E. J. Carpenter's great production "A Little Outcast," which has been the great record breaker of the past three years has begun its fourth season in a blaze of glory, and will be seen at the Opera House Monday night September 17th. Not content with having reached the top notch of perfection in a scenic way Mr. Carpenter has gone a step farther than his fellow managers and has secured the most expensive cast ever seen in a melodramatic production. Popular prices.

The Review would call attention to the new check books now in use by the Crawford County State Bank. These are the work of the Review office. Heretofore the banks of Denison have considered it necessary to send abroad for their fine stationery. The Review has been arguing that it could do just as satisfactory work if the banks would give it a trial. We believe the books just printed for the Crawford County Bank will convince the bank managers that it is unnecessary to send any of their future printing orders out of Denison.

Des Moines College was represented here at the Western Baptist Association last week by professor MacNaul of the department of Political Economy. Uncle Geo. Perkins publishes a health certificate, guaranteeing that his heart is not broken and that there are no sores on his cranium. The symptoms are all present but we may be mistaken in our diagnosis, perhaps it is only liver complaint after all.

The Wedding of Charles E. Brocklesby and Miss Nellie Johnson took place at Plainview, Neb. Sept. 5th. Mr. Brocklesby is a son of J. R. Brocklesby a well known Hays township republican. The young people will make their home on a farm south of Vail. The Review extends congratulations.

Do you want a good farm journal? We have at our disposal 200 subscriptions to the Farmers Tribune, a splendid 36 page weekly. We will give one of these yearly subscriptions to each of the next 200 farmers who renew their Review subscription and to new subscribers. There are over 2000 subscribers, only one-tenth of them can get the benefit of this offer. It is a case of first come first served.

The Review is not inclined to be too hard on the boys in the melon case. They doubtless went into the thing thoughtlessly and more for a lark than from any special desire for free melons. They did not realize how serious a matter it was for Mr. Orr and that that was fun for them was needed dollars out of the pocket of the man who had raised the melons. The punishment has been one greatly out of proportion to the offense intended and we would not advise the shot-gun method for any man in future.

The revival meeting at the Baptist church commenced Monday night, under the leadership of Evangelist MacGeorge. Dr. MacGeorge is a man of wide experience and knowledge and brings to Denison, one of the strong men of the church. He has lived for many years in Brooklyn and has held pastorates in that city and in Newark, N. J. until coming west a few months ago. His work has been highly successful in every city where he has labored. Being a safe, conservative man he has been the means of reaching a large number of business men, of whom for some years he was one. The pastor here, Rev. C. H. Stull says: "This man is one of the best and safest evangelists whom I have ever had help me. When these meetings close we shall have no apology to make as to the man or work, for our citizens will be pleased."

No one would buy a sailboat with sails that could not be reefed. There is always that possibility of a little too much wind that makes a cautious man afraid to go unprovided. The thinking man, whose stomach sometimes goes back on him, provides for his stomach by keeping a bottle of Kodol For Dyspepsia within reach. Kodol digests what you eat and restores the stomach to the condition to properly perform its functions. Sold by LAMBORN DRUG CO.
