SCHLESWIG.

The infant son of Aug Kastner and wife, near Schleswig, was christened Leonard LeRoy Kastner last Sunday. The occasion was also celebrated in honor of Mrs. Kastner's birthday.

Among those from this vicinity who were in attendance at the state fair were: Messrs Albert Naeve, Will Bowers, Theo. Ruhwer and sons, Julius and John, also Mesdames Cadd and Ellis.

Henry Reisen Jr. living southeast of town, celebrated his birthday Saturday evening. Henry and Pauline Schroeder were Denison callers Saturday.

Something took place at the John Schiernbeck home east of town, on Friday of last week which might have proven destructive had it not been for prompt action by Mr. Schiernbeck. Mr. and Mrs. Schiernbeck arose early and went to milk after having started a fire in the kitchen stove, upon returning from milking they discovered that the gable of the kitchen was afire. Mr. Schiernbeck seized the pails of milk and dashed the contents into the blaze stopping the fire. Milk is an excellent fire extinguisher.

Fred Jepsen Jr. died at 11 o'clock Sunday evening, this death was caused by appendicitis. The deceased had been ill since last week Monday. Fred was 21 years of age and a young man of great energy and of excellent habits. He leaves a loving father and mother, besides many other relatives.

Herman Schroeder Jr. is reported quite ill.

A Traveling Man Received the Thanks of Every Passenger in the Gaa.

"I must tell you my experience on an east bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car. I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, so bad, in fact, that I was almost afraid to take the risk; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it,) ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into LeGrande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into LeGrande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." ### WEST SIDE, IOWA.

C. W. Payne brought in five car loads of feeders from Omaha recently.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Calderwood have been at Dodge City, Minn., for a week's visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Freed are now living at Denison, having left for that place and gone to housekeeping. Mr. Freed has been working here for several weeks.

Miss Laura Kracht has gone to Burke, Idaho, where she will teach school the coming year. Her many friends here will wish her the best of success in her new position.

Mrs. Amelia Dwyer and daughter, Mrs. James H. Willard, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, sister and niece of W. L. Spottswood, who visited here. They have gone to Los Angeles, Cal., to visit at their old home.

Miss Alvina Scheldorf has returned from Everly, Iowa, where she had been visiting relatives and helping care for her mother who has been very ill there and had to undergo an operation. Miss Scheldorf reports her mother as improving now but quite slowly, and that she is now at Moneda, Iowa, with her daughter, Mrs. Reinholdt.

The Methodist Sunday school had a great time at their picnic. The young folks were taken out in the morning to Henry Dobson's on a hay rack and soon after dinner was served, after which all joined in playing various games, enjoying the swings and having races.

Beautiful in every detail was the wedding which occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Gary last Thursday morning when their daughter Marietta Kittie, was united in marriage to Mr. William Theodore Emmett, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Beatrice, sister of the bride, played Mendelssohn's Wedding march while the bridal party descended the stairs to the parlor and took position near a bower of ferns and roses where the ceremony which united the two young people was performed by Rev. E. M. Cathcart, pastor of the M. E. church. After congratulations the guests repaired to the dining room, which was decorated in ferns, smylax and sweet peas, and partook of a three course wedding breakfast which was served by Misses Charlotte Anderson and Beatrice Gary.

The bride is well known to all as she has grown up in our midst. She was graduated from our public schools, then entered Morningside college, Sioux City, where she received instruction in piano and violin music for about two years. She is a sweet, attractive young lady and a favorite among her friends and will prove a worthy companion to the man who won her. Although the groom is a stranger to West Side people, he has proven a favorite with those who have met him. He is a pleasing young man and a bright and honest business fellow. He has been employed as druggist in Sioux City for two years, when just recently he decided to locate in Denver. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts.

Don't be afraid to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is the best medicine made for these diseases. For sale by Ph. A. Schlumberger. 36-5t

"ENOUGH" IS FATAL.

Out of the beginnings of philosophy three came this bit of truth: "If you say you have enough, you perish, always add, always walk, always proceed."

No author of the present day is writing anything that digs deeper into the "why of things" than does that thought.

The people who have ceased to "add, walk and proceed" have ceased to be useful to society.

The merchant who is satisfied is doomed. The merchant who believes that his business is big enough, useful enough, important enough, is out of the race.

In all lines of business there must be, of necessity, the ceaseless adding, walking, proceeding--the reaching, pushing, shoving, pulling, pressing for greater usefulness to the community. These things presage growth--they are growth.

Under modern conditions this striving and struggling would be of little avail, if it were not for advertising--which makes striving and struggling worth while, and effective.

The advertiser who says "enough", who thinks he is striving sufficiently, has really ceased to strive at all. "Enough" is a delusion.

Forever and Forever.

I carved her name upon the tree. Or her initials, rather. Intinged with mine, as you may see. Today 'twould prove great bother. But then--life then was at its spring. Love's labor caused but laughter. When love was young, without a sting Or thought of grief hereafter.

I'm sure of this and that we swore We'd never, never, sever. But love each other more and more Forever and forever. The proof is here, as you'll confess. This puzzles me, though, sadly: If "M. H." stood for Mamie Hess, Or was it Mabel Hadley? --Brooklyn Life.

Retrousee.

The goldenrods run through her hair Across a brow in lilacs laid. Or down to eyes of velvet where The violets bloom bouquets of shade. Or round her cheeks of blushing roses To kiss her poppy lips a-fret. Oh, pity 'tis that where her nose is A funny little stub is set! --San Francisco Chronicle.

The Limit.

Tall Thespian--So the manager said I was a dead one, did he? Comedian--He did that! He said you were even too dead to play the ghost in "Hamlet."--Chicago News.

Better and Brighter.

The world keeps growing better day by day. 'Tis seldom now that any little girl is started out upon the long, long way Compelled to answer to the name of Pearl. --Chicago Record-Herald.
