SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Summer Season Sees No Diminution in Round of Pleasure.

The Womans club held an in-door picnic at the club room Friday afternoon. The club had expected to accept Mrs. Garrison's invitation to picnic on her beautiful lawn but owing to threatening rain the club room was selected. A very nice supper with every thing one could think of to eat, and then some, was provided. Mrs. Criswell was chairman of the menu committee and had provided not only supper but decorations of bunting and flowers. Miss Hazel Laub played and Miss Brodersen gave a recital. The Womans club has had a most successful year with Mrs. J. B. Romans as president.

On Thursday Mrs. Cochran gave a very delightful luncheon to fourteen ladies, the second of a series. Roses were the flowers used for able decorations and a three course menu was served by Misses Pearl Richardson and Miss Sylvia Cochren.

Coffee club and Penelope united Thursday afternoon. Mrs. R. A. Romans entertained the Coffee club and Penelope most royally together with a number of invited guests. A profusion of lovely flowers greeted the guests and Mrs. Romans' delightful hospitality made the guests very much at home. The Coffee club has a very happy way of its own of calling the members by their first names and the hostess decided this should be the custom for her afternoon. This alone seemed to turn the hand of time backward ten or twelve years and the guests were all sweet sixteen, and glad of it. Mrs. Romans served a very elegant supper proving that she has the combin'd skill of both the Penelope and Coffee clubs accomplishment of good cooking. The afternoon was made memorable by the care free happy spirit that prevailed and by the ever evidenced thoughtfulness of the hostess for her guests comfort.

Those most charming of hosts Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Voss gave a large musical on Friday evening as a compliment to Mesdames Lies, Gibson and Wescott. Pink roses and water lilies were used in the parlor and pink carnations with green fern were the table flowers used in the dining room. The company had a social visit on the broad porches until the sound of the music lured them into the house. Miss Hazel Laub our talented musician of which Denison is so proud, played exquisitely as she always does. Mrs. McConaughy's beautiful voice was also heard to splendid advantage. Miss Lillian Garrison, who is in excellent voice and who is a great favorite with our music lovers, also gave two much enjoyed songs. Frappe in the reception hall was served by the Misses Romans, Scriver and Laub. After the music Mrs. Voss assisted by Mrs. Pfarr and the Misses Romans, Scriver and Laub served very nice light refreshments in the dining room. Mrs. Gulick presided over the coffee urn. The guests enjoyed not only the music but the visit with the guests of honor as well. Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Hazzard were out of town guests in addition to Mesdames Gibson, Liese and Wescott.

One of the most pleasant social affairs of the past week was that given by Mrs. H. C. Simpson on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her niece, Mrs. M. E. Lies and Mrs. J. I. Gibson. The parlors were very artistically decorated with white and pink roses; the frappe was also pink, and throughout the elaborate two course luncheon the color scheme was carried. The favors were pink roses. Mrs. Boyle was the successful contestant in the catchy game of birds. Mrs. Simpson is a charming hostess and all greatly enjoyed the afternoon.

On Saturday last Mrs. J. C. Robinson entertained over forty of her lady friends and about the same number on Tuesday afternoon. A very pleasant social hour was enjoyed with a lively guessing on a geographical game in which Mrs. J. D. Ainsworth won the honors on Saturday and Mrs. C. M. Jensen in the Tuesday contest. Mrs. Robinson was assisted by her young lady friends in serving an elaborate luncheon. This beautiful home was daintily decorated with June roses. Mrs. Robinson entertains well and an invitation to her home is accepted with pleasure.

It is against our grain to brag, but we will say that the Review this week is a strong one from the standpoint of giving news in liberal quantities from all parts of the county.

Mr. Jesse Rumsey, of Cripple Creek, Col., gave his Denison relatives a delightful surprise this morning by dropping in on them for a few days visit. He will remain until Friday.

Half the year has gone and Christmas and New Years day are nearer looking to the future than to the past.

Mrs. Osborn from Harlan, is visiting her daughters, Mrs. Gibbert, Miss Bernice Osborne and the pretty grand children.

Clarence Kienle surprised the German M. E. parsonage on Tuesday by returning home from Charles City. He is the son who was in the Boylan jewelry store last year.

Walter Lamborn enjoyed a visit last week from his father, Mr. H. S. Lamborn and his sister, Mrs. W. C. Bryant, both of Griswold.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Meyers and Miss Meyers spent Monday in Omaha. Mr. Meyers made St. Joseph, Mo. a brief business visit on Tuesday.

Mrs. F. W. Meyers is expecting a visit this week from her sister, Mrs. A. Van Wagenen, of Sioux City, and her children, Miss Gertrude and Anthony.

The general opinion regarding the brick ice cream put out by the Fairmount Creamery Co. of Omaha, is that it is fine. Sold in Denison only by the Lamborn Drug Co.

The problem of what to do with the waste paper which accumulates so fast at the big store has caused the Balle-Brodersen firm to buy a paper press, and from now on, the paper will be baled up and sold.

Dr. Gibson went down to Omaha to attend an inter-state meeting of veterinary surgeons. To his surprise and the satisfaction of his friends he was promptly made the president of the organization. The next meeting is at Kansas City.

Congressman J. P. Conner returned from Washington City on Wednesday morning. He says the farmers east of Chicago are having a good grain harvest. The nomination of Taft and Sherman is giving great satisfaction in the east and there is no doubt of the success of the republican ticket.

Last Sunday was the day set for memorial exercises by two of the great fraternal lodges represented in Denison, the Woodman of the World and the Modern Woodman of America. Owing to the threatening rain the Woodman of the World decided to postpone the unveiling of the monument over the grave of member Dixon, and the M. W. A. held a hurried service at the cemetery and did not have the usual address and ritual exercises.

Mrs. Georgia McClellan took her departure for Fort Dodge on Tuesday forenoon, called there in her official capacity as chairman of the board of trustees of the Benedict Home at Des Moines. It seems there is a move on foot to move the location of the Home in the city and maybe away from Des Moines. "Father Coffin", the well known philanthropist of Fort Dodge, has offered the Home management twenty-five acres of ground and a fine building at his city. There are certain conditions which may stand in the way of an acceptance, but the offer was considered of such promise that the trustees of the Home have gone to Fort Dodge to examine. Mrs. McClellan will attend a big G. A. R. and W. R. C. gathering at Sheldon before her return to Denison.

STRICKEN BY DEATH

MRS. JOHN T. NEWCOM DIES SUDDENLY AT JACKSON, MINN.

FUNERAL SATURDAY AT DELOIT

One of the Oldest Settlers of Crawford County

It does seem sad indeed to contemplate the death of Mrs. John T. Newcom. She and her husband had planned to spend the summer visiting their relatives and children, expecting a most enjoyable time. All was turned to grief by her death when but a few weeks of the tour had been made. The following notice of her life is written by a her dear friend, Mrs. Horr, of Deloit:

Emma Henderson was born September 27, 1847, in Clarke county, Missouri, the daughter of Rev. John Henderson, a Baptist minister. She was married to James T. Newcom February 3, 1861. She moved with her husband to Story county, Iowa, where their eldest son, was born.

MRS. JOHN T. NEWCOM.

They lived at that place about six months and then moved to Crawford county, Iowa in the spring of 1865, on the home place where they still reside. She died at the home of their son, C. J. Newcom, June 24, 1908, where she and her husband were visiting. She was the mother of nine children, four of whom are now living. C. J. Newcom of Jackson, Minn.; Furman and Mrs. A. C. Dobson, of Selby, South Dakota; and Herman living on the home place. Of the five deceased Thomas D. the second son was burned to death when a few months old; Orine, the third son, and May, Effie and Hattie died of diphtheria. The first death was a sad one indeed, but when the last four named were taken in just a few short days and two buried at once, it was almost too much for the mother's strength to endure and she was very sick afterwards. Upon her recovery she was satisfied her little ones were in the paradise of God, and looking forward to a happy meeting with loved ones, she began life with renewed energy to make home happy for others of her household.

She united with the L. D. S. church March 1, 1866, being admitted by Elder Thos. Dobson and remained a faithful member until death. Forty-three years were spent on their home place near Deloit. Her kind loving disposition endeared her to all who knew her, and she was commonly known among us as "Aunt Emma". The remains were brought from Jackson, Minn., accompanied by the grief stricken husband and son C. J. Newcom and wife. They arrived here Friday morning and were met and conveyed to the home.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Saints church, Elder Chas. Derry, of Woodbine, by the request of the deceased, preached the funeral discourse, assisted by C. A. Butterworth. A very large crowd was in attendance which showed the respect in which she was held by the community. The pall bearers were, J. G. Myers, J. Cose, J. L. Miller, Geo. Winans, S. Horr and F. H. Brogden. The remain were laid to rest in the Deloit cemetery. Mr. A. C. Dobson and brother Turman, of Selby, S. D., arrived Friday evening the four children being present at the last sad rites to comfort their father. The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. Mrs. A. C. Arnold, sister of J. T. Newcom, of Mason City, was present at the funeral. She had received a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Newcom about a month previous. Mr. and Mrs. Newcom had intended to visit their children at Selby, S. D., this week planning a summer's visit among their children, hoping to regain better health. Mrs. Newcom had been in poor health a couple of years but not until a few hours before her death did she become so ill as to cause alarm. Mr. and Mrs. George Newcom, of Odebolt, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newcom, living near Odebolt, drove down to the funeral of their sister-in-law. The family wish to express their thanks to all who so kindly assisted them.
