WERE MOST HAPPILY WED.

Well Known Young People United Their Lives on Wednesday

On Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Garber was the scene of a quiet but none the less happy wedding, when their daughter Irene was married to Mr. Richard Lillieholm. Rev. Arthur Pratt performed the impressive ceremony before the members of the families and a few intimate friends. After the vows had been spoken and congratulations had been received, the wedding party partook of delicious refreshments. The young people took the evening train for Omaha and other cities to the west. After their return they will be at home at their farm northeast of Denison. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lillieholm who are among the most prominent and prosperous residents of Milford township. He is a young man of high character, exemplary habits and an intelligent and industrious worker. The handsome bride is well known both in Denison and vicinity. She is a graduate of our high school and for several years has been a successful teacher in our rural schools and is well equipped to share the hardships as well as the pleasures of life.

The Review wishes them the utmost joy in their new relation and is glad to note that Crawford county is to be their home.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gulick gave a very charming little dinner a compliment to Mrs. Ray Garrison. The friends had a very pleasant evening.

Tuesday night Miss Anna Schlumberger was hostess in honor of Miss Irene Garber. The young ladies gave her a china shower and as the affair was a complete surprise they enjoyed her pleasure very much. Each package had its message in rhyme and they were very clever. Miss Mary Wrigley of Fremont Ohio was one of the honored guests. The Misses Schlumberger served very nice refreshments and in every way made the evening a very pleasant one for their guests.

A GREAT CIRCUS DAY.

Wallace Bros. Have Big Patronage and Give First Class Show.

Thursday was a big day in Denison, showing that the circus never fails to draw a crowd. The parade given by Wallace Bros., was a distinct disappointment as it had been heralded as something out of the ordinary. The circus was very good. Many of the acts were new and difficult and elicited great applause. The races were the most realistic we have ever seen in a circus tent. In truth they were too realistic, no less than three accidents occurring to performers during the afternoon. The driver in the chariot race was so seriously injured that that race was omitted from the evening performance. The only blemish on the show was the wholesale grafting reported, for which the management must have been largely responsible. The two ticket wagon dodge was worked and hundreds of people were mugged out of a dime a piece on this racket. It is a very petty piece of robbery and the next time a license is granted a circus it should distinctly provide that there should be but one price to all. It is further reported that a gambling game was run in the menagerie tent and there were dozens of cases of short changing reported although such reports are apt to be exaggerated. Wallace Bros. give a good show and it would seem that for their own reputation they should cut out the graft.

WALKER-ELY.

Miss Elsie Walker and D. B. Ely were quietly married Wednesday evening at Cumberland Presbyterian church. Rev. Hamp McLeskey officiating. Miss Walker and Mr. Ely, accompanied by a few intimate friends went to the church about 8 o'clock where they were married before the mid-week prayer service begun. The wedding was quite a surprise to most of the young couple's friends.

The bride is the youngest daughter of deputy sheriff Jesse Walker. She is a very pretty and accomplished young lady. Her sweet, amiable disposition has endeared her to a large circle of friends.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ely, of Denison, Ia. His early life was spent in Denison. Some five years ago Mr. Ely came to Fulton and accepted a position with the American Express Co. By close attention to business he has worked his into the much coveted run between Fulton and New Orleans. Mr. Ely owns considerable stock in the Fulton Manufacturing Co's. whip stock factory, one of the best paying institutions in the city. With the assistance of the ideal helpmate he has selected we predict that Mr. Ely will some day become one of Fulton's leading capitalists. The young people are now at home to their friends on Fourth street at the residence of J. S. Lovelace.—Fulton Kentucky, Leader.

No State Law Against a Noisy Fourth.

A wrong impression has been created throughout Iowa by the fact that Representative O'Hill's bill to stop the sale of Cannon Crackers and Toy Pistols passed the House at the last legislature. The bill did not pass in the Senate and is not a law as many suppose. Iowa people can have all the noise and fireworks they want this Fourth of July, the impression to the contrary notwithstanding.

WAS BADLY SINGED.

While burning some rubbish about their beautiful new home Mrs. Philbrook was quite badly burned about the head and face, her hair and eyebrows were singed but fortunately her eyes escaped. A bunch of oily waste that had been used in polishing the wood work was the cause of the sudden blaze. Mrs. Philbrook's many friends are glad that she suffered no serious injury.

ABOUT COUNTY POLITICS.

Democrats are embarrassed by a wealth of candidates. Our democratic friends find that they have more timber for county officers than they know what to do with. About the only office that is going a-begging is the nomination for State Senator. In this case Carey and Caswell are standing like Alphonse and Gaston saying politely "After you, my dear." Both of them want the nomination for representative and are willing that the other should take the empty honor of a senatorial nomination. John Cook is also said to have his eye on the nomination for Representative although it is probable that he will be satisfied with the nomination for another term as supervisor.

Both Mike Collins and Frank Faul are in training to run again for the offices of Auditor and Clerk for which they were defeated at the last election. Theo. Kuhl will not be a candidate for re-nomination, so it is understood, although since the recent decision in his suit against Chamberlain and Bell, he may ask it again to re-coup his losses. Meehan will be a candidate for Sheriff but Hank Cummings is said to be camping on his trail with a good show to win. Mr. Cummings has compromised several times before and may be prevailed upon to do so this time however.

There are reports that Collins and Faul will not have smooth sailing for their nominations and that other candidates are in training, on the theory that they have had enough, were defeated and should give someone else a show.

Shaw Van will get the nomination for county attorney. He has been the most persistent candidate for this office of any man in the history of Crawford county, and it appears that he is to be rewarded. On account of his hostile attitude to different democratic candidates at the polls in times past, however, he will not get the hearty support of all democrats. We are informed that Mr. H. C. Schroeder will not be a candidate for supervisor. He has been on the board a long time and is said to have concluded that he has had enough. This will not be bad news to republicans as Mr. Schroeder is regarded as the strongest member the democrats have on the board. Molter, Ahart and Cook, providing he cannot get the Representative place on the ticket, will all be candidates for re-nomination. Hoffman is slated for another nomination as Superintendent. This will give places for but few new men on the ticket and three is apt to be rebellion in the ranks if the slate goes through as now arranged. Theo. Rohver a banker of Schleswig has his eye on the treasurership and will be nominated if Kuhl is not in the race.

As to the minor offices very little has been said and there are no candidates in the field so far as we can learn.

The republicans are having easier sailing. It seems to be the unanimous judgment that the republicans now in office should be accorded another term, for the most part they have held but one term and it is felt that they deserve re-nomination on the records they have made. For representative we have heard no names mentioned although there are a number of good men available.

For treasurer the Review has heard frequent mention of Mr. U. G. Johnson who is one of the thoroughly representative business men of Denison. He has a splendid record in every way, as a business man, as a citizen and as a hard working reliable republican who has never been known to sulk in his tent and who has been one of the most effective workers we have had in Denison politics. He would make an ideal candidate should he decide to have his name presented.

For sheriff there appears to be a good field. McAhren of Denison and Meisner of Schleswig are said to be tentative candidates, with a possibility that Ryan and Mills may enter along with A. J. Kelly of West Side. Surely out of such a field a successful candidate can be named. Henry Maynard will undoubtedly be placed on the ticket to succeed himself a year from next January. We understand that under the new law he will complete his original term of three years, but that a successor must be elected at the next election to take office in January 1908 and to serve one year. We think there will be little disposition on the part of any of the voters not to accord him this short term. The Review does not know of any candidates for the other four places on the board of supervisors although there seems to be a splendid opportunity for republicans to win these offices. It is time however that republicans all over the county began thinking of good men for nomination and suggestions are distinctly in order.

DEMOCRATIC RESOLUTIONS.

Wholesale Denunciations Sadly Out of Tune With Prosperity.

The democrats of Crawford county in convention assembled, hereby affirm their allegiance to old time democratic principles, and congratulate the party in the fact that time has shown the truth of Democratic claims regarding the high tariff policy of this government, and has demonstrated the wisdom and good judgment of our grand democratic leaders who have voiced the reforms needed by the people and have stood heroically by their party principles.

We commend the republican party for having in it so many statesmen who agree with democratic principles to such an extent as to participate in a steal of the recent democratic platforms, plank by plank, and especially is it gratifying to hear good sound democratic principles advocated openly by such republicans as Theodore Roosevelt and Governor Cummins. We invite such men to join the democratic party which always stands for just and judicious reforms and for the rights of the common people against all corporations and monopolies which seek to usurp the powers of government and to entrench themselves in graft and conscienceless robbery.

The high tariff of this county must and will be revised to enlarge our export trade and benefit the producing classes of the country instead of protecting and fostering only certain special manufacturing interests now known as trusts. This will never be done by the friends of the tariff, and the voters of such a program should join the democratic party to secure this and other great reforms.

The republican fight over the governorship in this state has revealed such a state of political corruption and rascality as no self respecting party can afford to endorse. The bold and flagrant buying of delegates, manipulating of caucuses and conventions through the expenditure of money and otherwise, the awful abuses of the franchise privilege as revealed by republican evidence alone, and by evidence printed openly and boldly in the press of the country is something which every voter should condemn. It is a disgrace to the name of the fair state of Iowa and has reached such a stage of rottenness at this time that the only escape from the disgrace is through the defeat of both and all the candidates for governor who are taking part in the contest.

The democrats of Iowa have many good men and true to carry the banner of a free and uncorrupted state. We commend them to the voters and invite the cooperation of all decent people in electing a man as governor who is untainted by bribery, uninfluenced by railroad or other favors and who will administered the affairs of this state without partiality and without manipulating his office only for his own greed and gain.

We believe that the movement looking to the nomination of W. J. Bryan for President in 1908 is right and we hereby recommend the delegates elected by this convention to the state convention to use their influence to this end.

THE TOWN-TALCOTT WEDDING

Popular Young People Will be Joined in Matrimony To-Day.

This afternoon occurs the wedding of Mr. Benjamin West Talcott of Dow City and Miss Olive Mae Town of Denison. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's father Mr. Salem Town and will be attended only by relatives and the most intimate friends.

The bride is one of Denison's most popular young ladies. She has been a recognized leader in the social life of our young people. Her personality is a charming one and she has in abundance those graces of mind and heart that should insure a life of happiness. The groom is one of the sturdy young men of western Crawford. He is capable, efficient and industrious. This union of two of the best known of our pioneer families is most auspicious and the Review joins in the hearty congratulations and good wishes extended by their many friends.

BROTHER CHARLES DEFEATED.

We learn from a brief message that Chas. K. Meyers was defeated in his contest for Clerk of Cerro Gordo county by a very close vote. It will be a severe disappointment to him. He made a clean vigorous campaign, practically single handed, against well organized opposition. While his large vote is a great compliment to him, there is very little consolation in getting second place in such a race. It is needless to say that personally we are intensely sorry for his defeat.

Miss Kate Etzel of Vail visited with friends in Denison on Wednesday.

The F. H. Club is enjoying a jolly fishing expedition in the waters of the raging Boyer to-day. For our part we would rather hunt up a good swimming hole.

Mr. G. L. Caswell is on the program of the next meeting of the Upper Des Moines editorial association for a paper on the important subject of "Handling Delinquents and Keeping up a List."

In another column we copy a notice of the wedding of D. B. Ely in Fulton, Ky. Dave is another of the Review graduates who has gone forth to success. He is a fine young man and we wish him every happiness.

On Wednesday night the S. S. club held an election of officers. Miss Alice Stevens was elected President, Miss Culmer Vice-President, Miss Orpha Marshall Secretary, Miss Clara McAhren Treasurer and the Misses Barber, Hart and Gilbreath on the executive committee.

On Wednesday Mrs. Chas. Bullock gave an English tea, inviting a number of the English born ladies. Mrs. Temple and King were the only two not born under the English flag. Mrs. Bullock served tea in the English way and proved that Kentucky can entertain most delightfully.

On Monday night the Queen Esther Circle held its election of officers at the home of Miss Schneckloth. Miss Iva Smith was made President, Vice-President Miss Laub, second Vice-President Miss Gulick, Recording Secretary Miss Gillmor, Corresponding Secretary Miss Norris, Secretary of Literature Miss Meyers. Miss Smith will make a very fine President and we believe the circle will have a splendid year.

MACKEREL SKIES.

Theories About How These Cloud Formations Are Caused.

The mackerel sky comes from the same causes as all the cirrus clouds, so called from the beautiful curl their fragments often assume, such as "mackerel skies," "mares' tails" and "cats' tails." Meteorologists are not agreed as to the cause, there being two explanations.

It has been suggested that these cirrus clouds are the beads of columns of vapor rising from the earth and precipitated as soon as they attain a certain elevation, rarely less than three miles above the earth (15,840 feet) and often five or six miles (20,000 to 30,000 feet). If this be so the visible cloud forms the capital of an invisible pillar of saturated air.

The second explanation is that they are caused in the higher regions of the atmosphere by the meeting of two currents of air of different water bearing capacity, causing them to form into parallel bands, each belt being composed of light, airy fragments, slightly altered in appearance according to a slight difference in conditions under which they are formed. It has been supposed that such clouds are composed of particles of snow.

It might be added that they occur in systems, long ranks of them extending in one direction for vast distances and being occasionally crossed by other systems at other but also extreme altitudes.

Elevators and False Teeth.

In department stores where express elevators run to roof garden restaurants some gentle passengers experience daily discomfort because of the sudden movement of the car. The proud owner of a fine set of artificial teeth remarked to her companion a few days ago: "This is the most severe test of proper fit of teeth that I know of. Mine are supposed to be correct in every respect. Still, I never travel in an elevator running express that I'm not in constant fear of my teeth taking a fall. If you close the mouth your breath will be taken away."—New York Press.

Water In Rubber.

Experiments with a hermetically sealed rubber bottle containing water have shown that the rubber is not absolutely water tight. The filled bottle weighed seventeen ounces four drams. At the end of one year the weight was seventeen ounces two drams; nine years, ten ounces; eighteen years, four ounces two drams; twenty-three years, thirteen ounces four drams; twenty-five years, seven ounces eight drams; twenty-eight years, three ounces fourteen drams; thirty years, three ounces twelve drams, the water being entirely gone.
