Will Barstow and wife arrived Wednesday evening from their California mining camp, where they have been the past summer. They will spend the winter here. Both look well, the western climate seemingly agreed with them.

Herschel Hulce, who has been employed by Cadwell Bros. the past year, expects to leave this month, in company with his sister, Dot, of Vail, for Pasadena, California.

Mrs. Beck of Denison, visited the past week with her parents, Geo. Flint and wife.

A. D. Smith, who is now located at Council Bluffs, was here over Sunday, the guest of relatives.

F. L. Chamberlin, one of our pioneer farmers residing north of town, will retire from farming and remove to Mt. Vernon, Ia., to reside, where their daughter, Miss Cora, is attending Cornell college. Frank has rented his farm to Lewis Bandow, who resides near Arcadia, and who will take possession in the spring. In the removal of Mr. Chamberlin and family Nishnabotna township will lose more of their estimable people.

SCHLESWIG.

(From The Leader.)

Miss Nell Staininger of Denison is teaching the Koerner school since Monday.

Dr. Fuester sold his office and lot in Schleswig Monday to Fred Schultz, the consideration being $825.00.

The fire departments of Schleswig held a special meeting Wednesday night. The report of the financial committee on the dance held Thursday night of last week showed 149 tickets sold. After all expenses were paid the enterprise netted nearly $100, which is a little better than last year.

The Sons of Herman elected the following officers Wednesday night: President, A. J. Book; Vice-Pres., Henry Laumbach; Treasurer, H. D. Baeth; Financial Sec'y, Fred Jepsen; Recording Sec'y, R. S. Andresen; trustee, P. B. Jurgensen. Installation will be held sometime in January.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Girard was visited by chicken thieves one night last week and about 150 of the choicest birds were stolen. These chickens had but recently been set apart from the flock to be scored. There were 100 cockerels and 50 pullets and were worth from three to seven dollars each. We are informed that the intruders had better stay away from there in the future as a load of shot will surely greet them.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Andreas Bostian, Otter Creek township, Friday, Dec. 1st, a 10 pound girl.

Dr. Fuester went to Omaha Tuesday morning on a few days' visit with his daughter, Mrs. Will Clark. Richard, his son, went down Monday, to get a load of feeders and at the same time visit a few days.

District teachers meeting will be held in Schleswig Saturday, Dec. 16th, to which all teachers are requested to be present. Patrons of the schools are also invited. The papers and discussions will be instructive and entertaining. Supt. Hoffman will be present.

A deal was closed last Sunday whereby Wm. Pigras comes into possession of the Grafing hotel and saloon in Schleswig. Mr. Grafing sold or traded the property sometime ago to Mr. John Ehler for land and the latter sold it to Mr. Pigras, he also trading his farm on the deal. Mr. Pigras will hold a sale the latter part of this month and will take possession of the hotel January 1st. The property is a good one and we are sure Mr. Pigras will be successful in the managing of same.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mohr's little three-year-old daughter was severely scalded Monday evening at their home in Schleswig. Mrs. Mohr had a boiler of hot water on the stove and dipped out a pail full of it to thaw out the wash machine, setting the pail on the floor. She then turned to prepare the machine for the water and the little tot, in a playful way, while running, stumbled over the pail the contents of which fell over her. Her clothing was removed as fast as possible and a physician summoned. Her arm, one side and one leg were quite badly burned and the skin came off when the clothing was removed. However, she was soon resting easy and will recover, but it was a very close call for the little one and a frightful ordeal to the fond parents and grandparents.

VAIL.

(From The Observer.)

Mrs. Ed. Lane of Denison was in town Tuesday visiting relatives.

Frank Sherwood, R. McGuire, A. D. Servoss and J. B. Costello were passengers to Chamberlain, S. D., Monday night to see about registering for land there.

Rev. Richard Pughe of LeClare, Ia., has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at Vail and will be here next Sunday at the regular preaching hours. He will move his family here soon and will occupy the parsonage. We extend to them a cordial welcome to our midst.

Two of Vail's enterprising men, D. J. Maxwell and W. H. Wilroth, have purchased the business of the Denison Implement Co., which is located between the Germania Opera House and the Laub livery barn. We bespeak for them the success they deserve. They have the reputation of being honest and honorable in all dealings and both are hustlers.

Mrs. Bagley of Grand Junction, was a Thanksgiving visitor at the Dr. Ed. Darling home.

C. H. Beiser was taken before Judge Church at Denison and sentenced to a year at Mt. Pleasant, the water wagon institute.

Shortly after seven o'clock Wednesday evening fire was discovered in the barn of S. B. Rundlett, just west of town. When the hired help went to open the door it was seen that the whole inside of the building was ablaze and nothing could be gotten out. Eight horses and about that number of sets of harness were consumed by the flames; there was no insurance on either the barn or horses and the origin of the fire seems to be a mystery. A number of people went from town to assist in putting out the fire but their efforts were turned to saving the granary and corn cribs close at hand. The granary was badly scorched but did not burn. Mr. Rundlett was in Chicago at the time of the fire. We have not learned whether or not he will rebuild, but he will likely not do so until spring.

CHARTER OAK.

(From The Times.)

One of the principal social events of the season was the wedding that took place on Thanksgiving day at the C. T. Marshall home, when John C. Jacobsen and Martha E. Marshall joined hands "for better or worse." The day dawned bright and clear congratulatory to the occasion, and at 10 o'clock things were in readiness, and as Miss Maylou Richards rendered sweet and low strains of music upon the key board, the wedding party took their places under an arch of smilax. The bride, dressed daintily in white silk crepe de chine, was supported by her sister, Miss Mae, and both bride and maid of honor carried showers of roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Charles, cashier of the First State Bank in Mapleton. As the soft music died away, Rev. J. J. Bushnell, of Holstein spoke the words—the ties of eternity. The bride, the second youngest daughter of Mr. C. T. Marshall—one of the wealthiest farmers in this part of the state—is an accomplished and charming young lady of twenty summers. She has had the advantage of the schools of higher education and culture and is fully prepared for the duties of life as they devolve upon her. The groom is the oldest son of C. A. Jacobsen, is a prosperous citizen of Charter Oak, and the father of a family of bankers. All of the boys who have finished their education have responsible positions in banks. John—the groom—is cashier of the German Savings Bank of Ricketts, and does a thriving business there. As his financial position would indicate he has the perfect confidence of his friends and the community at large and has a bright future before him in the social and business world. After the ceremony was complete as congratulations were offered, the company sat down to a sumptuous repast elegantly prepared and served, at the close of which each guest was presented with a tiny box of bride's cake, but we refrain from telling the dreams. The young couple left for points in the West where they will remain for a few weeks. Their "at home" is announced for Dec. 20. The "small boys" and "little girls" had their jokes on the young people as they were leaving on the train. The next year's crop of rice was sown on the depot platform and fell upon the unproductive ear floor. Old shoes, handboxes appropriately decorated and variegated ornaments were given gratis by the friends at the depot. Their large number of friends wish them the best that life has and bid them bon voyage.

Mrs. S. C. Deter and her son and daughter, John, and Miss Anna, left Tuesday morning on a long journey to Wyoming, where they will make their home. Harry will remain in Charter Oak during the winter and joint he others in the West in the spring.

F. C. Brinker left Tuesday morning for a visit of three weeks with his wife and other friends in Kansas. What the people of Charter Oak will do without Fred's bright smile for three weeks we cannot tell, but surely we will enjoy it all the better when he gets back.

Louis Sdroke, brother of Wm. Noxsell, left Monday for Sioux City, thence to St. Paul, Duluth and out into northern Wisconsin, where his brother lives. He expects to spend the winter in the lumber woods and his return to Charter Oak in the spring depends upon what turns up for him in Wisconsin. While we would not wish him any bad luck, yet we hope to see him back here next summer.

Three prosperous Crawford countians of gothic lineage left this week for a winter visit with old friends in the Fatherland across the sea. Peter Reese started Friday and Fred Schoenfeldt and John Eck left Monday. They were to meet in Chicago and travel together on their long journey. The time of their home coming has not been set definitely, but they went expecting to spend about a month in the old country.

J. E. Waterhouse has "yumped his job" in the Herbison restaurant and Clate Romans is doing the cooking for the hungry multitude.

Miss Alice Arff came home Friday from her visit with the Misses Romans in Denison.

Carl Burke is acting as special salesman in the McWilliams drug store during the holiday rush. The managers of the Oak's Quartette have closed another important contract this week. It is with the Standard Lyceum Bureau of Ada, Indian Territory, for two weeks Chautauqua work and an option on three weeks more, the season to be spent in Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas, commencing July 18.

Dr. Hart was in Charter Oak Friday shaking hands with his many friends. He is interested in a telephone system in North Dakota with headquarters at Mandan. He says there is much development going on in that country at present, and a bright future seems in store. Several railroads are in course of construction, just built or under contract to be built. His company have constructed a number of good city exchanges this year and extended their toll lines many miles. They have several good lines in prospect for next year, so he will no doubt be busy.

By the way, here is a puzzle for the boys—he leaves his home in Bismark at 11:23 and reaches his office in Mandan at 10:38. How does he do it?

Miss James came over from Denison Tuesday to see her brother Sam.

Last Saturday was a bad day for John Meyers, son of Wm. Meyers. Like many others, he thought he would enjoy the day with gun and dogs hunting rabbits, little thinking that night would find him at the home of a neighbor, sorely wounded. In the afternoon his dogs began fighting and he laid his gun on the ground while he pulled them apart. In some way the dogs got on the gun, striking it in such a way as to discharge it. The load struck him in the leg above the knee tearing a furrow about four inches wide and eight inches long across the leg, almost severing the big muscle. He was taken to the home of A. R. Stodden and Dr. Waterhouse was phoned for. The doctor says the wound will heal quickly, but for some time there will be a numbness of the leg below the wound, cause by the searing of so many nerves. There may also be a weakness or stiffening of that muscle because so any fibers are broken.

King of All Cough Medicines.

Mr. E. G. Casle, a mail carrier of Canton Center, Conn., who has been in the U. S. Service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried all cough medicines for croup, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for coughs and colds, giving certain results and leaving no bad after effects." For sale by Ph. A. Schlumberger.
