

The Buck Grove BUDGET

Mrs. Fannie Bonney
Department Editor.

Robert Moffitt has erected a new slaughter house, south of town near the creek, and is all ready for business.

Geo. Bonesteel's household goods arrived Wednesday and he and his family are cosily settled in Mr. Stegeman's house.

L. W. Hagan sold his meat market last week and has bought back his old farm again.

Mrs. Wm. Smith fell and broke her arm one day last week. She was walking in the yard and stepped on a corn cob in such a way as to twist her ankle and cause her to fall. It was a painful accident, but she is getting along as well as could be expected.

Cal Carpenter and wife and son together with Mrs. Bonney and daughters, and Nellie Welch drove to the county seat Thursday.

Ben Quathamer and John Finnegan have bought the building recently occupied by Hagan's meat market and will later open a furniture store, or rather move his furniture into that building.

Chris Lorenzen has been making some fine improvements on his farm northeast of town. He has put in a cistern and well, beside laying 600 feet of pipe to carry the water to his house and barns.

A wreck on the C. M. & St. Paul R. R. last Thursday west of here caused us to be nearly all day without mail, from seven a. m. to nine p. m.

for several months was able to take a ride one day last week. Her friends are pleased to see her improving.

Mrs. Jack Griffin and son returned from their visit at Defiance and are now visiting at the John Griffin home. They, with Miss Mollie, were Denison visitors Thursday.

Mrs. McNertney of Manilla who has been visiting her brother, John Finnigan and family returned home Saturday.

Ray Finnigan from Omaha is visiting his uncle John Finnigan.

Little Nellie Welsh thinks she had the best time of any one who went to the circus last week, for, after the show was over, she had the pleasure of several rides on a beautiful, little pony, one on a great big elephant, and last of all on the back of a full grown camel. That's pretty near enough for one day don't you think so, Nellie?

The ball game, which was to be Saturday between Buck Grove and Arion, did not materialize.

Lizzie Smith is visiting in Sioux City for a few days.

Ed Paulson and brother Otto with his sisters and Thecil Hemphill were among those who attended the circus last week.

Mr. Perrion, wife and children of Manilla came down on the morning train Sunday and spent the day with J. P. Welsh and family.

Mrs. James Boyer and little son returned Saturday after a two weeks visit with her sister and family, at Hornick.

Ben Quathamer, wife and children spent Sunday at Defiance.

Lizzie Slattery drove from Manilla Sunday and was the guest of J. P. Welsh and family.

Mr. Quathamer having bought the building at present occupied by Mr. Moffitt's meat market forced the latter to move that business somewhere else, it is understood that Mr. Moffitt will fix the meat room in the rear part of his store to continue the meat business.

The Deloit Diary.

MRS. S. E. HERR,
Department Editor.

Once more the angel of death visited our little town and claimed for its victim, little Opal Fay Pilcher little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pilcher, who was born April 3rd 1906 at Ida Grove, Iowa. Died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Winans at Deloit, Iowa, July 20th, 1907, at whose home she was greatly loved and tenderly cared for, her mother and little brother having preceded her to the grave a few months previous. The funeral was conducted from the home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 Elder J. M. Baker of Sioux City preaching the discourse, and the remains laid to rest by the side of her mother and brother in Deloit cemetery. The sympathy of friends was shown toward this greatly bereaved family by the large gathering at the home funeral.

Mr. Pilcher seems to be having more than his share of sorrow, in thirteen short months his wife and two children have been torn from his embrace. A happy home of five was broken and now reduced to two, one little daughter yet being spared. We sincerely hope she may live to be a comfort to her father. Little Fay had been a joy and comfort to her grandparents, partly filling the vacancy felt by the death of her mother, their eldest daughter, thus entwining a double cord of love around their heartstrings. The home will now be very lonely without her. The writer too will miss the dear little girl, she loved to be out of doors, and living near the postoffice, she was out nearly every day until she took sick some two weeks ago and under my observation. Little Fay leaves Papa, sister, two grandmas and two grandpas, aunts and uncles to mourn her loss, but they do not mourn as those without hope for our Savior has said, "Of such is the kingdom of Heaven."
