very pretty and old fashioned effect.

The library board are very much indebted to Mrs. E. Miller for a beautiful plant presented by her just before leaving Denison. Mrs. Patterson has also given the library two plants that are much appreciated. To Mrs. R. L. Hill the library is indebted for a handsome bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howe, of Chicago are Denison visitors this week. They were among the early pioneers of Denison and are being gladly greeted by many old time friends. At one time Mr. Howe owned the entire block now occupied by the First National bank and other buildings.

Buy it cheaper at Bamford's now. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church met with such fine success in their Rummage sale that they have decided to continue it on next Saturday, when, they say, everything will go at the buyer's price. They have secured the use of the room on Broadway where the Wilcox laundry was formerly located.

Rev. E. F. Thuresson preached at the Methodist church last Sunday to large congregations. He made a splendid impression and our Methodist brethren are much pleased with him. The Review wishes him a pleasant and profitable journey in Denison and gladly offers its cooperation in anything that may make for the good of our city.

The S. S. Club held the jolliest kind of a meeting at the Club room last evening. They resolved that S. S. meant Sweet Sixteen and went in to prove that they were all of that age. The program was in charge of Miss Meyers while Miss Town headed the menu committee. Miss Palmer of the college faculty was elected a member of the club.

Buy it cheaper at Bamford's now. On Friday night the teachers laid aside their school room dignity and mounting a hay rack drawn by four horses they went to the home of Miss Strahan where they had a merry evening. The new teachers were taken into the club and the rites attending this were greatly enjoyed by all the members. Miss Strahan and Miss Gulick served a very nice two course supper.

The Bamford Stock is being sold at a lively clip, but that is to be expected judging from the big reductions that are in force throughout the store. Mr. Bamford leaves for the South Oct. 15th or 20th by which time wonders must be accomplished do not postpone getting your share now.

Mr. Chas. Smutney has returned from Kansas City and will remain at home for a few weeks. Charley ran up against a can of salmon in the big city and annexed a case of ptomaine poisoning which pretty nearly laid him out and he is now recuperating from the results. He reports "Ed's wardrobe" as doing a good business and that the Petersen family are all well and happy.

On Saturday night Miss Goodrich who always entertains delightfully gave a party in honor of Miss Falkner and Miss Plimpton. Somerset a new game was played five tables being filled. The guests enjoyed the game very much indeed. Miss Craft assisted Mrs. and Miss Goodrich in serving light refreshments. The party broke up at a very late hour after a very pleasant evening.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church will begin its Sunday evening meetings again next Sunday at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting will be in form of a reorganization and rally, and all the young people of the church and congregation are invited to be present. Mr. E. R. Dow, the Evangelist, will probably be present and make a talk to the young people, and the meeting promises to be one of great interest.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gulick entertained at tea complimentary to Mrs. H. S. Gulick, it being her seventy-fifth birthday. Mrs. Gulick is so young in heart and appearance that this does not seem true but the guests enjoyed celebrating the event with her very much. Club people are very glad to have Mrs. Gulick in Denison to stay once more and young and old wish her many returns of the day. Mrs. E. Gulick served a very elegant birthday tea.

Thursday was an ideal day and it was put to most excellent use by a number of ladies beside the Coterie club who went on an impromptu picnic. The ladies had the kind of baskets with them that would make any picnic a success. The coffee that Mrs. Criswell made has never been equalled nor the broiled steak nor creamed potatoes touched by any other cooks. The supper over, walnutting became the business of the hour and a great many for this winter's use were taken home. This picnic proved that "mere man" is not needed to make one a success.

Rev. Er. E. Miller returned to Denison this week after a visit with his son in Bedford, Iowa. He comes to superintend the removal of his household goods to Des Moines where his next pastorate will be. He tells us that Mrs. Schada is slowly but steadily improving after the operation she underwent some weeks ago. Dr. Miller is one of the best and bravest of men. He has devoted many years of splendid service to the Methodist church. We part from him with the most sincere regret and wish for him and his all the blessings and happiness that God reserves for them who serve him faithfully and well.

Buy it cheaper at Bamford's now. On Thursday Mrs. Frank Woolston entertained Coterie club most delightfully. She had provided a guessing game, grain and seeds, the ladies to guess what they were. This game made a great deal of fun and proved that the ladies could write a book on what they didn't know about farming. A water melon and a musk melon were the two first prizes and a pumpkin consoling the winner of the fewest guesses. The guests were seated at small tables, the center piece of each a pumpkin made into a basket and filled with fruit. Mrs. Woolston assisted by Mrs. Romans and Mrs. Fred Marshall served an elegant three course supper. It was quite seven when the guests departed after a perfect afternoon Mrs. Woolston is a charming hostess with an original way of doing things that adds spice to the pleasure of her guests. The drive home was also a most enjoyed feature of one of the pleasantest meetings in the history of the Coterie club.

Ladies Take Notice. It is time to take up plants and will call your attention to our large line of gardeners, giving you large numbers to select from. They are attractive and reasonable in price. J. L. Warbasse.

KILLED BY AN AUTO.
First Fatal Automobile Accident in Denison Occurs on Friday Afternoon.

On Friday the automobile scored its first victim in Denison. Many of our people have looked askance at the automobile and it has been freely predicted that Denison would yet be the scene of one of these fearful tragedies of which automobile have been so frequently the cause. On Friday the expected happened. Mr. E. C. Chamberlin was driving in his powerful auto car. He was well within the speed limit and was driving with utmost care. In the path of the car was little Utie Wheeler, playing in the roadside. Mr. Chamberlin gave the danger signal but the little one paid no heed. In fact he seemed rather attracted by the coming monster and totally unafraid. Mr. Chamberlin saw the imminent danger, he reversed the machine, he signalled and shouted but in a moment the wheels passed over the little form. There was a sharp cry of agony mingled with the crunching of the wheels on flesh and bones and a moment Utie Wheeler was dead. He was a dog of fine pedigree, valued at $25.00 cash by his owner and at many times that figure by the Wheeler children who mourn their loss with grief sincere and heartfelt.

BOARS FOR SALE.
