

SHOT IN FOREHEAD A PAIR O' DOC'S

Mrs. Grace Shoop Wounded While Riding on Train.

YOUNG BOYS ARE GUILTY.

Conductor's Wife on Boyer Valley the Victim of Careless Shooting by Deloit Boys.

On Friday evening while riding on a Boyer Valley train of which her husband, S. H. Shoop, was conductor, Mrs. Grace Shoop was shot in the forehead, the bullet crashing through the car window and striking Mrs. Shoop just in front of the left temple, but fortunately not piercing the skull. The accident took place about two miles north of Deloit and Mrs. Shoop was immediately brought to Denison where the wound was dressed and the bullet extracted. Mrs. Shoop stood the ordeal bravely and as soon as the bullet was extracted she said, "Show me the bullet," she next said "Show me the man who fired the shot."

At present she is doing nicely but she is apt to bear a scar through life and her hearing is affected, although it is thought this will be but temporary.

On Saturday E. E. Stark, one of the Northwestern's detectives, arrived on the scene. He went to Deloit and found that two boys, John Kruger, aged seventeen, and Willie Killeany, aged eleven, had left Deloit with a 22 rifle and a box of cartridges shortly before the arrival of the train. The detective followed this clew and the result was the arrest of both boys charged with malicious mischief. The boys admit the shooting just as the train passed them, but the younger boy, Killeany, who had the rifle, claims that he shot at a flock of ducks that arose out of the river just as the train passed and that he shot at the ducks in the direction of the train, but without intent to hit the train and that in fact he did not know that he had done so.

Detective Stark is not satisfied with this statement of the case for the reason that it was nearly dark when the shot was fired, too dark, he claims, to see ducks and dark enough to see the lights of a passenger train. It further appears that the shot was fired from a higher elevation than the track and that the hole in the window is higher than where Mrs. Shoop's head was when the accident occurred, going to prove that the shot was fired downward and not up at a flock of ducks.

Considering the youth of the boys concerned we hope that mercy will temper justice, especially if it is not proven that the shot was deliberately fired at the passing train. We know that the offense is a most serious one and that a warning should be given, but if the boys past records are good we hope the criminal brand will not be put on them for life, and we are sure the victim of the affair will agree with us. We understand that the younger boy will be dealt with under the juvenile law and that Kroeger will have a preliminary hearing before Justice E. Gulick on Dec. 9th.

BUY PUTNAM RANCH.

The Denison parties who visited North Dakota last week united and made the purchase of a large six section ranch near Medina. The ranch is a fine one and was purchased by a Minneapolis capitalist for his son. The experiment was not a success and the ranch was offered at the low price of $6.00 per acre, providing the entire six sections were taken. Denison people were interested and as a result they clubbed together and bought the entire tract. The purchasers of one section each were, C. Gronau, B. F. Leshner, H. Koenekamp, U. G. Johnson, Denison Land Co. and Dr. F. Mueller. Mr. Johnson tells us that the country is fine and that there is a great rush of settlers, principally renters who hope to get a farm of their own in the new country. He is confident that the Denison people have made a fine investment.

S. S. C. PARTY.

On Monday night the S. S. C. gathered at the home of Miss Goodrich for a farewell party to Miss Leonard, who leaves for Fort Dodge to-night. Miss Craft and Miss Goodrich were joint hostesses and they had provided somewhat as the evening's amusement. The score cards were decorated in the club colors and the jolly little game seemed to bring luck to almost everyone. The Misses Goodrich, Craft and Leonard served very nice light refreshments. Conundrums were passed and read and much enjoyed. After supper Miss Strahn presented Miss Leonard with a very pretty spoon, a gift from the club. Miss Leonard has been a faithful and enthusiastic member and has a strong hold on the hearts of the Club. Miss Craft and Miss Goodrich were showered with hearty compliments for the pleasant evening. The S. S. C.'s "good times" are one of the bright places in life.

DOCTORS WRIGHT AND COON.

Well Known Physicians Form a Partnership. Dr. Coon Will Move From Arlon.

The latest business change for the REVIEW to chronicle is the partnership just formed between two physicians well and favorably known throughout the county for many years, Dr. W. T. Wright and Dr. L. M. Coon of Arlon. The doctors have leased the Walsh building on lower Broadway and it is now being fitted up for handsome and convenient offices. Not satisfied with the joint equipment of apparatus which the firm now possesses, we understand that about $2000 is to be expended for new equipment which will make this one of the best offices from the standpoint of mechanical appliances, in western Iowa.

Dr. Wright has lived so long in Denison and is well known throughout the county as to need no introduction. Suffice it to say that his practice is steadily increasing and that he has built up an enviable reputation not only as a physician but as a pure and upright christian gentleman, a worthy son of a father whose memory is dear to the people of this county.

Dr. Louis M. Coon is the new comer. He is a Crawford county boy, who by his own efforts has built himself up, made a splendid reputation as a physician and surgeon and gained for himself a competency. He leaves a successful and lucrative practice at Arlon to come to what he trusts will be a wider field, and to enjoy the many privileges which Denison has to offer. He has shown his faith in our city by extensive real estate purchases and in the spring he expects to erect for himself a suitable home, for it is in Denison that he expects to spend the remainder of his days. Dr. Coon and his charming wife are already well known in Denison and we are sure that a warm welcome awaits them in all our circles. It is with pleasure that the REVIEW presents a portrait of the new physician and welcomes the new firm to Denison.

HARLOW HUBBS WED.

The morning Herald of Gloversville, New York, tells of the marriage of Mr. Harlow Kline Hubbs and Miss Laura Belle Howland. The wedding took place on Nov. 23rd at the home of the brides father, Mr. John Howland. The Herald says of the bride, "She has been a most efficient and faithful helper in her father's home and to her brothers and sisters, who were early left motherless. She is a most estimable young lady and her friends are legion." Mr. Hubbs is well known in Denison as an industrious and worthy young man of good character and his many friends here join in congratulating him in his happy fate.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Leslie Tompkins John and Koenekamp entered school this week.

The pupils of the public school as usual made their Thanksgiving offering for the poor of the city. Besides the provisions that were brought in.

In last Saturday's game of football the teams were very evenly matched. Denison clearly outplayed the visitors in the first half. The game was greatly delayed by the continual laying out of the Woodbine players for wind. Both teams showed up well on defense.

All grade rooms have Thanksgiving programs Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Johnson and Miss Stoner are on the program of the Denison district teachers meeting which is to be held at the high school room next Saturday afternoon. Mr. Fellows is chairman of the District.

The Physics class are now ready to take up the study of hydrostatics.

The football team plays Carroll High school Thanksgiving Day. In the preceding game with Carroll the score was 0 to 0.

Ass't. P. M. Geo. Sprecher is ready for Thanksgiving, his wife and his mother having safely returned on Wednesday from a delightful eastern trip.

THEY LEAVE TO-DAY.

Hon. J. P. Conner, Mrs. Conner and Raymond leave this evening for Washington. They will spend Thanksgiving Day in Chicago and resume their journey Friday. They will reside this year in their old quarters at the Hamilton, having the rooms formerly occupied by Senator Dolliver. Mr. Conner returns to Washington with the full confidence of the people of his district behind him. Despite certain rumors we feel that no congressman in Iowa is more secure of renomination and triumphant re-election than Mr. Conner, providing that his course in the coming session shall justify the confidence now reposed in him.

This, we believe, Judge Conner is prepared to do. He is with the President heart and soul on the rate question and is in accord with his district on the tariff and other questions. His past experience in Congress will be of greatest value to him in caring for the needs of his district and in making himself felt in matters of National importance. It is our hope and belief based on our intimate acquaintance with Judge Conner that he will return to Iowa in the spring with a record that will meet the full approval of the republicans of the District.

During the past few months Judge Conner has been a busy man, indeed. He has done his share of the large legal business of his firm, visited throughout the district, paying prompt attention to all the many demands of his constituents, and given attention to many other outside interests.

Mrs. Conner will be greatly missed from our social circles as she has ever been a most hospitable hostess and a warm and generous friend.

Raymond Conner has been an able local assistant on the Review staff. He has worked hard and has shown himself faithful and efficient. We shall miss him from the Review staff and shall hope to have him with us again when he returns in the spring.

In fact few families would be missed more greatly from Denison in a hundred ways, than are the Conners'. We wish them a happy and successful season and hope for their early return to good old Crawford.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

You are cordially urged to attend the Teachers meeting of the Denison district, to be held in the H. S. room on Saturday Dec. 2nd, at 1:30 p. m. Your attention is particularly called to the discussion on "Busy Work." Miss Stoner, who is an experienced kindergarten teacher, will present the theoretical side or suggest tests that should be applied to Busy Work.

After a discussion of the theory, Miss Jennie Jordan, a practical rural school teacher, will suggest some of the plans and devices she finds helpful. Then we shall discuss these plans in the light of the theory, as we have accepted it.

Manual Training is attracting attention everywhere. Mr. Johnson, teacher of Manual Training in the Denison schools, will make some practical suggestions for easy manual training work that can be used in the rural schools. These suggestions, also, we shall test by the theories for Busy Work.

We want a full discussion of Prof. McDaniel's paper. Mr. McDaniel has had experience in the rural school, in the town school and in the Normal College and will offer helpful suggestions on what to do with the boy who does not want to study grammar, etc.

All teachers are urged to bring or send topics for discussion at the Round Table. We want to discuss the topics that interest you. The Round Table alone will be worth your trouble, if you take part come early and get the whole.
