

San Francisco In Ruins

ery tongues of flame licking the stone walls. At first no impression was made, but suddenly there was a crackling of glass, and an entrance was effected. The interior furnishings of the fourth floor were the first to go. Then, as if by magic, smoke issued from the top of the dome. This was followed by a most spectacular illumination. The round windows of the dome shone like so many full moons; they burst and gave vent to long, wailing streamers of flame. The great structure, which had withstood the forces of the earthquake, appeared doomed to fall a prey to fire. After a while the light grew less intense, and the flames having nothing more to consume, went out, leaving the building standing, but completely gutted.

Buildings Burn Like Tinder.
The Parrott building, in which were located the chambers of the state supreme court, the lower floors being devoted to an immense department store, was ruined, but its massive walls were not all destroyed. A little farther down Market street the Academy of Sciences and the Jennie Flood buildings and the History building burned like so much tinder. Sparks carried across the wide street, ignited the Phelan building and the army headquarters of the Department of California were burned.

Still nearing the bay, the waters of which did the firemen good service, along the docks, the fire took the Rialto building, a handsome skyscraper, and converted scores of solid business blocks into smouldering piles of bricks.

Banks and commercial houses, supposed to be fireproof, though not of modern build burned quickly and the roar of the flames could be heard even on the hills which were out of the danger zone. Here many thousands of people congregated and witnessed the awful scene. Great masses of flame rose high in the heavens or rushed down some narrow street, joining midway between the sidewalks and making a horizontal chimney of the former ways.

The dense smoke that arose from the entire business district spread out like an immense funnel and could have been seen for miles out at sea. Occasionally, as some drug house or place stored with chemicals was reached, most fantastic effects were produced by the colored flames and smoke which rolled out against the darkened background.

Palace and Grand Hotels Gone.
All efforts to prevent the fire from reaching the Palace and Grand hotels were unsuccessful, and both were completely destroyed, together with all their contents.

All of San Francisco's best play houses, including the Majestic, Columbia, Orpheum, and Grand opera house, are a mass of ruins. The earthquake demolished them for all practical purposes and the fire completed the work of destruction. The handsome Rialto and Cassery buildings were burned to the ground, as was everything in that district.

Chinatown Destroyed.
In the northern section of the downtown business section the fire swept around the Hall of Justice and communicated to Chinatown, thence proceeding westward into the heart of that colony. It then began rapidly eating its way southward on both sides of Kearney street.

One of the big losses of the day was the destruction of St. Ignatius church and college, at Van Ness avenue and Hayes street. This was the greatest Jesuitical institution in the west and was built at a cost of a couple of million dollars.

At 7 p. m. the fire had swept from the south side of the town across Market street into the district called the Western addition, and was burning houses at Golden Gate avenue and Octavia. This result was reached after almost the southern district, from Ninth street to the eastern water front, had been converted into a blackened waste. In the section were hundreds of factories, wholesale houses and many business firms, in addition to thousands of homes.

In the south side district on Rincon hill, St. Mary's hospital, a landmark, constructed by the Sisters of Mercy, was reduced to ashes.

The Merchants' Exchange building, one of the handsomest and most substantial edifices in the city, is in flames, as is also the Crocker-Woolworth bank building. The former building is a fourteen-story structure.

Cliff House Wiped Out.
From the Cliff house comes word that the great pleasure resort and show place of the city, which stood upon a foundation of solid rock, has been swept into the sea. Not a thing stands to tell where the monster stone building once stood. It has been levelled to the foundation, and only the rock lining the sea coast is intact.

In Union Square park, where a number of homeless are being given temporary shelter, the mighty Dewey monument has been shifted from its base. It now stands leaning at an angle of ten degrees and there is danger of the immense stone structure falling.

Ashes Again Falling.
Naples, April 19.—Volcanic ash is again falling at Santa Anastasia, Somma and Garcola in such quantities that the inhabitants who had returned to their homes have been obliged to leave again. The inhabitants of Ottajano, in spite of advice to the contrary, have decided to rebuild the village on its old site.

COAST CITIES WRECKED

SANTA ROSA, SAN JOSE AND SANTA CRUZ SUFFER SEVERELY.

DEATH LIST REPORTED LARGE

Buildings of Leland Stanford University Demolished—Agnews Insane Asylum a Total Wreck and Over Two Hundred Inmates Killed.

Los Angeles, April 19.—Reports from districts outside of San Francisco indicate widespread damage by the earthquake.

At San Jose, the Vendome hotel annex was badly wrecked and ten or fifteen people killed. The Doherty block was completely burned and one woman killed. Dr. DeGrow was killed and his wife badly injured. Every business building was demolished. Martial law has been declared and the militia and 500 deputies are guarding the streets. It is estimated that fifty people have been killed. The postoffice was partly wrecked, the Presbyterian church totally demolished and the court house wrecked.

Passengers arriving from other cities in California bring tales of death and disaster from Santa Cruz, Monterey, Gilroy and Hollister. The death list at Santa Cruz is reported large. Santa Rosa is a total wreck, and 10,000 people are homeless. The loss of life will probably reach hundreds. Main street is piled many feet deep with fallen buildings. Not one business building is left intact. The four-story court house is a pile of broken masonry, destroyed by fire. Citizens fled to the fields and hills to watch the destruction of the city. The water system was destroyed by the earthquake.

Supervisor Fred Horner of Oakland, who returned from San Jose in his automobile, states that the Agnews insane asylum near that city, is a total wreck; that many of the inmates were killed and that the remainder are running around loose, terrorizing the community. The superintendent of the institution and his wife were both killed.

Dr. Stone, superintendent of the Napa state hospital, telephones that an automobile arrived there with news that Santa Rosa is in ruins, and that between 200 and 300 people are killed.

Stanford university and Palo Alto suffered. At Stanford many of the handsome buildings were demolished and two people were killed. One of them was Julius Robert Hanna of Bradford, Pa., and the other was Otto Gurtis, a fireman. Six other students are lying in the Palo Alto hospital with bruises, cuts and internal injuries.

A dispatch from Milpitas says that the state hospital is damaged and useless and that Dr. Kelly is killed. The number of injured is unknown. It is asked that physicians and nurses be sent there.

A long distance telephone message from Salinas, 114 miles south of San Francisco, gave the following information:

"One hundred and twenty bodies have been taken out of the Agnews insane asylum and there are probably 150 more corpses in the ruins. The magnificent structure was demolished. Eight dead Italians were taken out of the Italian hotel at San Jose. At that place the Presbyterian church, St. Patrick's cathedral and the high school were destroyed. The new Hall of Justice at San Jose, just completed at a cost of $300,000, was demolished. All but two of the university buildings at Stanford are in ruins. At Loma Prieta, eighteen miles from Santa Cruz, a mine house slipped down the side of a mountain, burying ten men in the ruins."

NO CONNECTION WITH VESUVIUS

Scientists Discuss Probable Cause of California Disaster.

Washington, April 19.—The possible relation of the earthquake in San Francisco to the eruption of Mount Vesuvius formed the subject of much discussion among scientists in this city. None of them was willing to advance any argument which would tend to connect one with the other. In fact, the officials of the geological survey declared that there was no relationship whatever, both being local.

Professor G. W. Hayes, director of geology of the geological survey, said: "The San Francisco disturbances are due to the slipping of the surface rocks to adjust themselves to changed conditions inside the earth. They have no relationship whatever to the eruption of Vesuvius. The interior of the earth is in a molten state, except in the region of the volcanoes, but if you go down a distance of sixty or seventy miles the rocks are practically in a fluid state from the immense pressure on top of them. They act like a liquid and they flow to adjust themselves to changed conditions. But when you come nearer the surface, where the strata are hard and brittle, the slipping of a part of the earth's crust along the line of a fault will give you just the conditions that attended the attack in San Francisco. The old earth, take it as a whole, is a very uneasy body, and is in a state of constantly changing equilibrium. When the foundations dip down there has to be an adjustment of the surface, like the breaking up of ice on a river, and a readjustment of the blocks to each other. This is evidently what has just happened on the coast."

Arion

A very pleasant surprise party was given Mrs. Levi Green Wednesday afternoon. Her daughter Mrs. J. L. Larson of Rodney planned and carried it out perfectly in the way of a surprise. About twenty ladies were invited and met at the home of Mrs. Valdo Talcott, and between two and three o'clock took possession of Green Hotel. It was one of the most social gatherings held in Arion. The ladies did not forget to leave tokens of remembrances. The refreshments were elegant, prepared by Mrs. Larson. Mrs. Byers of Sioux City and Mrs. Lawson of Dunlap were the out of town guests.

The Easter exercises given at the Congregational church Sunday evening were well attended. The choir rendered some good music. Each class was represented and showed care in training. Miss Howarth our primary teacher assisted in the work which reflected great credit to her ability with the primary grade. After the exercises Rev. Freedline made some very appropriate remarks. He spoke a few words in behalf of the Japanese. A collection was taken up and a neat little sum at once forwarded. He said that immediately after it reached New York City the message would be cabled across the ocean and those who are so much in need of food will at once be supplied. It is gratifying to know that this work is carried on so speedily.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Nelson were guests at the pleasant home of Sam Fox last Sunday.

Ira Tripp of Schleswig visited with his parents one day last week, it being his birthday anniversary. For several years this has been his custom and the parents look forward to his annual visits with pleasure. Owing to the construction of a new bridge over Buck Creek, mail carrier Corey has not been able to reach all who are on his route.

Fleet and Hillas Fox went to South Dakota with two cars of stock, but were detained several hours here, receiving word that owing to a severe blizzard no stock cars could be taken going to Dakota. The boys are energetic and honest and their friends wish them success in their new home.

W. A. Matlock the North-western depot agent left Arion Tuesday for Loudon where he received a better position. Mrs. Matlock and children will soon move also. They have lived here three years and have a wide circle of acquaintances and friends. It is not yet known who will take his place here, but we trust that he will make as good a citizen as Mr. Matlock.

A social was held at Hotel Arion last Friday evening. Good refreshments were served and everyone enjoyed themselves hugely.

Alf Larson was in Arion Thursday.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION

To the Republicans of the Counties of Calhoun, Carroll, Crawford, Greene, Ida, and Sac, in the State of Iowa:

Notice is hereby given that there will be a delegate Judicial Convention for the sixteenth Judicial District of Iowa, held at Carroll Iowa on the 4th day of May, 1906, at 11 o'clock A. At such convention, the counties will be entitled to representation as follows: One delegate at large and one delegate for every two hundred votes or fraction over one hundred votes cast for W. B. Martin for Secretary of state in 1904, which is as follows:

Calhoun 13 delegates; Carroll, 12 delegates; Crawford 13 delegates; Greene, 14 delegates; Ida, 9 delegates; Sac, 14 delegates. Judicial Committee of the 16th Judicial District of Iowa.

THE MUSICAL TASTE.

Not all of us are born with a talent for music and if we are not there is mighty little use in trying to cultivate one. There is still less use in trying to pretend that you are a great lover of music when you are not. Some people seem to think it is a disgrace not to have a musical ear. We cannot see it that way. It is no more of a disgrace not to have a taste for music than it is not to have a taste for cucumbers. It is too bad; you are missing something good in both cases, but it is no disgrace.

Strange too, the man who does not like cucumbers is the first to tell of it. He rather brags about it. But the man who can't tell B flat from Mezzo soprano, will suffer through hours of "high grade" music rather than confess it. The concert given on Tuesday night was a take as far as being "Grand Opera" was concerned. The "scenes in costume" failed to materialize in any noticeable extent, although it is fortunately true that costumes were worn. The music rendered by the Italian prima donna with the Campanina name was excellent however and the violinist was par excellence. Had it been advertised as an operatic concert or recital it would have filled the bill admirably, as it was our people were greatly disappointed. It was high grade music. If you did not like it there is no harm done, but it was high grade music just the same.

OBITUARY.

Another aged lady passed away. Mrs. Sarah Brogden, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Mary Prentice near Clayton, Wis., April 5, 1906. She was born July 31, 1820 at Wooster, New York and at the time of her death was 85 years, 8 months and 5 days old. Miss Sarah Sears was united in marriage to Samuel Brogden of Cleveland, Ohio Sept. 9, 1849. From Cleveland they moved to Aurora, Ill. where Mr. Brogden died March 19, 1859. She leaves four children to mourn her loss Charles W. of Los Angeles, Cal. Frank R. of Boone, Ia. Orlando C. of Nelegh, Neb., and Mary Prentice with whom she has resided for the last 25 years. In early life she was united with the Methodist Episcopal church of which she has since been a faithful member. She was a sister-in-law of Joseph Brogden of Denison lately deceased. She leaves a host of relatives and friends in and around Denison to mourn her loss.

THE BAPTIST EASTER

The services on Easter were largely attended at the First Baptist church. The music was rendered by the Baptist choir and was of a high order. The anthem "Christ Our Passover" by Chappel, was especially well sung as was also the difficult rendition of Hallelujah Chorus by Handel, in the morning service. Mrs. Lou Martin sang the solo, from Handel, "He Shall Feed His Flock," receiving many warm expressions of delight and appreciation.

The sermons by Pastor Stull were referred to in terms of highest praise. The subject in the morning was, "The Exaltation of Christ," in the evening "Seeking the Living Among the Dead." The Communion at the morning hour was one of the largest of many years, and three new members received the hand of fellowship. The altar was tastefully decorated with cut and potted plants and the day was highly satisfactory and complimentary in every way, so far as could be observed. The pastor will have special themes for next Sunday, making special announcements.

A. W. C. T. U. Meeting.

On April 12, the Women's Christian Temperance Union met at McKim Reading Room with the Non-Partisan, W. C. T. U. by special invitation.

There was a good attendance in spite of the rain and an interesting and profitable meeting was held. Mrs. Plimpton, who is often called the "Mother of the Denison W. C. T. U." was the guest of honor. In her talk, at the close of the program, she spoke of the days when she was active in the work in this county and of those who were co-workers with her at that time. Then, speaking of the work in her present home state—Colorado—she gave some new ideas on the suffrage question from the standpoint of one who speaks from experience. While, as she says, the right to vote has not enabled the women to put down all evil in Colorado it has made it possible for them to correct much that is evil and they expect to accomplish more and more each year.

All were glad to have Mrs. Plimpton present at this meeting and to hear her helpful words. Mrs. Cassidy, as president of the other organization, most cordially tendered the use of their room for all future meetings of the W. C. T. U. Altogether the meeting was very enjoyable and foreshadowed the spirit that will prevail at the convention next fall when both organizations will be united as one.

Refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour followed.

Governor Folk certainly has the best wishes of all good people in his effort to punish the lynchers at Springfield, Missouri. The only way that state can redeem its good name is by some legal hangings. The fact that two of the negroes lynched at Springfield Missouri are said to have been innocent only adds to the possibility that two more negroes will be lynched. The Review would like friend Pettis to correspond with his clerical friend and find out what he thinks of the Springfield lynching.

GAVE AN EASTER CANTATA.

Methodist Choir Excels Itself In Presenting "The Easter King"

The music lovers of Denison and there are many, enjoyed a rare treat at the Methodist church on Easter evening when the choir under the leadership of Mr. B. J. Sibbert rendered the beautiful cantata, "The Easter King." The chorus work was fine and showed a great amount of work and preparation. The solo parts were taken by Mrs. B. J. Sibbert, Mrs. H. A. Boyle, Miss Grace Van Ness and Mr. B. J. Sibbert and were of especial excellence. The quartette composed of Mrs. Sibbert, Miss Clara McAhren, Prof. Humphreys and Mr. Sibbert fairly captivated the congregation. The church was very handsomely decorated with flowers and plants and the attendance at both the morning and evening services was large. The roster of the choir was as follows:

Sopranos: Mrs. Dr. Boyle, Mrs. A. F. Boylan, Miss Junia Romans, Miss Lillie Raine, Mrs. P. W. Harding, Miss Mabel Merrill, Miss Ethel Gulick, Mrs. B. J. Sibbert.

Altos: Mrs. D. W. McAhren, Miss Grace Van Ness, Miss Edna Raine, Miss Schneckloth, Miss Clara McAhren.

Bases: Prof. Humphreys, W. C. Van Ness, D. W. McAhren, John Maloney.

Tenors: E. C. Chamberlin, B. J. Sibbert.

GOOD ROADS PRIZES

Will Be Awarded at Denison's Great Fourth of July Celebration.

One of the features of the Fourth of July celebration is to be the presentation of the $50.00 prize offered by the Denison Commercial Club for the best mile of road worked by the King drag the past year. The prize was well earned by Mr. Jas Rollins of East Boyer who has made a good road where before it was nearly always in bad condition. This piece of road should be an object lesson to all the farmers of the county. The Commercial Club has also made awards to Mr. Bair and Mr. Bauman both of Denison township for work done on the roads although they did not comply with the conditions of the prize offer.

For next year the Club offers prizes of $25.00, $15.00, and $10.00 for the best half mile of road worked by the King drag system, within seven miles of Denison. No one should need any extra inducement to keep the roads in good condition but it is offered by the Commercial Club. The prizes will be presented during the Fourth of July Celebration at Denison.

FOUR THOUSAND SHORT

More Than $46,000.00 Has Been Raised For the Denison Enterprises. Pinch Comes Now

The committee to raise funds for the erection of the hotel, opera house and hospital reports to us this afternoon that it is still about $4,000. short of the required fifty thousand. It will be necessary to raise this sum before work can be commenced on any of the projects and it is up to the citizens of Denison to do it. The committee thinks that it can count on from fifteen hundred to two thousand dollars to be raised. This seems like a small sum but it must be remembered that all the principal sources have been drained.

This is the time for the men who can not afford large stock subscriptions to come to the rescue. If you can subscribe ten dollars, do it now. You will surely get that much benefit from these public improvements. To be exact the amount now raised is $46,020.00. The committee is considering the plan of holding a mass meeting to consider plans for pushing the subscriptions up to the fifty thousand dollar line.
