CALLS BRYAN AN ARROGANT BOSS

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRAT REPLYS TO BRYAN'S ATTACK.

SAYS BRYAN IS AN INGRATE.

Col Guffey Charges that Bryan Begged for "Corporation" Money and Now Turns on the Donors.

"In the course of the Fourth of July speech to ten or fifteen men of the sixty-eight delegates from Pennsylvania Mr. Bryan made certain explicit declarations. He charged that the Pennsylvania delegation was taken from him by 'conspiracy' against the expressed wish of the great majority of the democratic voters. This statement is false. The state convention voted down a resolution endorsing his candidacy by a substantial majority.

"Mr. Bryan came to Pittsburg, pleaded his own case before the thousands in Exposition hall and put his own ticket in the field against the regular candidates. The result of his fervid appeals was the election of 3 1/2 Bryan delegates and 26 1/2 anti-Bryan delegates to the state convention.

"Mr. Bryan further asserted with all solemnity that his opposition to me for National committeeman was the first instance of any interference on his part in local or state politics.

"I believe, he continuously declared, 'that the people of each community know better what they want done than any outside party can know.' Therefore, he virtuously observes, he has abstained scrupulously from taking part in these controversies. What then was he doing in Kentucky, during the last race for senator? How does he, or can he explain his opposition to Mr. McGraw in West Virginia, or his begging appeals to democrats in Indiana to defeat Mr. Taggart? Did he, or did he not, try to humiliate Roger Sullivan and drive him off the committee?"

An Arrogant Boss.

"Mr. Bryan views me with sanctimonious horror as a 'political boss who shall never be in the party organization except over my protest,' as a 'bushwacker who should not be put into my council to betray me.'

"My council,' indeed, is the democratic party really absorbed. Has it no councils? Has Mr. Bryan the whole organization? 'Let the people rule,' he shouts and forthwith pleads to dictate not only every act, every office and every resolution of this convention but also to put the ban upon every man from any state who is opposed to his candidacy or his platform.

"Does he turn his vituperation against me because I am a boss? Not at all. I am no more of a 'boss' now than I was during the two campaigns when I won his approbation by trying to elect him. The only 'boss' he hates is the 'boss' opposed to his own, arrogant self—the most impudent.

domineering, devastating 'boss' the democratic party has ever known.

"Corporation Man."

"But there is another reason, I am a 'corporation man'. Well, I am. I was in 1896 and 1900 and I am today. In 1896 and 1900 the late Senator Jones declared there were just three men upon whom he never called for financial assistance in vain. One was the late Marcus Daly, another was William R. Hearst, the third was myself. Through his friend and manager, Mr. Bryan not only accepted gratefully, but beseechingly sought, our aid, and we gave freely thousand and thousands of dollars.

"Mr. Bryan knew then and knows now that I was as much of a 'corporation man' in 1896 and 1900 as I am in 1908 but did he 'scruple absteniously' to use our money to help his canvass? Let him answer at his leisure. And what followed?

"After his defeat Mr. Hearst became his patron and paid him thousands of dollars only to be turned upon without a qualm, though now when again a candidate. Mr. Bryan fawns upon him in hope of gaining his support. I reap my reward in a vicious, brutal attack from the man who promised to be my friend. Mr. Daly died soon enough not to see the ingratitude of one who accepts a man's assistance, and, at the first refusal to serve a selfish purpose, spits in his face."

"Mr. Bryan further asserted with all solemnity that his opposition to me for National committeeman was the first instance of any interference on his part in local or state politics.

"I believe, he continuously declared, 'that the people of each community know better what they want done than any outside party can know.' Therefore, he virtuously observes, he has abstained scrupulously from taking part in these controversies. What then was he doing in Kentucky, during the last race for senator? How does he, or can he explain his opposition to Mr. McGraw in West Virginia, or his begging appeals to democrats in Indiana to defeat Mr. Taggart? Did he, or did he not, try to humiliate Roger Sullivan and drive him off the committee?"

WORK FOR CHILDRENS HOME.

Marion Johnson Occupies Methodist Pulpit With Plea for Aid for Children.

Rev. Marion Johnson, of Sioux City, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday morning making an earnest plea for support of the Iowa Children's Home Finding Association of Des Moines. The association is doubtless doing a good work and the response on the part of the congregation was liberal. Mr. Johnson is here to investigate cases needing attention and also to place children in good homes. Those desiring may take children on probation. Several children from this institute have already found excellent homes in Denison.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I considered it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had used it in 1902, believe it would have saved me a hundred dollars', doctor bill." Sold by Ph. A. Schlumberger.

Make your plans to attend the Chautauqua.

Next year let Denison run its own Chautauqua. Other towns smaller than this, do so with great success.

All the youngsters in the county are preparing to join the Indians at the Chautauqua Camp. It will be heap big fun.

Lieutenant Hobson is an eloquent speaker and an interesting figure in National life, but don't let him scare you about a war with Japan.

The board of supervisors has refused to bear any part of the expense in grading the road south of Denison. Denison pays a large per cent of the taxes but is refused any favors by the bovine board.

The Review will keep a list of rooms available for transients during Chautauqua week. This service will be free. If you have rooms to rent list them with us. If you want a room come and inquire at Review office.

Mrs. J. B. Glassburner is in possession of a number of interesting photographs sent to her by her daughter Mamie, of Foochow China. There are groups of Bible women, boarding school pupils, day school teachers and native physicians, also the missionary building where Miss Glassburner spends her time. One photo is very impressive of the cemetery where rests the remains of those who gave their lives for missions in the Hue Sang Massacre, near Foochow a few years ago. The following inscription is placed on the monument, "They overcame by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony."

OTTO HUEBNER IS WELL LIKED

YOUNG FARMER BUSINESS MAN IS PROVING POPULAR CANDIDATE.

ENGLISH AND GERMAN SCHOLAR.

Equips Him to be a Valuable Member of the Board of Supervisors

It seems early in the year to speak of candidates for county office but one of the few good things about the primary law is that men are before the people long enough so that their records can be thoroughly studied.

The recent bond issue has opened the eye of the people to the necessity of having a good business board and to the advisability of having both political parties represented on the board as a check upon each other.

Among the strong men whom the republicans present this year is Mr. Otto Huebner of Hanover township. Mr. Huebner is a German. He was born in Chicago in 1877, and has lived the greater part of his life right here in Crawford county. Thus he knows the people and their wants as few men can. He has for four years been clerk of Hanover township in spite of the fact that that township usually elects democrats to office. Two years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Minnie Niemitz of Soldier township, thus showing himself to be partial to Crawford county in all things. Mr. Huebner has a fine education in English and German. He has been a successful farmer and business man, for the successful farmer must be a business man as well as a plowman in this day and age. He would make an excellent supervisor. His reputation for honesty and uprightness is excelled by none and he has energy, good sense and conservatism which will make him a valuable addition to the board.

We would invite our readers who are interested in good government more than in party government, especially in county affairs, to look him up. Find out for yourselves what kind of a man he is and determine if it would not be a good idea to entrust him with the affairs of the county which are of real dollars and cents importance to every taxpayer.

METHODIST CHURCH BUILDING.

This Fine Building has been Thoroughly Cleaned and Refreshed for Use.

We well remember that about thirty years ago at this season of the year the ladies of the M. E. church banded together and cleaned and painted the interior of the building getting it ready for the coming of the elder and a quarterly meeting service. It was left on a Saturday evening fresh and clean for the morning's use. But in the night came a cyclone and tornado which moved the Catholic church off its foundations, over turned the Meyers barn and jarred the Methodist church so, that the plastering fell down ruining all the work the ladies had done and the Elder held his meeting in the Baptist church which that society kindly offered for use. Well, the Methodist ladies of today renovated the building, and it was ready for use last Sunday. Happily no tornado came; and so it was occupied for all the usual Sabbath services. Mrs. Chamberlin had the work specially in charge. Although she is not so tall as many other ladies of the city, she has executive ability and under her direction the improvements were made. The many rooms in the basement used by the Sunday school were given special attention, and painted and papered in a way to greatly improve their appearance. The church was thrown open for use again last Sunday and many were the compliments given the ladies who had the cleaning matter in charge.

July 19—Samuel Warns Saul, and the People. I Saml. 12: 1-5, 13-25

Our lesson to-day considers one of the great scenes depicted in the bible. The Children of Israel living about 2,000 years before Jesus was born are gathered in great numbers at a point in their country called Gilgal and there with ceremonies lasting many days, made Saul their king. After the ceremonies there comes an address by the great prophet Samuel and what he said forms the verses of the lesson.

It should be remembered that Samuel had been the leader of these people since he was little more than a lad, had directed them in religious as well as worldly things, and had grown gray in their service. He was about to turn his position as all but a spiritual leader to the new king. Now behold him! He stands forth before the vast assembly and presents his life as an open book before them and calls all to witness whether he had in any way defrauded, or oppressed them, accepted bribes for judgment. The people with one voice exclaimed "Thou hast not defrauded us, oppressed us, or taken ought from any one hand." What a magnificent scene was this. Happy is the man who can look his wife and children, his neighbors and friends in the face and with consciousness of no willful wrong doing, ask that his life record be inspected. How proud he is, if he feels that the answer will be commendation. If there was a time when he did wrong, and now he is doing right, how he points with pride to his present ways, and would have friends forget the past. The great Apostle Paul well says "Happy is the man who condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth." I urge as one strong point of this lesson that men and women live so that they can like Samuel declare, my life is open before all men, I ask you to point out my willful wrong doing." There will come a time, when the Almighty God will judge our lives, and indeed happy is he who will be found blameless at that day. It is then, that the life and death of the Blessed Jesus will avail, and belief in Him will clothe us in His righteousness and we can receive the welcome of "Well done."

Samuel proceeded to tell the waiting Jews just what he would tell us, that if they, and we, obey God and serve Him with all our hearts we shall be blessed, but if we turn from Him, swift destruction will follow. Samuel said "God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you." His last charge to them was this "Fear the Lord and serve Him in truth and with all your heart." In this same talk Samuel declares that God will not throw off entirely His people no matter what they may do, and Jesus said He came to seek and to save those who are lost. So in the old testament lesson there is very much to guide and help us of the present day. We should try to have our lives like that of Samuel, should follow his advice of serving God with all our hearts, and remember that God loves all men, and will not that any should perish but that all have everlasting life.
