

Are Drugs Necessary? Do Drugs Cure Disease? Can Nature be Assisted?

If people were born right and afterwards lived right, there would be no use for medicine. Every doctor knows this. So do other well-informed people. One thing more. When a person lives wrongly, or acquires bodily weakness by heredity, medicine can do only very little. Medicine cannot cure him. Only charlatans claim that medicines will cure disease. Medicines may palliate symptoms. Medicines may urge the powers of Nature to resist disease. Medicines sometimes arouse the efforts of the human body to right itself against derangements. This is the most that medicine can do.

A man accidentally puts his finger in the fire. Instinctively he wets his finger in his mouth, then blows on it for the cooling effect. This is no cure. He knows it very well. But it makes it feel better for the time being.

People eat unwisely. This produces dyspepsia or indigestion. The only rational cure is to eat correctly. Yet if a palliative is at hand the pains of indigestion can be mitigated, the throes of dyspepsia assuaged. The medicine cannot be said to have cured. It simply palliates disagreeable symptoms. The cure must come through right living.

Take Peruna, for instance. No one claims Peruna is a cure for dyspepsia. But Peruna will stimulate the stomach to perform its function properly. Peruna will increase the flow of digestive fluids, without which digestion cannot be carried on at all. It will increase the relish of food, the appetite.

It is admitted that all this can be accomplished by right living, but there are so many people who either will not or do not know how to eat correctly that a tremendous amount of good can be done by the wise use of Peruna.

A stomach that has been frequently abused performs the function of digestion very lazily. Such a stomach allows the food to remain undigested for some time after it is swallowed. This leads to fermentation of the food. Sour stomach is the result. This goes on week after week, until the blood is poisoned with the products of fermentation. This condition is very apt to produce rheumatism.

It is not claimed that Peruna will cure rheumatism. Nothing will cure rheumatism but correct living. But it is claimed that Peruna will assist a badly abused stomach to perform its work.

If a person would correct his habits, persist in right eating and temperate ways, undoubtedly the stomach would right itself, the blood would rid itself of the poison, and everything would be right. But as said before there are a multitude of people who will not or cannot adopt right methods of living. To such people Peruna is a boon. A dose before meals will assist the stomach to do its work. This prevents fermentation of the food, brings about normal digestion, and all the train of ills that follow indigestion disappear.

In other words, Peruna is helpful to those who live badly, or those who have acquired some chronic weakness. Peruna does not cure, but it assists the powers of Nature to bring about a cure.

The whip does not increase the power of the horse to pull a load, but judiciously used it stimulates the horse to use his powers at the right time, without which he could not have pulled the load.

This illustrates the effect of Peruna, or any other good remedy upon the system. Taken at the right time, it calls forth the powers of the human system to meet the encroachments of disease, and thus cuts short, if not entirely ends, the diseased action.

No one should ever attempt to substitute medicine in the place of right living. In the end such an attempt will prove a disaster. But an occasional use of the right medicine at the right time is a godsend, and no reasonable person will undertake to deny it.

Those who know how to use Peruna find it of untold value. By and by the world will get wise enough so that through correct living no medicine at all will be needed. But that time has not arrived. In the meantime, while the world is approaching that perfection in which all medicine will be eliminated, Peruna is a handy remedy to have in the home.

Slight derangements of the stomach; slight catarrhal attacks of the liver, the throat, bronchial tubes, lungs or bowels; these attacks are sure to lead to grave diseases, and can be averted by the judicious use of Peruna.

Wouldn't you like to read a few unsolicited testimonials from people who have used Peruna, and who stand ready to confirm the above statements concerning it. If so, address the Peruna Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio, and we will send some prepaid.

STANLEY BROWNE ANSWERS

Give Views Opposed to Previous Review Contributors on New School Law.

EDITOR REVIEW:—I ask, your indulgence for space to note briefly some of the vagaries of "A Farmer" "Another Farmer" and "Subscriber" which appeared in the last two issues of your paper.

When we hear men talking about a board to be appointed, supposedly by some higher power, it is time—not exactly to send petitions as "Subscriber" suggests—but to get a copy of the bill and read it to learn what it contains.

This County Board is to be elected by the PEOPLE at a non-partizan election held in the spring and elected from candidates who have previously filed nomination papers so that the people will have a chance to know and select. So much for the nonsense about the people not ruling and about taxation without representation. So far as the salary of this county board is concerned the closing of just two of those schools with less than five pupils will pay the expense of a meeting held every school month of the year. "Farmer" tries to carry the idea that there is some scheme to consolidate when the fact is that the law is not changed in substance from what it now is on this subject; that it is left to the voters of any community to say if they want consolidation or not.

"Farmers" talk about the country and city boys is wholly beside the question. The exceptional boy or sometimes the boy who has not had exceptional advantages in either town or country will always pass the herd and proves nothing, not even that the rural schools have been improving during the last 20 years. The fact is, however, they have not been getting better but have steadily fallen off in attendance a sure sign of lack of interest on the part of the people.

The County plan means system and plan and uniformity of work and results. It means more steady tenure on the part of teachers and the certainty of dismissal for cause means better work from them and will make them more efficient just as the mail carriers are efficient.

In the matter of the election of the County Superintendent by the County board; if there is one wise provision in the law that is it. We all know that time and time again men have been elected to this important office not because they had any ability, but because they were "good fellows" or could put up a combine with some other good fellow in a convention.

Under the new plan the County Superintendent would be a learned and a skilled man or woman to do skilled work with no political scores to pay off or favors to grant to place some one under obligations for future use. We all know that political pull has meant a certificate in the past all over the State of Iowa and in too many case means favorable recommendation even though undeserved at the time when the Word of the County Superintendent is all powerful with the State examining board. The new plan puts him where he can be absolutely fair and fearless without endangering his living.

About the Township Treasurer, just a word. I have taught 16 terms in District No. 2 of Goodrich and Mrs. Browne has taught the same time in District No. 5 of the same township and in that time we have never drawn a single dollar from the Township Treasurer. Our orders were cashed at any bank and could as well have been settled with the County Treasurer and have saved the salaries to the tax payers. An ex-treasurer of the above township said that the office was worth $140 and all he had to do was to make an occasional settlement with the bank. A sinecure! No wonder the treasurer of the Des Moines District is sending out circulars to the treasurers of the state urging them to fight for their graft and is being re-echoed by the small fry of this and other counties. The county Treasurer can handle this money with no extra bookkeeping and as satisfactorily to all and save perhaps $5000 or enough to pay the salary of the County Superintendent and County School Board and have money left. The district treasurer's office is a snap and pure "graft."

Let us talk about improvement who two thirds of the teachers do not change locations every first or second term as they now do and when there are fewer than 30 schools with less than ten pupils in a winter term and when more than one third of the teachers are not teaching on either a provisional or third grade certificate. The above is the condition now after "twenty years of improvement!"

Iowa's Own Apple Delicious

DELICIOUS is the most satisfactory all-purpose apple ever grown. Beautiful in appearance, luscious in flavor; absolutely hardy in bud, magnificent foliage, a young and prolific bearer and a perfect keeper and shipper—excellent Ben Davis. Brings 25% to 50% more on all markets than any other high-quality variety.

Originated in Iowa For Iowa Planters

Delicious was originated by the late Mr. Jesse Hiatt of Peru, Madison Co., Iowa and introduced by us in 1895. The original tree is still standing, now 26 years old and has borne 20 successive crops without a failure. It has successfully withstood 40 degrees below zero and 6 degrees below freezing at blooming time without injury to the fruit. Nearly all other trees in this orchard were killed outright by these conditions. When we purchased the sole right to Delicious in 1895, Mr. Hiatt wrote us: "I have never seen a man taste it but who says it is the best apple he ever saw. It hangs on the tree as well as Ben Davis, keeps as well, is as good a shipper, (bruises, instead of decaying, dry up like Ben Davis), is as large, has finer color, a stronger grower, harder, bears as young and every year. Once introduced, there will be but little call for Jonathan. Both trees and fruit are perfect models. Tree is strong, has finely molded limbs which are stronger and need little or no pruning of fruit. Does not sprout or sucker, does not succumb to blight. Has never shown any signs of tenderness. During the last eight years, drouth and cold have killed three-fifths of my orchard, but Delicious withstood it. Bears annually, yields large quantities of luscious fruit, both beautiful and delicious. Praised by all who have tasted it. Has a peculiar quality that cannot be surpassed nor described, and a delicious fragrance. Brilliant dark red, often mingled with gold near blossom end. Splendid winter keeper, equal to Ben Davis. All declare it to be the best apple in the world."

Luther Burbank Says, "Delicious a Gem"

"The Delicious is correctly named. It is the best in quality of any apple which I have so far tasted. It is a gem."

Bring Highest Prices
We are selling Delicious this year at 50% more than Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Rome Beauty, Alexander, etc. We have found Delicious to be just what particular people want in a fine table apple. We wish we could get more, for we feel positive that the demand will increase more rapidly than the supply. —H. Woods Co., Commission Merchants, Chicago, Ill.

Proof of Hardiness
A close student of the apple, Frank Foxon, Modesto Co., California, 1898— "This year, one of the severest I have ever known, Delicious last proved its superiority over all; a fair crop on all of the trees with temperature at 25 degrees at blooming time."
J. M. Zion, Tippecanoe Co., Ind., 1898—"In the great freeze last year, when buds of all other varieties were entirely killed, Delicious suffered little, if any, injury." He claims it to be almost ice-proof.
J. M. Stephens, Mendocino Co., So. Dakota—"Delicious is the best ever grown, and the tree appears hardy all over the state. Delicious is all right—the hardest, thriest tree I have."
"Delicious is better than you ever claimed it to be—the finest eating apple that man or woman ever tasted. In my judgment, the market will never be overstocked with your leader of the world—Delicious. It is really perfect—more better. The tree is a splendid grower, very fine wood and a happy bear." —Henry C. Cupp, First President, Apple Growers' Congress, Adams Co., Ill.
U. S. Pomologist, Col. G. B. Brackett—"Are glad you are making an extra effort to disseminate Delicious. Has always sold you I considered it the best of all varieties you have introduced." Later, "I have never been disappointed in this apple. Wherever I have seen it in various parts of the country, it still retains its excellent flavor."
