Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on the same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your house and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by

We deeply regret to chronicle the death of our friend and neighbor Henry Bendixen whose serious illness we announced last week. All that medical aid could do was done but to no avail. He was taken sick about a week ago and although in the care of a physician and a trained nurse, the nature of the disease was such that no earthly power could check it. After a thorough examination by the physician it was found to be a severe case of inflammation of the bowels and stomach and after a serious consultation of three doctors it was decided that an operation was necessary. Even that gave little hope, and death was expected at any time which took place Sept 23. The deceased leaves a loving wife and six children four daughters and two sons and a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn their loss. The remains were interred in the Nissen cemetery last Tuesday.

Our Harvest festival which was held here last week was a success in every way. Everything seemed to be in harmony, even the weather was the very best.

The Ida Grove brass band which rendered such fine music arrived the evening before and our harvest festival was announced by the music of the band at 3 o'clock a. m. At that time a great many of our farmer friends had arrived to take a hand in the amusements and pleasures and at nine o'clock when the first train arrived also brought a large number.

Our city was crowded with visitors and by ten o'clock everything was in full blast. The streets were literally covered with stands. The carnival company gave some good free exhibitions which were appreciated by all. The farmers also showed a great interest in the fair. The farm produce which was displayed was of the very best and it was difficult to decide which were entitled to the premiums. The showing of live stock was also very good. After the premiums were awarded there was a street parade which attracted the attention of all. What it represented no one seems to know. But generally speaking our Harvest Festival was a great success.

Nothing to Fear.

Mothers need have no hesitancy in continuing to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds and croup and can always be relied upon. For sale by
