

KIRON.

Edw. J. Johnson went to Stanhope, Saturday evening, where he visited relatives and old friends over Sunday.

Rev. J. Moline moved part of his household goods from near Arthur last week for storage in Kiron for some time. The balance he took to Denison where his family will reside temporarily. He expects to make a trip to Canada with a view of locating.

John Lawrence went to Omaha on Saturday being called there by the death of his brother E. E. Lawrence. E. E. was born and raised in this locality and was numbered as one of Kiron's business men when the New Kiron was started. We are unable to furnish any further particulars this week of his death.

Capt. Brown, the noted temperance speaker, is billed to speak at the Kiron hall next Sunday afternoon. He is a very interesting and posted speaker upon the temperance question and it will be quite a treat to again have an opportunity to hear him.

Selma Carlson went to Lake View on Thursday joining the Kiron people and returning home with them Friday afternoon.

The laying of the corner stone of the Baptist church on Thursday afternoon was attended by a large number. As the proceedings were listened to by Chas. K. Meyers, of the Review, and who will write up the same for the Review readers it will be unnecessary for ye scribe to do so.

The residences of Will Schroeder and N. P. Swanson and the store building of A. E. Anderson have been transformed by their new dress of paint the past week.

Ernest Paulson has traded his old steam engine for a new one of a smaller capacity.

C. M. Olson and Minnie Tuleen were married on Wednesday evening last week, the legal performance that made the twain one, was said by Rev. A. Lagerquist. The affair seemed somewhat sudden to our people of our town, but to say that it was entirely unexpected would not be wholly true for coming events often cast their shadows before, and Mr. Olson has been for some time evincing a strong interest in matters relating to that part of town. They are among our best people and deserve the good wishes of their friends in Kiron and vicinity.

Independence day has come and gone. It was a sane celebration throughout the entire locality and as a result not an accident occurred to mark the day. Quite a number gathered at the John Tureen grove, north of town where the Baptists Sunday school of Kiron and Arthur held a union picnic. The program rendered by the schools was most interesting and was listened to and enjoyed by all. The Lindstrom brass band which appeared publicly for the second time assisted greatly in entertaining the large crowd with a number of good pieces of music which they played in a very creditable manner. The Lutherans held a general picnic celebration at the shady grove of E. N. Sandstrom's, east of Kiron. A very large number from far and near attended. The program which was partly rendered in the forenoon and the balance in the afternoon was excellently arranged and ably rendered. The oration by Rev. J. A. Christiansen was most patriotic and at times thrilled the listeners. He praised the noble flag of the stars and stripes and exhorted his listeners to be loyal to it. It was one of the best orations of a Fourth of July nature that many present had ever listened to and one that will be long remembered. The band of Wheeler township furnished the music for the day. This band seemed to play its very best. At the close of the program a ball game between Denison and Kiron was witnessed and to many it was the first ball game they had seen played. The Kiron boys had little practice but they played in a way that made the Denison team scratch and work to win, which they did, winning 11 scores to Kiron's 9. Had our boys had the time to practice some, they would have easily beaten the visiting team. The Denison boys were perfect gentlemen and the game was entirely free from dissatisfaction and rag chewing, and the Denison team was freely cheered by the crowd who witnessed the game. Umpire Billings meted out the decisions fairly and not once was he disputed. In the evening a brilliant display of fire works wound up the celebration. A number of our people who felt the inclination for a more strenuous celebration were drawn to some of the nearby towns, which had more or less attractions arranged for the day.

A. A. Cedarberg, route carrier No. 1, took a vacation the past week. Bert Loomer delivered the mail in the meanwhile. On Saturday he accompanied his sister and children who has been visiting in Kiron and nearby locality the past weeks as far as Sioux City on their return home to Minnesota.
