THE KANSAS MESSAGE

Chief Executive of the Sun-Flower State at Denison.

GOVERNOR E. W. HOCH.

Brilliant and Forceful Address on Subject of the Day.

Governor Hoch of Kansas represents the highest type of the manhood of the American republic, and so it was with pleasure that he was heard at the Chautauqua in Denison on Friday of last week. As he well said, he came from a state which does things in the superlative. He called attention to the fact that it was in Kansas that the forces of Freedom for the slaves and their oppressors first met in armed conflict, the sons of freedom being led by the immortal John Brown. It was Kansas which went mad under the lead of Sockless Jerry Simpson over Populistic theories; it was Kansas which produced Mary Ellen Lease and Carrie Nation and her saloon smashing hatchet. It was Kansas which emancipated itself from the binding twine trust and it was Kansas which tackled the Standard Oil Company and put it to rout so that Kansas people now had oil five and six cents lower per gallon than any of the neighboring states. It was Kansas which twenty-seven years ago started out to crush out the saloon traffic and which had made a success of the matter.

As was to be seen by his picture given in the paper last week Gov. Hoch has a strong face. When near to him, one can see those lines of character which show the firmness and determination of his make-up. It is no wonder that such a man as he is popular in Kansas. On last Friday afternoon he spoke to a magnificent audience in Denison. The platform had been adorned with sun-flowers and many of the audience had the flower of Kansas pinned to the breast. Mr. P. E. C. Lally of this city gave the very brief and pointed introductory speech, doing himself much credit.

The speaker was not alone proud of Kansas but of our nation. He told of our magnificent record under McKinley in defeating Spain driving her out of Cuba, and then giving the natives the chance to set up a free government. He recalled how we fed the Spaniards, cared for their wounded and then glory be to the United States, hired the Spanish ships to carry home the captives to their loved ones across the sea. No money indemnity was asked. He paid a high eulogy to the martyred President McKinley and to Lincoln and Grant.

Governor Hoch was not afraid to say that he believed in the Holy Bible from cover to cover. He believed that it was the nearness to the ideals of that book which had caused our nation to be so signally blessed. He claimed to be somewhat of a scholar himself and to have read much of the so called high criticism, and all did not move him from his belief in the book of all books. The address will give tone to public opinion along the line of civil righteousness.

Charter Oak Times—We understand that the erection of a Catholic church at Kenwood is assured. There have been sums aggregating more than $3,000 subscribed, and the promoters of the project are now figuring on plans and a contractor to do the work. We are sorry to see this dope, for this parish is not large enough for two, and the erection of this church means two weak ones instead of one good one. However, as this is the ukase that has gone forth from the people concerned, we will accept it and do all the boosting we can for what is left of each.

Sept. 1—The Two Reports of the Spies, Num. 13-17-20-23-33.

The lessons for some time back have been a history of the Children of Israel. We learned how they were rescued from Egyptian bondage by God, with Moses as the leader, and of the way their lives were spared at the Red Sea, and the provision made for their food supply by the manna and the quail. As far back as when Abraham left his native land to depart to a strange country, there had been the promise of God that in due time his descendants should occupy the land which we now call Palestine. The promise had been renewed to Isaac and Jacob. When Jacob was about to die he said to Joseph as recorded in Gen. 48-21. "God will be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers." Joseph believed this for he gave direction that when the time of the departure of the Jews from Egypt came that his bones should be gathered up and carried for final burial to the sacred soil where rested the remains of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob his father. At the time of the going out from Egypt it was again promised that the removal meant destination, in the Promised Land flowing with milk and honey.

The Children of Israel under Moses had at last reached the borders of the land and it was of course the general expectation that entry would be made. It was decided however to send a man from each of the Twelve tribes ahead to "spy out the land," and report. This was done, and among the men so chosen were Caleb of the tribe of Judah and Joshua of the tribe of Ephraim.

The spies were gone for forty days and on return reported that the land was everything to be desired but that the people were large like giants and that it would be impossible to enter to possess it. This was the report of ten of the spies Caleb and Joshua filed as we would say in these days, a "minority report." They advised pushing ahead, feeling that God would help His people. The faith of the people failed, they took up the cry of the spies who favored retreat. They longed for the fleshpot and onions of Egypt, and bewailed that God had brought them out, wishing they had died in Egypt or in the wilderness.

In thinking the lesson over we have tried to picture the grief and disappointment of Moses and Aaron at this time. They must have had hopes that the wilderness wanderings were over, that the Promised Land was reached, that they should take part in the entry and triumph of the event. Now all was blasted. No wonder they "fell on their faces before the Assembly" and showed marked signs of grief. Joshua and Caleb rent their clothes also in sign of deep emotion.

Governor Hoch of Kansas in his great talk at Denison said that "faith" moves the world. That everything we do is based on faith. It was at this juncture in the career of the Children of Israel that they needed faith and the lack of it brought awful consequences. It will be remembered that when David was a lad and the giant Goliath dared some one from the army of Israel to come out to meet him, that the brave lad cried out "Who is this Philistine who would defy the armies of the Living God." He added "if no one else will go out I will." David had the true faith. Caleb and Joshua had the same spirit, for they urged the people to press onward.

They said "If the Lord delight in us, then He will bring us into the land and give it to us, rebel not ye against the Lord, neither fear ye the people of the land, the Lord is with us, fear them not." The weak faithless Israelites were about to take up stones to kill these worthy men. Just at this time the cloud over the tabernacle began to glow and this was a sign that God had a communication for the people. Soon it came and it was that because of lack of faith in His ability to do, what He had undertaken, the faithless grown-up members of the company should never enter the Promised Land but should die in the wilderness.

"If God be for us who can be against us?" declared the great Paul and it is the burning question to-day. Paul in his remarkable chapter in Hebrews on the triumphs of faith shows what those possessing it have done. The lesson of this date gives an instance of what came to people who did not possess it. The great truth coming to us, is to have faith in God's promises and act in accordance.

Vail base ball team went to Denison last Friday to play ball. It seems as through some misunderstanding only five innings were played. Our boys claim that the umpire was unfair. It will have to be admitted that up the present Denison has produced a large number of eminent men, Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, Congressman, Governor of the state of Iowa, Noble Lawyers, great orators, great financiers, men who have climbed the ladder of fame faster and higher than men in any other city in Iowa, and yet on the authority of good ball players, Denison can not show a fair and impartial umpire. There appears to be too much base ball the past summer, at least the kind we have had. It looks like a base injustice to a town to send out a ball team that not one of the players can tell you who is mayor of the town they claim to represent. Such is life in the far west.

Vail base ball enthusiasts feel greatly elated over Vail winning all three of the games played here during the carnival. It was hard on Denison boys to go down twice in defeat before the Vail "invincibles".

One good thing about the games played here by Denison boys, is the fact that they cut out the kicking and rag chewing, and played a gentlemen's game. Since the carnival several of the Vail ball players have had flattering offers to play next season with league teams in the east.

Sears McHenry, Rex Wright, Editor Meyers of the Review, Caswell of the Bulletin and several other Denison people were here to witness the ball games.

Our carnival proved a success every way, we had good crowds of people each day, and they seemed to go away well pleased. Financially the Commercial club is about four hundred dollars ahead.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam H. Gwin, Concord, Ga. For sale by L. E. Blosser, Broadway Druggist.
