Three Good Short Stories

Three Good Special Articles

Geo. Fitch's Department of Humor

Bits of Verse And Little Tales of Odd Things

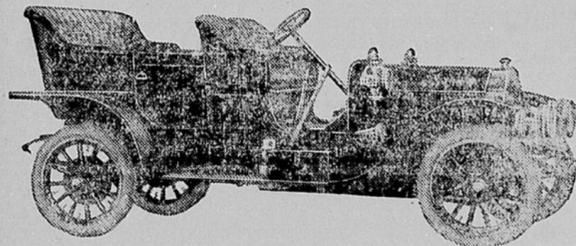

That is what has been prepared for the entertainment and instruction of our readers in the next issue of our Literary Magazine section.

The stories are stories with human interest in them and every one is clean and wholesome, fit to be read at any fireside.

The special articles deal with timely topics. One gives an intimate view of The New Boy in the White House, with pictures of this typical American lad. Another tells the remarkable story of Gypsy Smith's regeneration of Pittsburg and his amazing midnight parade. Another gives a humorist's view of "Sunny Jim" Sherman, V. P.

As rapidly as possible each issue of our Literary Magazine section will be made better and stronger. The best is our aim and nothing less will satisfy us. You will more than get your money's worth out of it every week.

KIRON ITEMS

The rooms which were recently vacated by E. W. Paulson and family in the O. E. Sthran's hardware store are being fitted up for Barber Goodrich, who has moved his barber business into the same.

S. P. Sjoquist, who left this locality some ten years and during which time his whereabouts have been unknown to his family and friends, returned last week and together with his wife will go to housekeeping near Brogan, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown spent Thursday afternoon in Kiron bidding friends and old acquaintances goodbye as they leave this week for Oakes, S. D. This is another good family which will be missed in various ways. Ernest Samuelson, who has been spending the winter with relatives in Kiron returned to Sedwick, S. D., on Wednesday.

Anthony W. Anderson and family of Woodbury county were the guests the past week at the home of Mr. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Christina Anderson. Mr. Anderson used to be a prominent Kironite some twenty years ago and his many old friends and neighbors are pleased to again meet with him. They expect to leave Merville for Minneapolis, where their future home will be.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lindskoog spent Friday afternoon in Kiron making purchases of furniture and other necessities for to commence house-keeping on a farm near Odebolt.

At the recent school election Dr. F. A. Burrows was elected school director. G. A. Norelius, the efficient director for the past years, who has given good satisfaction and who took pains and effects to have the best of schools, declined to be a candidate. We are pleased that his successor is to be a man with equal judgment and interests for the continuance of our schools.

Jons Englund sold his eighty acre farm north of Kiron to his neighbor, Hans Levin, for $110 per acre and purchased the Jonas Fanberg farm in Ida county, paying $133 per acre.

Henry Anderson returned last week from the Conn hospital at Ida Grove, where he had his appendix removed. Although not having regained his usual strength he is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Michaelson returned to Kiron last Friday from their extended visit and stay at Akron, Iowa.

In our item last week which stated that Julius Johnson was hurt in a runaway was incorrect, it should have read Ernest Moline instead.

The annual Free Mission State Conference held in Kiron the past week is now an event of the past. The session opened on Wednesday evening and closed on Sunday evening. The forenoon sessions were devoted to the business portion while the afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to preaching service.

The conference was attended by quite a number and had the roads been in better shape for travel many more would have attended. The snow storm on Sunday assisted in keeping many away. The conference was a most harmonious and successful one and the gospel sermons and discussions will surely bear fruit. Among the visiting ministers were Rev. Nels Petersen and Rev. J. Tronberg of Des Moines, Rev. C. M. Andersen, Madrid; Rev. J. Pederson, Essex; Rev. E. S. Swenson, Linn Grove; Rev. Albert Carlson of Albert City; Rev. O. Sandberg, Meriden, Rev. Nels Peterson of Des Moines preached at the Baptist church Sunday forenoon and Rev. J. Ironberg in the evening.

The series of Holiness meetings held at the Kiron Hall the past ten days by Theron Beck of Manilla and Evangelist Craig of Illinois closed on Sunday night. Quite a number of members of this organization from Denison and Manilla attended a part of the time. Evangelist Craig is a fearless and forcible expounder of the gospel and hits sin wherever it is found. While a number of our people do not approve of all he said, it can't but be hoped that his meetings may result in much good.

Gust Johnson and wife and two daughters of Bronson, Iowa, are guests at the home of C. J. Johnson and are visiting with old neighbors and friends. They used to reside in Kiron years ago but during the last thirteen years their home has been at Bronson. While here Mr. Johnson subscribed for the Review in order to keep in touch with Kiron and Crawford county.

The Young Peoples' Society of the Lutheran church held a sociable at the church on Friday evening, which was largely attended and some $22.00 was taken in.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle of the Lutheran church will meet on Thursday afternoon next week with Mrs. S. N. Sandstrom in old Kiron.

Gust Selander and his niece, Miss Belle Selander, drove to Kiron Sunday morning to attend the meetings at the Mission church.

William Paulson, the obliging clerk at the Sthran Bros. store, has taken a vacation and before the week has ended William will be a married man. The event which transpires on Wednesday evening will be reported next week.

Ephram Levine ended his visit with Kiron friends and left for Alta, Iowa, where he will spend the summer.

P. A. Peterson went to purchase material for his blacksmith shop.

I am coming to have a talk with you in the Swedish language. I will be prepared to do ladies' and gentlemen's steam and dry cleaning and pressing. Orders taken for tailormade suits. I guarantee satisfaction and fit. Will be in Kiron one week. Call and see me at Lawrence building March 15. John Casperson, The Tailor.

NEW CABINET MEMBERS CHOSEN

PRESIDENT TAFT HAS SELECTED A STRONG WORKING CABINET

BRIEF SKETCH OF THEIR LIVES.

Iowa Honored by James Wilson Remaining at Head of Agricultural Department Mr Knox is Premier

We know our readers will be glad to see the names of the new cabinet officers and to learn something as to their history, so we give them as follows:

Secretary of State.
Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania—Born at Brownsville, Pa., in 1853; graduated from Mt. Union college, Ohio, in 1872; admitted to bar in 1875; assistant United States district attorney, western district of Pennsylvania, 1876-7; since 1877 member of law firm of Knox & Reed, which represents many large corporations, including the Carnegie company; attorney general of the United States 1901-04; United States senator from Pennsylvania, 1904-09.

Secretary of the Treasury.
Franklin MacVeagh, of Illinois—Born on farm in Chester county, Pa.; graduated from Yale in 1862; Columbia Law school, New York, 1864; abandoned law practice in New York because of ill health and removed to Chicago; established the wholesale grocery house of Franklin MacVeagh & Co., of which he has been president since its organization; president of Chicago Citizens' association in 1874; nominated by democrats for United States senator in 1894 and made canvass of the state, but was defeated in legislature; has been president of Chicago bureau of charities and vice president of American Civic association; chairman immigration department of National Civic Federation.

Secretary of War.
Jacob M. Dickinson, of Tennessee—Jacob McGavock Dickinson is the southern member of President Taft's cabinet. A Mississippian by birth, he is a citizen of Tennessee and as a Cleveland democrat supported Mr. Taft for the presidency. Probably his most notable public service was as counsel for the United States in the Alaskan boundary case before the arbitration tribunal in London in 1903. He was an assistant attorney general of the United States during Cleveland's administration, and has been general counsel for the Illinois Central Railroad company for some years, spending most of his time in Chicago, where the general offices of that company are located. Mr. Dickinson is 58 years old, having been born in Columbus, Miss., in 1851. He is a graduate of the University of Nashville, from which school he has a degree as master of arts, and he studied law at Columbia university, at the University of Leipzig and in Paris. He is president of the American Bar association and belongs to the Chicago club, the Onwentsia and the Iroquois clubs, all of Chicago. Mr. Dickinson is the owner of the famous Belle Meade stock farm in Nashville.

Attorney General.
George W. Wickersham, of New York—Born in Pittsburg in 1858; studied civil engineering at Lehigh university; graduated from law school of University of Pennsylvania in 1880; practiced law in Philadelphia 1880 to 1882; one year in office of Chamberlain, Carter & Hornblower; in 1884 became managing clerk of the law firm of Strong & Caldwell, with which Henry W. Taft, brother of the president-elect is associated; known as the "office lawyer" of the firm, the member who knows the law and plans the conduct of cases; his legal ability rated by Martindale's law directory as "very good" and under recommendation the law directory classes him as "very high."

Secretary of the Navy.
George Von L. Meyer, of Massachusetts—Born in Boston in 1858; graduated from Harvard in 1879; trustee Providence Institution for Savings; director Old Colony Trust company, of Boston, and of several manufacturing corporations; member Boston common council, 1890-92; member Massachusetts house of representatives, 1892-96; speaker from 1894 to 1896; member republican national committee, 1898-1905; ambassador to Italy, 1900-05; ambassador to Russia, 1905-07; postmaster general, March 4, 1907, to March 4, 1909.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor.
Charles Nagel, of Missouri—Born in Texas in 1849 and removed to St. Louis when a child; graduated from St. Louis law school in 1873; senior member of law firm of Nagel & Kirby; professor at St. Louis law school and member board of trustee, of Washington university; member Missouri house of representatives, 1881-83; president St. Louis city council, 1893-97; member republican national committee; intimate friend of William H. Taft for many years; member Lawyer's club, of New York.

Secretary of the Interior.
Richard A. Ballinger, of Washington—Born at Boonesboro, Io., in 1858; graduated from Williams college in 1884; United States court commissioner, 1890-92; late judge of supreme court, Jefferson county, Washington; member of law firm of Ballinger, Donald & Battle, of Seattle; mayor of Seattle, 1904-06; commissioner general land office at Washington, 1907-09; author of several books on law subjects.

Postmaster General.
Frank H. Hitchcock, of Massachusetts—Born at Amherst, O., in 1867; graduated from Harvard in 1891 and from Columbia university law school in 1894; government official since 1891; was at different times chief of the division of foreign markets of the department of agriculture; chief clerk of the department of commerce and labor; member of the government exposition board and first assistant postmaster general; manager of William H. Taft's campaign for the presidency.

Secretary of Agriculture.
James Wilson, of Iowa—Born in Scotland in 1835; came to the United States in 1852; removed to Iowa from Connecticut in 1855; engaged in farming in Tama county, Io., in 1861; member of Iowa assembly three sessions, speaker one session; was also state railway commissioner of Iowa; member of congress, 1873-7 and 1883-5; for six years director agricultural experiment station and professor of agriculture at Iowa college, Ames, Io.; secretary of agriculture since 1897.

While the large majority of farmers leaving the county this spring went west, a few cast their lot to the eastward. Among these was Mr. Henry C. Blohm, who came out from Clinton county six years ago and bought land in section 31, Milford township. He has recently sold his place to Mr. Chris Hennings and bought a farm within four miles of DeWitt in Clinton county and will live there. His wife's people reside in that locality. The new farm cost him $125 an acre. Mr. Blohm is a fine, strong German, and will make things move on the new place. He has paid for the Review nearly two years ahead thus showing what he thinks of the paper. May good luck attend him.

One of the active, rustling young men of Boyer township, Mr. J. A. Rannells was in town last week. His father, W. C. Rannells, has been a Review reader for fully thirty years. He and his wife are about to move from the farm in Boyer to Dunlap. In the days of sixteen years ago, their daughter, Miss Flora, was one of the most successful of the primary teachers in our schools. Her death was a severe loss to the parents as she was a young woman of most lovable character. Her sister, Minnie, was also about that time, a school teacher here. Mr. J. A. Rannells and other brothers will remain out in the country on the land which amounts to many acres, and batch it.

Mr. Knut Mattson, who has lived for many years in Stockholm ownership not far from the Lutheran church, will move with his family to near Oskaloosa, Iowa. They will be on a farm within two miles of that flourishing city. This will give the children a chance to gain a superior education without leaving home. Mr. Mattson will have the Review as in the years past. He says his wife was insistent on that, for thus she will get all the news as to the old neighbors about Boyer and Kiron. They read the Sunday School column every week and Mr. Mattson says he wants that, too. It is wise for a man with a large family to move to a place where the children can get good schooling.

It would appear that one of the blessings which the discovery of the many uses of electricity has brought to mankind, is to help in defective hearing. This is brought to mind by receiving a call last week from Mr. Stanley Browne, the well known school teacher from Deloit. As is known, he has been troubled with lack of perfect hearing for many years. He now feels however, that his perception of sound is greatly increased by the use of what is called an "Acoustician." The apparatus is worn so to be plainly seen. There is first something attached to the lapel of the coat about three times as big as a watch. This catches the sound waves, which are made louder and stronger by a small electric battery carried in the vest pocket. These sound waves are carried on to the ear. The sound receiver, battery and appliances in the ear are connected together with small cords containing electric wires. The ear appliance is held in place by a light attachment fitting over the head. Mr. Browne is very well pleased and feels like a new man. We are glad that both he and others whose difficulty in hearing is similar, can be helped.
