

MRS. SEAGRAVE IS DEAD.

Account of Sad and Sudden Death of Mrs. A. E. Seagrave.

The Rochester, Minn., Daily Bulletin of Saturday, September 16, says: Mrs. Rose Seagrave of Ivanhoe, Minn., was found dead in bed at 123 West Eighth street this morning. She had evidently passed away about two o'clock. Her husband, A. E. Seagrave, lay beside her wholly unconscious of the transition that had taken place. He awoke about 7:30 o'clock and was horrified to find his young wife cold in death.

Her eyes were wide open and her chin rested in the palm of her hand, showing that the death angel had come swiftly and painlessly. Mr. Seagrave was up at 1:30 this morning and administered a refreshing drink to his wife. He feels quite certain that she died soon after, probably not again sleeping until she fell into the eternal rest "which knows no earthly waking."

Mr. and Mrs. Seagrave came here Monday night from Ivanhoe, Minn., the latter to receive medical treatment for a nervous heart trouble. She was given the necessary medicine her case seemed to demand and made as comfortable as possible in a private boarding house. Her illness had been of about two months duration and her husband had given almost constant care during that time. Here he was able to secure a nurse who remained each night until 12 o'clock. Mr. Seagrave had become utterly worn out by his long vigils and last night fell into the sleep which exhausted nature demanded. His wife seemed to be improving most satisfactorily and seemed stronger than usual when she spoke to him at half past one.

The sadness of the case is extreme. Mr. Seagrave is editor and publisher of the Lincoln County Advertiser at Ivanhoe, Minn. Last April he married Rose Herrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Herrick who were among the first settlers of Lincoln county. The daughter was twenty-five years of age in March 1905. When she became the bride of Mr. Seagrave last spring life was bright and seemed full of golden prospects, but after a few months, the nervous disease which led to her death began to manifest itself.

MAKES MOST DECIDED HIT.

Lecture by Denison Man Enthusiastically Received by Jefferson's Elect.

An audience of three hundred persons assembled by invitation at the Baptist Church last Friday evening, to hear the lecture on Ireland by Hon. P. E. C. Lally, of Denison, who came to open the year's series of "Mens' Meetings" of the Friday Club. The appropriateness of the lecture laid in the fact that "Ireland" is to be one of the main themes of study for the Club this year, not only in the afternoon, but in the evening sessions as well. Mr. Lally is an Irishman of Irishmen, and he brought to bear all the guns of his eloquence upon his subject, which was the oppression of Ireland by the mother country. Mr. Lally has cause to feel deeply on this question, out of the experience of his own household, and his views on both political and religious phases of the subject were often very radical: none the less those who did not wholly agree with him enjoyed the address hugely by reason of its wealth of information, its virility, and its embodiment of the enthusiastic spirit of the speaker. The Club and their guests are beholden to Mr. Lally for his kindness in coming over, and for the pleasure his lecture afforded. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lally, and both were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wilson. Mrs. Lally also visited her father, Mr. James Hughes, while here.—Jefferson Bee.

RETURNS FROM SCOTLAND.

Thos. Rae Returns After A Brief but Pleasant visit to his Native Heath.

After a journey of nearly 12000 miles. Hon. Thos. Rae has returned safe and sound and with many happy remembrances of his latest visit at home in Bonnie Scotland. Mr. Rae was fortunate all through his trip. The ocean voyages were delightful and he found many friends in the old home. He tells us that the country is just recovering from the depression caused by the Boer war and that Scotland is showing signs of increased prosperity, shop building on the Clyde and Mersey is brightening up and engineering firms are just beginning to work full time.

Mr. Rae tells us that with all the pleasures of the trip the home-coming was the greatest delight and that he is ready to go on record that the American home is best of all.

ARE RE-SETTING THE LIST.

The Review List is Being Re-Set in Larger Type To Secure Accuracy in Mailing.

THE REVIEW is engaged on the task of resetting the list. There has been more or less complaint about the non-receipt of the REVIEW and in order that the addresses may be plainer we are resetting the entire list in larger type. This means a great amount of work and it will be two or three weeks before the job is completed. We would ask our readers to take careful note of the printed address on their REVIEW and if any error is detected to report it at once.

Mary Jane.

I COURTED her in calico,
Her little hand in mine;
All wreathed about her girlish face
The morning glory vine.
There was no guile within her eyes, and
No naught of her was vain,
For life was simple truthfulness—and she was Mary Jane.

She never spoke affectedly
With mincing lisp and purr;
The language of her fathers then
Was good enough for her.
No sweeter were the apple blossoms along
The orchard lane,
For life and love sufficed for her—and she
was Mary Jane.

What spirit haunts the path of life
To warp a woman's ways?
What is it vells the happiness
And truth of other days?
The years that in their flight have left
Their frosting over me,
That robbed my life of Mary Jane, gave in exchange—"Marie!"

What empty social vanities
Can ever rise above
The wondrous purity and peace
Of happiness and love?
The years are not so many, yet a long eternity
Lies in between: sweet Mary Jane and my club wife—"Marie."

Beside the ashes of my love
I mourn tonight, the while
To please the world she's practicing
Her artificial smile!
Oh, God, a single day when life was not a tangled skein—
When life was simple truthfulness, and she was Mary Jane!

Thursday evening—Service for meditation and prayer.

Sunday 9:30 a. m. class meeting.
Sunday 6:30 Epworth League.
The next session of our District conference will be held at Sidney, Ia. Oct. 16-18.

MARRIED.

At the M. E. parsonage at this place, Rev. T. E. Thuresson officiating. Mr. John M. Nelson of Wall Lake, and Mrs. Mary E. Coleman were united in marriage Wednesday October 4th.

A MANILLA RECEPTION.

Rev. Cable, the newly installed M. E. pastor, together with his family, were tendered a reception Tuesday evening by the members and friends of the church. The people gathered first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Meter, from where they proceeded in a body to the church, which was chosen as a place of holding the reception owing to the unsettled condition of the household affairs at the parsonage. Rev. Cable was attending a business meeting of the elders and was completely taken by surprise. A short program was rendered which was closed by a few remarks by the new pastor, after which coffee and doughnuts were served. The reception was largely attended, the seating capacity of the Sunday School room being quite taken up, and it is needless to say a general happy and social evening was spent. The affair was held under the auspices of the Epworth League.—Manilla Republican.

DENISON BOYS ARE WINNERS.

High School Players Win From Dow City in Close Game.

The Denison foot ball hoodoo seems to have been lifted and the high school boys are rejoicing over their hard-won victory over Dow City last Saturday. The visitors put up a stubborn defense as the low score of 10 to 0 indicates but they were unable to make gains and the game was nearly all played on Dow City territory.

Dow City won the toss and kicked off to Denison who by persistent rushes forced the ball toward the enemies' goal. A fumble came near to being expensive but Robert Theobald saved the day and regained the ball for Denison. Persistent rushes drove the ball over the line for a touchdown, but Hart failed to kick goal. The first half ended Denison 5, Dow City 0.

In the second half Denison kicked off, but Dow City soon lost the ball on downs and the Denison lads again forced the fighting in Dow City's back yard. After a hard struggle in which Fishel of Dow City was injured so that he had to withdraw from the game, the home boys made their second touchdown. Hart again missed goal. Play was resumed. Dow City lost the ball on downs and Denison was pounding along for a third touchdown when time was called. Score, Denison 10, Dow City 0. Referee, McAnelly; umpires, Kies and Humphrey's; time-keeper, Fellows.

The line-up for Denison was as follows:
Morris Conard.....center
Clarence Schooley.....guard
Frank Lally.....guard
Walter Kuhl.....right tackle
Robt. Theobald.....left tackle
Geo. Danielson.....left tackle
Leslie Reiter.....right end
Lewis Redenbaugh.....left end
Clarence Searl.....half back
Albert Weise.....half back
Paul Tranter.....full back
Earl Hart.....quarter back
Gail Richardson.....quarter back

The next game will be with Dunlap on Saturday. The last time Denison and Dunlap met was last Thanksgiving day when the score was 0 to 0.

A tradesman whose place of business is in close proximity to a post-office sent his errand boy out with letters to post. The lad, who seemed to have taken an unnecessary time for the transaction, was asked on his return by his master why he had been so long.

"All right," said the shopkeeper; "I understand."—London Tit-Bits.

Not So Bad.

Mrs. Henpeck—I read this morning about a man who was arrested ten minutes after his wedding and sent to prison for fifteen years. Isn't that awful?

Mr. Henpeck—Oh, I don't know. The law doesn't compel him to take his wife to prison with him, does it?

No Objection on His Part.

Tired of seeing him hanging about the neighborhood, the citizens organized an amateur vigilance committee and proceeded to ride him out of town on a rail.

"Now, you pestiferous old vagabond," said the leader, "do you think you'll stay away from this part of the country after this?"

"Yes," replied Tuffold Knutt from his precarious perch on the rail, "ef you carry me fur enough away."—Chicago Tribune.

Spacerite—Did you see that little story of mine in today's paper?
Crittick—Yes.

Spacerite—Don't you think the general getup of it was characteristic? Wasn't it like me?

Crittick—No, I wouldn't say it was like you; it didn't have a very big head.—Philadelphia Press.
