VIC DOLLIVER DEAD

Heart Failure Brings Painless Death at Ft. Dodge

HE DIED WHILE ASLEEP

Hotel Keeper Discovers Lifeless Body of Distinguished Guest on Sunday Morning

Fort Dodge, Ia. Feb. 24.—Special: Victor B. Dolliver, brother of United States Senator J. P. Dolliver, died suddenly in his sleep on Saturday night. The cause of death is supposed to have been heart failure. The body was found at 5 o'clock this afternoon, when Mr. Dolliver's landlord, W. G. Moore, noticing no signs of life in the room, went to awaken the sleeper and found that his sleep had passed into death.

The news caused universal grief throughout Fort Dodge, where Mr. Dolliver had been a prominent and respected citizen for many years. Everywhere he was known by the nickname "Vic," and always approachable and genial, he numbered his friends by the hundreds, both in Fort Dodge and all over Iowa.

Mr. Dolliver returned about two weeks ago from Oklahoma. He was troubled at the time by a slight affection of the throat, but otherwise seemed to be in perfect health. On Saturday night he came to his rooming place about 11 o'clock and was met by Mr. Moore, with whom he talked a few moments before going to his room. He seemed to be in his usual health and spirits.

Discovery is made.

On Sunday morning he failed to appear, and as the day wore on and no sign of life came from the room, Mr. Moore went up and rapped on the door. As there was no response, he opened it and found Mr. Dolliver in bed, apparently asleep. On trying to awaken him, Mr. Moore found that he was, as he supposed, unconscious, and called Dr. E. Evans who, on his arrival, said that death had occurred several hours previous. It is considered certain that he died during his sleep. There was nothing to indicate that the end had been marked by a struggle of any kind. The room was in perfect order, and the expression of the face was that of one who slept.

Dr. James Lowery, the county coroner, was called, and with his jury viewed the body, which was then removed to the residence of Senator Dolliver, where the inquest will be held this morning. There is no doubt, however, that the verdict will be one of heart failure.

Left Large Estate

Mr. Dolliver left an estate valued in the neighborhood of $40,000, largely in farm lands, securities and bank stock. With his brother, Senator Dolliver, he was the owner of the 400 acre Carpenter farm, located near this city, and he was also associated with Capt. S. J. Bennett in the ownership of 10,000 acres of land in Oklahoma.

Last spring he gave $10,000 to endow a chair in Morningside college at Sioux City, where his sister, Miss Gay Dolliver, is dean of women.

A telegram was sent to Senator Dolliver in Washington last evening apprising him of his brother's death, but no reply is expected before this morning. Arrangements for the funeral will be deferred until it is known when the senator can arrive from Washington.

"Vic" Dolliver was born in March, 1862, in Morgantown, W. Va. His father, Rev. J. J. Dolliver, better known as "Father" Dolliver, who died about two years ago, was one of the Methodist circuit riders who performed prodigies in the cause of their church. Victor Dolliver was married on Aug. 13, 1896, to Augusta Larrabee, daughter of ex-Gov. Wm. Larrabee, at Clermont, and moved to Minneapolis and opened a law office in January, 1897. After the death of his wife, on March 14 of the same year, Mr. Dolliver closed his office and returned to Fort Dodge, where he associated himself in the law business with Fred Larrabee. The partnership continued up to the time of Mr. Dolliver's death.

Mr. Dolliver was passionately fond of children, and especially of those of his brother, the senator. Last Christmas he made a most effective Santa Claus at the celebration of the holidays at the Dolliver home.

Mrs. J. P. Dolliver and children are now in Fort Dodge, having recently returned from Washington. They are deeply affected by the shock.

While overshadowed by his famous brother, Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver,

A GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Grainger Celebrate Anniversary.

CHILDREN ARE PRESENT

Well Known Paradise Township Pioneers Congratulated on Passing Half Century Mark Together.

On Sunday February 24th, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Grainger of Paradise township were permitted the rare pleasure of celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their wedded life. Many friends gathered to greet them, and their children and their children's children were there to make the day a happy one. Many beautiful golden gifts were showered upon them by their friends and loved ones and altogether they were made to feel that they had not lived in vain. All the children were present, three daughters and four stalwart sons. Fifteen grandchildren were there and two great grandchildren joined in the jubilee. The children are Mrs. Marion Cole, Dow City, Mrs. J. C. Grandy Warsaw, Ind., Mrs. John Clarey, Casper Wyoming, and Edward, Andrew, Allan and Charles all of this county.

Patrick K. Grainger the head of the family in this county was born in Ireland, Fernanagh county near Ennes Kileen on May 10th, 1832. He emigrated with his parents to Canada, where they settled at Kingston, Ontario. Until sixteen years of age he lived with his parents and attended school and college. He taught for five years and then went to Amherst Island where he met Miss Amanda Wemp, the bride of fifty years ago. They were married Feb'y 24th, 1857 and their life together has been a model of the married relation. It was not until they were in the prime of life, twenty-six years ago that they came to Crawford county and settled on the farm which has ever since been their home. Mrs. Grainger was born on Amherst Island September 17th, 1837. She was the third of a family of nine children, five of whom are living. Forty three years of her life were spent in Canada but there is to-day no more patriotic American woman.

We had hoped to present the portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Grainger with this issue, but the photographs were received too late for that purpose. We feel that all we can say is none too much in honor of this worthy couple. They have been modest, earnest and sincere. The joys which they experienced on their anniversary day were earned fruits of honest, industrious, high-minded lives. They have been among our best citizens and all who know them delight to do them honor. It is our sincere hope that many more years of happiness may be theirs but should the book of life be nearly closed, they will have had the supreme satisfaction of having seen their children grown to noble, helpful maturity, reflecting honor upon the loved ones who gave them birth. Surely such people are of the salt of the earth and too much of respect and honor cannot be shown them.

GAVE INTERESTING LECTURE

Rev. Father Lambert Addresses Large Audience on Sunday Night

The spacious auditorium of St. Rose of Lima church was well filled on Sunday evening to hear the lecture delivered by Rev. Father A. A. Lambert. The lecture was out of the ordinary, dwelling largely upon the relations of men and women in society rather than on the position of woman alone. A large audience was present and every word of the eloquent speaker was enjoyed. Rev. Father Lambert remained in Denison this week and his sermons have greatly benefitted the communicants of the church.

CHAS. JENSEN DEAD

Word comes today from California that Chas. Jensen died on Feb'y 21st of pneumonia. His little child died but a few days before him. We have no particulars as to his death, but this we know that Charlie was a faithful, kind hearted young man, filled with the milk of human kindness. He has many friends here who will mourn his loss and whose heartfelt sympathy will go out to the widow and the little ones.

MAY GO TO SEATTLE

Denison Relatives Believe Secretary Shaw will go to Coast

BIG OFFERS ARE MADE HIM

Success as Secretary of Treasury Induces Great Corporations to Make Splendid Offers.

According to press dispatches Secretary Shaw has recently received an offer to head the Carnegie Trust Co. of New York with the princely salary of $75,000 per year. It is not believed by his Denison relatives that he will accept the offer, however tempting though it must be. Neither is it expected that he will be content to return to Denison and the comparatively meagre rewards which would meet him here. It is said, however, that he wishes to go to Seattle. He has large faith in the development of the new country. He would be the apostle of the Pacific. Not only financial rewards but those politically would undoubtedly await him. While in Chicago Sec. Shaw is said to have written a letter stating that he had a fine proposition from New York but that he still inclined toward Seattle. It is said that he will become associated with J. J. Hill should he go to Seattle and that great plans are in preparation for the development of that city. The following from the press dispatches tells of Mr. Shaw's latest New York offer:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Special: The announcement may be expected within a few days that Leslie M. Shaw, of Iowa, secretary of the treasury since 1902, will become president of the new Carnegie Trust company after his retirement from the treasury department on March 4.

Secretary Shaw has yet made no statement even to his friends of his plans, but it is known that he has received from the Carnegie Trust company an offer which he can not ignore despite the plans which he already had made to return to Iowa. Other great corporations are seeking the secretary's leadership, but the prospective combination with the Carnegie Trust company seems most likely to develop into his entering the financial world of New York.

Company Has Just Started

All this means that if Secretary Shaw goes to New York he will command an enormous salary, probably $75,000 a year. The Carnegie Trust company opened business in New York on January 2, with a capital of $1,000,000. Among its directors are Andrew W. Burchard, Joseph B. Dickson and James Talcott.

Iowa will find this news highly interesting. If Mr. Shaw closes with the offer it will mean he will not return to Iowa to live. This will mean that he has chosen the allurements of the financial world in preference to the possibilities of politics and the chances of a presidential nomination. No secretary of the treasury for years has been so much sought as Mr. Shaw by great corporations.

MANUFACTURERS NIGHT.

Social Session of Commercial Club Announced for Monday.

A social session of the Denison Commercial club will be held at the club rooms on Monday evening. The club members are all expected and a number of other business men are to be invited. A program has been arranged to deal with Denison as a manufacturing town both as to the present and as to its possibilities. Recent railroad legislation has done much to remove the handicap heretofore experienced by the small towns and it is expected that some interesting suggestions will be made at the meeting. A light luncheon will be served and all will be asked to eat, smoke and enjoy themselves. The invitations will be limited on account of the size of the club rooms but it is planned to have a series of these social gatherings, in the course of which all the business men of Denison will be invited.

Last week the city had an Omaha Architect down to inspect the Laub block. The building was carefully examined and while some portions of it were pronounced unsafe, it is not thought that any wholesale changes will be demanded at this time. The numerous tenants are anxious however to learn the final decision of the architect before making their plans for the future.
