Buck Grove

Last Thursday at two o'clock at the German church in the country, occurred the marriage of Gus. Arnold and Miss Niewohner. The bride is the daughter of the German Evangelical minister and is well known, as is also the bridegroom, having grown up to manhood in this vicinity. The weather was fine and there was a large number of invited guests, about three hundred, all of whom responded. They gave a large dance in the evening and a sociable good time was enjoyed by all. The good wishes of their many friends follow them into their new life.

James O'Meara and wife drove to Dow City Saturday. While there Mrs. O'Meara received news of the serious illness of her aunt at Blencoe. She left at once for her bedside.

William Arnd, who is candidate on the republican ticket for township trustee, met with a painful accident last Wednesday evening, having the misfortune to get his leg broken below the knee. Your correspondent has not learned the particulars, but it is reported that it is a matter for the courts, and the facts will then be known.

Owing to the wet weather last week, work on the cement walks had to be discontinued. Mr. Lee and his force are busy laying an eight foot walk in front of Mr. Quatham's store this week. Buck Grove is becoming quite up to date.

Some are quite successful in securing specimens, others don't have such good luck. Your correspondent was listening to a conversation between two teachers a few days ago, and was much amused to hear one teacher say regretfully to the other, "I don't find very many, but G just has worms 'till she can't rest."
