For Rent—Five room flat, city water, Inquire of Mrs. S. Dawes.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boettger Jr. at Kenwood, on Sunday a handsome daughter.
The many friends of Miss Nell McGrin will be sorry to hear that she is suffering with inflammatory rheumatism at her home.
The young people of the Presbyterian church gave a social at the Kuehnle home on Monday evening. The evening was spent with games and refreshments and all had an enjoyable evening.
The mail carriers tell of a prospective groom who was busy Wednesday shoveling the road out to the home of the bride to be, so that the wedding might take place. He deserves his happiness.
The Coterie Club will meet with Mrs. E. W. Fellows on Tuesday Feb. 25th. The ladies are requested "To bring the work they ought to stay at home and do." We object to having our supper taken down to Prof. Fellows' house.
The opera house has been made "fire proof" by the addition of much needed new exits. With the numerous exits now provided the danger from panic is reduced to the minimum. The Review deserves some credit for having insisted upon this improvement.
John Saggau has purchased the property on Broadway formerly owned by Mrs. Jurgen Schroeder of Schleswig. The consideration covers $8000. The lots are now occupied by the Rachwitz market and the Lorenzen harness shop. Mr. Saggau is a valiant Broadway man and this purchase undoubtedly means a fine new building.
The rural carriers were unable to make their entire routes during the storms of this week, though some of them made a manly try at it. The farmers ought to help them by breaking the roads and shoveling the drifts. The carriers cannot follow the main traveled roads entirely but must go on some roads that are little travelled. The farmers should remember that it is nothing to the carrier whether he gets through or not. He gets his pay just the same if he makes an honest try at it. The man who is discommoded is the neighbor beyond who cannot get his mail because your road is filled up. Be neighborly and help your friends get regular mail service.

The members of the Denison School debating team turned the tables on their instructors and made them do some debating on last Saturday evening. The Kuehnle home was the scene of the entertainment by Miss Lydia Belle of her fellow members of the debating teams and the instructors of the High school and Prof. Fellows. For amusement the pupils insisted that it was the turn of the teachers to debate, and so a chairman, time-keeper, judges were chosen and the debate took place. As the only one who was married was Prof. Fellows the rest had to speak without experience. It would almost appear that the thought of the teachers ran to the marriage question, for not long ago they had a mock wedding among the faculty. All enjoyed a good time and the negative team felt compensated for its treatment at Onawa after having so much fun.

A GAY PARTY.
On Saturday evening Miss Effie Norris and her two brothers, Harry and Paul royally entertained a crowd of Denison gay young people. Paul with his "coach and four" came in after the crowd. The drive was heartily enjoyed by all—touching only the "high places."
During the evening games were played "Som R Set" being the principle game, although "tiddle de winks" created considerable interest at the boat table, on account of the fair playing of the defeated players and the so called cheating indulged in by the successful players. Our popular young druggist, Walter Lamborn carried off first prize at "Som R Set", while Miss Ethel Gulick won the booby prize at "tiddle de winks." After the games were over Mrs. Norris treated the guests to delicious refreshments, after which the party adjourned, returning home via Paul's royal "hay rack" and four.
Those in the party were: Misses Ethel Gulick, Willette Strahan, Clara Strahan, Clara Fee, Lillian Brackney, Lillie Raine and Mae Thruesson, Messers Walter Lamborn, J. C. Baker, Will Miller, Joe Smith and P. J. Klinker.

ENTERTAIN FLINCH CLUB.
Mr. and Mrs. Christianson of Union township entertained the Flinch Club of which they are members last Friday evening although like Longfellow's poem:
"The day was cold and dark and dreary,
It rains and winds are ever weary;
The vine still clings to the mouldering wall,
But at every gust the dead leaves fall,
The day is dark and dreary."
All was pleasant and cheerful when once you entered their home, which had been arranged and decorated so nicely by Mrs. Christiansen. House plants, bouquets of foliage and sweet scented carnations, were everywhere in evidence, and all who were brave enough to come out in the storm and wind were not sorry, for all had one of the best of times, and it was six A. M. before any could get started for home because of the rain.
An elegant four course supper was served. The invited guest were: Miss Mae Fleiger of Dunlap, who by the way is an accomplished pianist, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Phillips of Denison.

How much more comfortable you would be these cold nights if you slept on a Steins & Foster Elastic cotton felt mattress than trying to get rest and comfort from your old worn out mattress. Get one at Barcher Bros., sleep on it for 60 nights and if you are not satisfied with it you can get your money back.

FALSE FIRE ALARM

Sabbath Quiet Disturbed by Raucous Tones of Fire Bell

The quiet of Sunday afternoon in Denison was rudely broken by the sound of the fire bell. In a few moments the streets were crowded with people and the apparatus was soon down in the south part of town where the fire was supposed to be. But when it was there, the cupboard was bare so far as a blaze was concerned. Can you blame the boys for swearing when down the street they're tearing and cannot find a blooming smell of smoke? Could you blame him if they killed him or in the creek they spilled him if they could but find the beastly bloody bloke?

Remember the special sale at Barcher Bros. continues until March 1st, two more weeks of bargains in furniture, carpets, rugs etc. It will pay to make your selections now and have the goods put away until wanted.
