

FINE TREAT COMING IS STILL VICTORIOUS

Denison Will Have Splendid Chautauqua.

WILL BEGIN AUGUST 20TH

Business Men Guarantee Sale of Tickets and Secure Great Attraction.

Denison is to have its first Chautauqua. The program is given elsewhere and it is a fine one. It is identical with the one given at the successful Chautauqua given recently at Marshalltown. Governor Hock, Judge Lindsey, Congressman Bede are some of the star attractions. There will be entertainments, concerts lectures, morning, afternoon and night, for six days. The cost of the season tickets is but $1.50. Single admission will be 25 cents each while the price for Gov. Hock's and Judge Lindsey's lectures will be a trifle higher. The purchase of a season ticket reduces the cost to NINE CENTS for each attraction. The tickets are transferable.

Early in the season the business men considered the Chautauqua proposition, but at that time so large a guarantee was asked that the matter was dropped. Last week however, a representative of the Redpath bureau made a very reasonable offer, providing the assembly be held the week of August 20th. While the notice was short and the date for several reasons an undesirable one, the business men did not feel that they could afford to lose such an opportunity. The guarantee is signed by a number and all interested are requested to buy tickets of them at once, so that the success of the undertaking may be assured.

LAWYERS IN ENGLAND.

The Difference Between the Barrister and the Solicitor.

The barrister in England is the very salt of the earth. He it is who makes the laws, who goes into parliament, who sits on the bench, who considers himself seven or eight degrees higher up in the social scale than any other poor or middle class mortal, and with all this he has absolutely no responsibility toward his clients. That ancient, much abused thing called custom in this country has created for the law two separate and distinct limbs, which may be compared to a measure to the life of the bee. One is the drone and the other the queen. The drone is the solicitor, who sits in an office working up a case, consulting clients, drawing gills, controlling estate transactions and controlling the incomes of people who are unfortunate enough to be saddled under the trust deeds. The solicitor, who has his own tradition to work out, does not ever get to himself any glory whatever. Except in police and county court cases, he is persona non grata, or, in the words of the judges, "he is not seen." If he has a case on hand, he is obliged to take it to a barrister, who, though he may never have heard of the matter in dispute before, dons his wig and gown, proceeds into court and argues till all is black and blue, as if he knew all about it, for which he draws a most prodigious fee, quite big enough to enable him to appear nicely mounted in the row every morning. If he spoils the case, there is no chance for redress, because the barrister is merely a gentleman whom fiction politely assumes to be a friend in need. All the onus of failure falls upon the poor solicitor. There are no barristers in prison, but there are a good many solicitors who wear the broad arrow which is the trademark of his majesty's prisons. The solicitor remains the old time family adviser, to whom all sorts of foolish people bring their trust deeds, their stock certificates, their government bonds and all such documents which have a tendency to lead a weak man into temptation, and that is why so many solicitors, when they need money, find it impossible to resist the desire to take that which is not theirs.—London Letter in Town and Country.

INDEPENDENCE HALL.

Replica at Jamestown Exposition of Building Where Nation Was Born.

"They won't do it; they won't do," said the old bell ringer of Independence hall, Philadelphia, as he waited anxiously to hear that the Continental congress had passed the Declaration of Independence. The minutes and hours dragged away, and the aged patriot feared that the courage of the delegates assembled in the hall beneath him would not be equal to the occasion. But at last the announcement that the Declaration had been duly adopted came, and he joyfully made haste to ring out the glad tidings.

Ever since that momentous day the old hall in the famous Quaker City has held a place in the affections of the American people. It is preserved with great care by the citizens of Philadelphia. It was natural that the commonwealth of Pennsylvania in erecting a state building at the Jamestown exposition should take the venerable structure where the American nation was born as a model. The replica at the exposition is as good a likeness of the original as could be made. In it are many things of historic interest, and it speaks eloquently of the associations of the Revolutionary epoch.

Denison Ball Team Wins Three Straight From Ft. Dodge.

BIG GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Denison Club Strengthened by Addition of Zender and Davis From Manning Team.

BASE BALL SCHEDULE

Thursday, Aug. 8—Vail at Vail.
Friday, Aug. 9—Jefferson at Denison.
Saturday, Aug. 10—Jefferson at Denison.
Monday, Aug. 12—Carroll at Carroll.
Tuesday, Aug. 13, forenoon—Carroll at Carroll.
Tuesday, Aug. 13, afternoon—DES MOINES LEAGUE TEAM AT DENISON.
Wednesday, Aug. 14—Carroll at Carroll.
Thursday, Aug. 15—Vail at Denison.
Friday, Aug. 16—Vail at Denison.

Last week was not an exciting one for the Denison fans. The series at Jefferson ended with a pretty game which was lost by Denison.

The Fort Dodge series at Denison was not interesting as the cement makers either could not or would not play ball. It was the poorest exhibition of ball playing Denison has seen put up by a visiting team this year. The attendance after the first day was poor as the fans soon found that Ft. Dodge would not be a match for our Fat Men's nine. The games were farces, Whisman pitched the first game with 6 strike outs to his credit. Faul pitched the second game with 4 strike outs. Stoll the Westphalia wonder was the only interesting feature of the third game. He played for a record and secured 14 strike outs. His work was phenomenal. He has speed, fine curves and good control. He is not so good in watching bases. What his record would have been had he pitched against a good team is only a matter of guess work. He is a great pitcher and will be at the service of the Denison team for the rest of the season.

The Odebolt Game

The game with Odebolt was another hippodrome as the visitors were clearly out-classed from start to finish. Denison secured 15 hits in the first three innings and the game was not close enough to be interesting. Odebolt has a good amateur team but it is not in Denison's class. Dunn made his debut as a pitcher for Denison and did good work, securing ten strike outs. Fawcett did good work behind the bat in all the games. The Odebolt game resulted 13 to 0 in Denison's favor.

The Denison team has been strengthened by the addition of Davis and Zender two of the best men of the old Manning team. Denison now has five good pitchers signed. Faul, Whisman, Stoll, Jacobsen and Dunn. The field has been strengthened and it is difficult to see where any improvements could be made.

The Vail Game

Much interest is manifested in the game today at Vail. Either Faul or Whisman will pitch. Vail has Creighton and three other Omaha topnotchers. A number of Denison fans are attending the game, and the reports are being watched with great interest as the game progresses.

To-morrow the Fats and Leans will have another go in the evening. The first nine will play again at Vail, returning for games with Jefferson on Friday and Saturday. The Des Moines League game on Tuesday promises to be the great base ball event of the season and we believe Denison will give the league a close call to say the least.

A LESSON IN LAW.

Several Things the Philadelphia Drummer Didn't Know.

"Most of us think we know the law pretty well," said the Philadelphia drummer, "but I had a little experience to show me that there are several things in the statute books that I don't know. I was in a New England town and dropped into a barber shop to get shaved. There was only one barber, and he didn't look as if he knew putty. He turned out to be a pretty good shaver, however, and as I had had a drink just before entering the shop I fell asleep in the chair. I slept for half an hour, and when I awoke he was through with me. The first thing I missed on getting out of the chair was my roll of money, next my watch, next my overcoat, next and lastly my scarfpin. I went for that barber for all I was worth, but he denied robbing me, and his face wore a smile. Then I got a gait on me and went to a lawyer's office.

"Can you prove by a credible witness that you had $100 in cash when you entered the barber shop?" he asked.

"I couldn't."

"Can you prove that your watch was taken in the shop instead of being lost on the street?"

"I couldn't."

"Are you sure that you had your pin on as you opened the door to enter?"

"I wasn't."

"As to your overcoat," continued the lawyer, "have you a bill of sale of it, or was any one with you when you bought it? In other words, can you swear to the ownership in law of any particular overcoat?"

"I couldn't."

"Then I can do nothing for you," he said, and I went to a second lawyer to be told the same thing. I had left the shop without paying for my shave, and I was even told that the barber could arrest me for beating him out of 15 cents and have me fined $5. I believe I can quote Shakespeare correctly and distinguish between tea and sugar, but when it comes down to the law I am not in it. It's too kinky."—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

A PRIVATE DENTIST.

One Luxury This Man Will Have When He Gets Rich.

"If ever I get really rich," said the man with a toothache, "I shall have a private dentist. What do I want of a private dentist? Well, I'll tell you.

"It's had enough anyway to suffer from your teeth, but to me this suffering is made doubly distressing by the circumstances attendant upon my visit to the dentist's office.

"I arrive there to find the dentist working away upon the teeth of some patient in his chair, and that always sort of disturbs me—to find somebody else being worked over and cared for while I wait in distress. I think I am entitled to all the care and sympathy. And maybe I find somebody else waiting, perhaps a friend of the person in the chair, or somebody waiting his turn, come ahead of time, and that disturbs me, for I like to wait with my pain in solitude.

"But the dentist gets through with the patient in the chair on time for me, and I take my place under his hands. And I don't doubt that I get his concentrated and complete attention and skill while he is operating upon me, but I can't get away from the idea that he is working as rapidly as he can so as to be ready for the next patient.

"And then, with all my pain, I can't forget either that person in the waiting room waiting his turn after me, and waiting without a particle of sympathy for me, and, in fact, rather impatient of my presence and thinking of himself alone. This is rather wounding to my self esteem.

"In fact, however I regard it, a visit to the dentist's office is always a jarring experience. My dentist is a man of the highest professional skill, and, as I said, I am sure I get his best care, but still all these familiar things that I have mentioned to you jar me, and I would avoid them all if I could. So when I get real rich I shall certainly have a private dentist."—Washington Post.

Samuel Warren's Vanity.

The vanity of Samuel Warren, the author of "Ten Thousand a Year," in his early years of authorship at least, was remarkable, and there is a story told of him to the effect that on one occasion at a friend's house he had to take down to dinner a lady whom he had not met before, and as soon as they were seated at table asked her if she had ever heard of Samuel Warren.

"Oh, certainly," was the reply. "My husband prefers Warren's blacking to any other. We always use it."—Westminster Gazette.

Choice of Evils.

"Well, old man," said Sinnickson after the performance, "I certainly was surprised to see you in private theatricals."

"Yes," replied Brightly, "but you see if I didn't appear on the stage I'd probably have to sit in the audience and be bored to death."—Philadelphia Press.

WILL PRACTICE IN IOWA

Hugo Kahler, Well Known Here Settles in Reinbeck Iowa.

From the Reinbeck Standard we glean the following which will be of interest to many Denison friends.

Dr. F. Conner, of our city, and Dr. H. V. Kahler of Chicago, have entered into co-partnership for the practice of medicine in Reinbeck and vicinity and will continue the business done at the old Dr. Conner office one door west of the Bank of Reinbeck.

Dr. Kahler can hardly be considered a stranger in our midst for his family has been known for years throughout this neighborhood as well as in and around Traer. He is a son of the late Marcus Kahler who many of our older citizens will remember as one of the pioneer settlers of this city. The Doctor comes to us with the highest recommendations as a gentleman and as a thorough scholar and practitioner. He has had exceptional advantages and has made good use of them. Graduating from the Northwestern medical school of Chicago after a solid four years' course, he received the appointment of house physician and surgeon to the Chicago Baptist hospital and for the past two years has been doing successful work in that institution.

With Dr. Conner so well known among our citizens, the firm of Drs. Conner and Kahler will be a strong one, and one that ought to receive the confidence and patronage of many of our people.

THE MID SUMMER PLAY SPELL.

What with base ball almost every day, a week of Chautauqua, a Carnival at Vail, a teachers' institute which the superintendent assures us is to be more in the nature of a reunion than a summer school, and the Old Settlers Picnic, Denison and Crawford county will have ample opportunity for a good time during the dog days. The harvest will soon be out of the road and the corn fields are in such conditions that nothing can be done for them except to pray that there be no frost. This will give the farmers of the county a chance for a few days off after the hard work of the spring and early summer and before the long task of corn picking sets in. The program offers attractions for all. There is the chance for mental improvement and enjoyment offered by the Chautauqua and the teachers' institute lectures, the opportunity for a quiet meeting with old friends at the old settlers picnic, and fun and excitement galore at base ball games and carnival. It is well enough to get all the proper enjoyment one can out of life and we trust that the people will take advantage of the attractions offered them so close at home. This is Denison's first venture in the Chautauqua line and it is to be hoped that the people will show their appreciation by a splendid support and attendance. Should the Chautauqua be a success it is altogether probable that it will become a regular feature of Denison summer life hereafter. We understand that there will be camping facilities offered the people and in nowise can a family take a better and cheaper summer vacation than by coming and camping out for the week. There will be base ball in the morning and lectures and good music the rest of the day. Make your plans now to be present at the great intellectual feast.

BIG CARNIVAL AT VAIL.

Base Ball, Free Shows, and Fine Attractions Will Draw Great Crowds.

Vail expects to have one of the grandest Carnivals ever held in western Iowa, on Aug. 20-21-22. They already have preparations under headway. Over five hundred dollars are already subscribed by our town people to entertain visitors from out of town, and furnish free attractions. Every show is guaranteed to be good, and clean nothing objectionable will be allowed on the grounds. The committee have booked up to the present the following shows that will be free for everybody: Tony Ryder, with his educated Monkey's, a show that is wonderful. McCoy and McCoy, they do some wonderful tricks on the slack wire, they also use the Roman rings. There were three bar artists here last year that pleased the visitors greatly. They have been engaged for this year again, they are known as the Eugene Trio Company, they are said to be better this year than last. They also have secured the most wonderful trick pianist in the world. His name is Gardner, he plays the piano with his nose and with his ears. He lies flat on the floor and renders most beautiful music. He will play blind folded with his back to the piano. They tie his feet and hands and he will play, he will stand on his head and play the most difficult pieces. He is a wonder and it will pay every person within a hundred miles to come and see him. The above shows are only part of what can be seen and they are absolutely free to everybody. There will also be a game of ball each day of the Carnival. On the first day Manning will play the Vail team. Of course Vail will win if it can. On the next two days of the fair Denison team will meet the Vail boys in battle array. Vail boys are aware of the fact that Denison ball team is backed by Congressmen would be

SENATORS, BANKERS, LAWYERS CLERICAL.

No matter how many good ball players Denison will bring, Vail will claim in advance that it will have a better team and if there are any tallies made during the games, Vail will win. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged to see the games played. The Carroll Band is engaged during the Carnival and are expected to play the very latest base ball music before and after the games. The people of Crawford and adjoining counties can not afford to miss attending the Vail Carnival.

DENISON TRIMMED US UP.

(Carroll Herald)

Thursday and Friday of last week the locals dropped two games to the Denisonites on the home ground, the first a twelve inning contest and the latter nine innings. Last week demonstrated without a doubt that Denison has us bested on the ball diamond, having won three straight from our boys.

Carroll fans have no kick to make.

The Denison boys simply outplayed our team at every point—with the stick and in the field. The game Thursday was a pretty evenly matched contest and stood 1 to 1 at the end of the tenth inning. Both teams scored twice in the eleventh, and the visitors broke up the game by scoring again in the twelfth.

The game Friday afternoon was a surprise to all, for it was supposed that Carroll would take this game at least. But the locals proved no match for the visitors, thus letting them win the third victory with ease. Denison went to bat first and made two scores on an error, a single, a two-sacker and a walk. Carroll managed to tie the score on errors and a two-base hit by Jeffrey. In the third and fourth the visitors added three and in the seventh four more. In the eighth inning Morgan was substituted for Haskell in the box and held the visitors down.
