

UNCLE JIMMIE DEAD

James Sheridan Passed Away on Sunday Morning

A WELL KNOWN CHARACTER

Every body in Crawford County Knew and loved the Kind Hearted Guardian of the Court House

Mr. James Sheridan, known to one and all as "Uncle Jimmie" died at his home on Railroad Avenue on Sunday morning. He had been in poor health for some time and of late had become discouraged about himself and had told his friends that he had not much longer to live.

For a number of years "Uncle Jimmie" was the custodian of the court house and in this way he became known to nearly all the people of the county. He had the wit of his native land and was always ready with a repartee that went right to the spot. There was not a particle of malice and beneath the rugged exterior there was as warm a heart as ever beat beneath the breast of the true-hearted sons of the Emerald Isle.

It was his quaint and original humor that suggested the series of articles published in the Review at different times anent county politics, though it is but fair to say that he was above all things true to his party and his friends and that he furnished none of the material for the articles.

Mr. Sheridan will be greatly missed by every man who has business at the court house, but this shows but one side of a man who was faithful, kind to his family and an industrious hard-working man all his life.

Mr. Sheridan not only loved his family dearly but he was greatly beloved by them. The death of his son, John, in September, 1900, was a great blow to him and it was noticed by all his friends that after that time his health failed rapidly and that he had lost a great deal of his joy in living. While not rich in this world's goods, Uncle Jimmie was rich in his unflinching good-humor, his integrity and his numberless friends. He had hoped to be the custodian of the new court house, and we would like to have seen him there. It was not to be, but we know that it will be many years before the memory of him fades and that that memory will always be a kindly one. For ourselves, we were glad to be numbered among "Uncle Jimmie's" friends, for while he liked nothing better than a vigorous opponent he hated smallness and hypocrisy and he was quick to recognize the good or bad qualities either in friend or foe. Should all of us perform our parts as conscientiously and as well as he did we need have no fear of the Great Beyond.

Mr. Sheridan was born in County Armagh, Ireland and was sixty-five years of age at the time of his death. He came to America when a lad of sixteen living at first in Lee County Ill., where he worked on a farm. He was married in 1855 to the loving, faithful wife who now survives him. Of their family but two daughters, Mrs. Mary Coan and Mrs. Sarah Eggers, both of Denison, survive him. He came to Iowa about thirty years ago, working until 1885 in Dunlap, he then moved to this city where he has since resided. Funeral services were held at St. Rose of Lima church on Tuesday at 10:00 a. m., Rev. Father M. J. Farrelly officiating. The services were attended by a large number of old friends and his remains were laid to rest in the old Catholic cemetery. So passes from us one of our best known citizens, a man who was faithful in all things.

OUR CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

Alfred Wright, the republican candidate for mayor is so well known to Denison people that comment upon his life and work seems almost unnecessary. He was born in Waverly, Iowa, in 1868, and removed with his parents to Denison in 1876 living here for five years, while his father was rector of Trinity church. He received a collegiate education at Iowa college in Grinnell, graduating from that excellent institution in 1890. The following year he returned to Crawford county teaching a year in the rural schools and then accepting a position with the Green Bay Lumber Company. For a number of years he was manager of the Green Bay interests in Vail and he was one of the most popular men of that community. In 1899 he was transferred to Denison and for the past seven years he has had charge of the Green Bay's large business interests in this city. During these years he has shown himself to be one of the strongest young business men of the city. Whenever the business men have wanted a committee of energy and strength and executive ability to carry on some project, Alfred Wright has been one of the members and he has perhaps done as much if not more of this work for the common good than any other of our citizens during the past seven years. He is an ardent republican, but he has a host of democratic friends who like him for his fairness and integrity. He has been Chairman of the Republican county central committee and in this position he showed great force and business ability. He was one of the founders of the Denison Commercial club and is its present efficient secretary. His business ability is proven by the fact that he has held responsible position with a large company for fifteen consecutive years. He has the confidence of the entire business community and his word is as good as a bond. He is a straightforward man, one who knows his own mind and is not afraid to have his own opinion and to stick by it until he is proven wrong.

For many years he has made a home for his aged parents and he has shown himself competent and willing to meet all the responsibilities of life. He is kind-hearted and true and trustworthy. He is energetic, has excellent judgment and experience in contracts of every kind and in this respect is just the man the city needs to meet the problems now confronting it. He is just the man to be at the helm when Denison is about to step into the rank of larger cities. Except for his college and school days he has been a resident of Crawford county. He knows not only the people of Denison but of all the county. There is no hypocrisy, no sham about him. He will make as good a mayor, as fearless a mayor, as energetic a mayor, as upright, law-abiding and law-upholding a mayor as Denison has ever had. He has given liberally of his time and of his money to all that has been helpful to Denison. He has given liberally of his time and of his money to the republican party of Crawford county. He deserves nothing but the best either from the people of Denison as a whole or from his party associates. He will be the next mayor of Denison, and he will be a mayor of whom every citizen will be proud and in whom every man will find a personal friend.

FORM NEW PARTNERSHIP

Green and Son are now Proprietors of Denison Brick Works

As a just recognition of the faithfulness, efficiency and ability of his son, Mr. C. Green has made him a partner in the Denison Brick Works, one of Denison's oldest and most reliable institutions. Mr. Green has built up a large business. He is one of the few men who has taken his high Christian principles into his work with him and the result is that he has built up a business reputation beyond reproach. His son Arthur knows every branch of the business and is well prepared to enter into and to continue its affairs. Too often we see the son drifting away from the father and the business he has established by long effort, and it is a real pleasure to record a case where father and son work hand in hand. There can be nothing but success ahead of the new firm which is now better prepared than ever before to turn out good brick and plenty of them.

HABIT IS TOO STRONG

John Carey Cannot Overcome Office Seeking Habit

WILL MAKE RACE FOR MAYOR

Democrats Will Have No Non-Partisanship In Theirs and Place Full Ticket In Field

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.
For Mayor, John T. Carey
For Solicitor, E. K. Burch
For Treasurer, C. J. Kemming
For Assessor, M. N. Smith

ALDERMEN.
First ward, Frank Paul
Second ward, J. H. Jones
Third ward, P. M. Lane

The democratic caucuses last night were fairly well attended. Mayor Carey had managed to keep the democrats in the dark as to his intention up to the last moment and many were present hoping that he would not run and that they would have a chance to vote for their favorites. When it came to the pinch, however, Mr. Carey decided not to break his record of never declining nomination and after being "sufficiently urged" he accepted. E. K. Burch was nominated for city solicitor, a position which he has sought with out avail full many a time and oft. He proved to be the orator of the occasion and tried to instill some life into the well nigh hopeless situation. So high did the spirit of partisanship run that a complete ticket was named through not a man in town can say anything against C. L. Voss as treasurer or our splendid assessor, A. J. Bond.

C. J. Kemming was pitted against Voss and M. N. Smith against Juddie.

The ward caucuses were tame affairs as except in the second there is absolutely no hope for victory. Frank Paul was named to lead the forlorn hope in the First ward and P. M. Lane was put up to be slaughtered by "Hans" Thiem. In the second ward J. H. Jones who had flirted with the nomination much as Carey did, concluded to accept and this put the other hopeful ones out of the running. It is a mistake for any candidate not to state his position clearly and then stand by it. It is not fair to others to encourage them to become candidates as was done in these two cases and then on the last day to about face and place others in an embarrassing position.

In reality the democrats hope to elect but two men on their ticket, Carey and Jones, although some of the more sanguine ones hope that the popularity of these two will pull the rest of the ticket through. It is up to the republicans now to stand firmly in line and show our democratic friends that Denison is a republicana town, and that while they may be willing to join in a non-partisan movement at times they do not expect either John Carey or the democratic party to hog it all the time.

A TAME SCHOOL ELECTION

No Opposition Developed to Caucus Nominees and But Few Votes are Cast

The school election passed off very quietly. On Monday forenoon there were rumors that an opposition ticket would be placed in the field but those spoken of declined to allow the use of their names and the vote though light was unanimous. Last year there was a demand for a citizens caucus for the nomination of school directors and there was a feeling that the caucus having been held in accordance with this desire, the men so nominated should be allowed a clear field. There were fewer votes cast at the election than at the caucus. Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Romans who were re-elected have both shown great interest in the schools and Denison has reason for nothing but pride in its school system. We congratulate the re-elected members in the vote of confidence which they received from the people.

RANDALL & BOYLAN

"The Sure Cure Watch Doctors"

Denison, Iowa.

DR. WILLIAM ISEMINGER.

The first time we read Ian M'Claren's wonderful book, "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," and laughed and wept, rejoiced and sorrowed with Dr. Weelum M'Clure we thought at once of Dr. Weelum Iseminger of Denison. And every time we have read the little volume, and it is one of the books of which one never tires, the good old Scotch physician stood before us in the person of the pioneer Denison Doctor, a man who we know possesses all those qualities which have been immortalized in literature by Dr. Watson. Thirty and forty years ago the work of a practicing physician, always hard, was infinitely harder than at present. It meant tremendous drives over well-nigh trackless prairies, it meant cold and exposure and oft-times hunger for the sturdy doctor. The people were poor and the fees were small. There was little chance for consultation and in the battle of life and death the physician had no reinforcements upon which he might call. There were no telephones by which miles of weary travel might be saved, there was very little that was attractive save the sense of duty well performed. It was under such circumstances that Dr. Iseminger won the undying love and esteem of this community, an affection from which nothing can detract.

He managed during those years to save a little money and with good judgment he invested his savings in the then cheap lands of Crawford county. The rise in values has enabled the doctor to retire in later years to well-earned ease, secure, beyond all peradventure in the love of all his fellow-citizens. Doctor Iseminger is a republican of republicans, stalwart in every emergency, faithful and true as the stars in their course. Some time ago he was approached by a number of old-time residents and asked to be a candidate for mayor on the republican ticket. His reply was that if it was the unanimous wish of the republicans he would accept, but that under no circumstances would he seek the nomination. Dr. Iseminger found that there was another, a young man, the brother of his old friend and fellow worker, Dr. W. T. Wright, who was a candidate for the office. Dr. Iseminger realized that to a young man the office might mean very much. That it might be a stepping stone, an encouragement, an honor and a responsibility that would affect the whole course of another's life. Dr. Iseminger realized that to him it meant very little. His place in the community was secure. He did not need the financial income of the office and while he appreciated the honor and the confidence in him displayed by his many friends, his big heart and his kindness prompted him to give the young man a clear and open field. This is the story of the republican nomination for Mayor. Mr. Wright became a candidate, not in malice or in spite for anyone, but prompted by the very legitimate ambition to better his condition in life, and urged thereto by a large number of young republicans who know that in more ways than one there is not a "whiter," more level-headed, more trustworthy young man in Denison. On the other hand we see the magnanimity of the veteran republican who did not wish for a moment to stand in the way of worthy youth. This is the kind of a man Dr. Iseminger is, the kind of a man he always has been and we know enough of him to know that with his withdrawal went his encouragement and support for the republican nominee.

This is the season of listlessness, headaches and spring disorders. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is a sure preventative. Makes you strong and vigorous. 35c, Tea or Tablets.
