Farmers and merchants are finding the twenty-five cent dinner served at the Oxford Cafe to be all that could be asked at the price. Lyman Bros. Broadway.

The twenty-five club had a jolly time last Friday evening. In addition to their regular dance the ladies had provided a delicious box lunch, as a pleasant surprise for their partners.

The Oxford Cafe is proving a favorite place for young and old. It has opened its ice cream season and the excellent cream furnished together with the cool pleasant room are proving great drawing cards.

An item which escaped us last week was the banquet served on April 12th by the ladies of the F. H. Club, with their husbands as guests of honor. The banquet was served at the delightful home of Mrs. Peter Miller. On the 19th the F. H. ladies held a regular meeting with Mrs. Fred Marshall. The refreshments were delicious and the exercises highly enjoyable.

There was a happy little home wedding at the residence of Geo. H. Lyon and wife on Wednesday April 10th, at high noon, when their daughter Amy became the bride of Mr. Jesse B. Reese of Dunlap. Rev. Thuresson, the M. E. pastor, performed the ceremony in the presence of a goodly number of relatives and friends. The bride was born in this city, and our people have seen her grow to noble womanhood, industrious, gentle, loving to her parents, and none doubt that she will have a happy and useful life. The groom is a young farmer living near Dunlap, a man of excellent reputation and good standing. He has taken his bride to a nice farm home, where it is the wish of all that happiness and prosperity may be theirs. Among the out of town guests were Miss Nellie Lyon of Woodbine, Misses Ida, Inez and Mable Powley of Dunlap, Myron Bell and Miss Pearl Woodard of Manilla, Mr. Earl and Miss Edna Cavett of this city were also present.

NO MAGAZINE THIS WEEK

Service Will Be Resumed Next Week Without Further Delays.

Owing to the early press day of the Review we have had much difficulty in securing our Magazine Section on time and without the payment of heavy express charges. We have decided therefore to omit the Magazine this week in order that hereafter we may have them on hand so that there will be no delay in their issue with the main section of the paper.

The best dinner—at the Oxford Cafe on Broadway.

DEATH OF GEO. AMBROSE WEBER

George Ambrose Weber, who had been suffering with a cancer for a long time was relieved of his pain by the hand of death, early Tuesday morning April 23. He was a native of Ohio and 52 years old. Before moving to Denison he lived in Kalona, Iowa. Mr. Weber leaves a wife and two children Leo and Grace, granddaughter Edna May and the following brothers and half-brothers all residents of Denison: Joseph, John, Herman, Adam, Charles, and Peter. They are interested in the livery business on South Main street. The funeral will be held at the St. Rose of Lima church on Wednesday at ten A. M. There was much consideration felt for him in his suffering and his wife and children have the sympathy of many friends. Four times within the past five years has death visited this home. Mrs. Weber will continue in Denison.

DENISON, IOWA.

These celebrated garments bespeak the latest fashions in gowns. The Ultra Bust Curving waist Models are pre eminently the correct new corset fashion. They are exclusive models, the product of the American Lady and Warner shops.

Beauty is the dominant note in the newest corset fashions. Fads and exaggerations are giving away to Nature's purer lines and curves. The feminine form is not intended to be crushed and manipulated into ridiculous shapes, but it can be trained and developed into lines of symmetry and fashion with the aid of a pair of perfect fitting
