

CHAUTAUQUA LAST WEEK

WITH GOOD WEATHER UNTIL SUNDAY THE GREAT GATHERING A SUCCESS

COMING AGAIN NEXT SUMMER

Many Excellent Musical Attractions, Moving
Pictures, Lectures, Amusing and Inspiring
People Generally Well Satisfied.

Wednesday afternoon's program opened with a delightful concert hour by the "Concert Trio" consisting of a soprano soloist, a violinist and a pianist. All were very good in their special lines. The soprano, Miss Bunnell, being a very pleasing singer, became a favorite with the Denison audience. Their second appearance in the evening was greeted with great applause. Dr. Geo. R. Stuart delivered his famous lecture on "Lop Sided Folks." It was a scholarly presentation of the theory of all round development. He showed how training in one line destroys the symmetry of life, and made a great plea for breadth of knowledge even among the people of limited means and small opportunities. There is no place in the world which needs to be filled by lop sided folks.

In the evening Mr. Armstrong gave before a large audience his beautiful picture play, "Lorna Doone." To many this fascinating story was old but Mr. Armstrong's presentation of it, with the realistic pictures and perfect dialect of the Doone country gave the book a new charm and beauty making its characters real beings, living, moving, loving, fearing, hating, personalities. The pictures are splendid and carried the audience away over the seas straight to the crags and caverns of the Doone country. Too much could not be said in praise of this entertainment nor of Mr. Armstrong's power of impersonation. We feel free to say that his name on future Chautauqua programs would go far toward securing greater attendance.

On Thursday the musical attraction both afternoon and evening was the performance of the Royal English Bell Ringers. With a large number of the people the bell ringers were considered the leading musical feature. The entertainment was interspersed with vocal numbers, solos, duets and quartets. "Fighting Neath the Dear Old Flag" sung by the baritone will long be remembered by our people and especially by the patriotic boys who caught up the air and are whistling it everywhere.

Thursday's lecture was delivered by Judge Geo. D. Alden. His words were spoken with an emphasis born of conviction. He had a message. "The Needs of the Hour" was his subject, and his thoughts were the expression of long experience with the unhappy side of life. No one stands in a better place to see the mistakes in life and discern their causes than does a judge, and founded upon experience he preached a sermon of rare quality, though he would not have it called by that name. Throughout his talk it was evident that the judge considered there was but one great need of the hour, and that a noble, clean, christian manhood and womanhood. It was a disappointment that Judge Alden was unable to give a short address in the evening for all who had listened to him were well pleased with his message.

Mr. Thatcher, the baritone soloist, and his accompanist, Miss Drace, delighted the audiences on Friday afternoon and evening. Mr. Thatcher gave some of the selections which are attempted only by the best voices and demonstrated his ability to sing them well. His lighter numbers were well chosen and very pleasing.

Dr. Hopkins of Chicago delivered a strong lecture in the afternoon, making a plea for earnest individual thought and action. His topic was "The Land of the Golden Fleece," and taking the old myth as a basis of thought he showed that this is the land of the golden fleece, and that all may gather up the gold, the diamonds and the pearls of life if they are but sincere in their endeavor. Do not trust to luck and chance but to sincerity.

Rev. Father Daily of Milwaukee was invited to speak of his work of rescue among the children of his city. He spoke earnestly of this worthy work and scored roundly the parents who do not keep track of their children and bring them up under strict yet loving home influences.

One of the most popular numbers of the week was the monologue, "A Message From Mars" by Adrian M. Newsen. The story represents a messenger banished from Mars to the Earth, condemned to banishment till he has found and changed the heart of the most selfish man on the planet. This he does to the great benefit of a multitude of people and to the entire satisfaction of the audience. His interpretation of the emotions of the human heart is wonderful and no one who heard this entertainment alone could fail to think the Chautauqua a success.

The ever popular Royal Hungarian Orchestra was present on Saturday both afternoon and evening and it is useless to try to tell how they pleased their audiences. Everyone understands that the "Hungarians" with Prof. and Mrs. Lipaki as leading violinists stands for the best we enjoy in the musical line.

The most address delivered during the entire Chautauqua was that given on Saturday afternoon by Congressman Landis of Indiana. Mr. Landis spoke of the extension of our merchant marine and favored the payment of goodly sums for carrying the mail on ocean steamers. He pointed out the great possibilities for our commerce especially in South America and showed that we were getting but a beggarly per cent of the South American business because of our indifference to the carrying trade. He said the ware house and the ship office followed the flag after; that came the American wholesale house, branch business offices and that interchange in social and business life which must be had to insure reciprocal trade.

The array of facts and figures presented by the speaker were astounding and convincing. It was no new doctrine to Denison people as Secretary Shaw has for years been one of the western statesmen large enough to see beyond the prairies and to comprehend that the Atlantic ocean was as much a part of Iowa as of New York.

Mr. Landis told no funny stories, and in this way he was a relief from the funny men of the week. He spoke like a man greatly in earnest and told his story impressively and well. Mr. Landis is a personal friend of Hon. J. P. Conner while in Congress and in the absence of his parents Raymond entertained the distinguished speaker at the Conner home.

Saturday evening the front seats were well filled with children for this was their special night with Hal Merton, magician and ventriloquist. He is certainly very clever and juggled coins, handkerchiefs and other articles until the boys who had volunteered to assist him really looked worried lest they too should vanish. His ventriloquism was a revelation to many. The entertainment was a great success.

Sunday was the first wet day of the seven so no one felt like complaining and the tent was well filled for the afternoon lecture by Dr. George E. Vincent, dean of Chicago University. He argued in the beginning of his talk that selfishness is the basis of all human endeavor. He then passed on to present that the make up of our lives is the accumulating of mental pictures, impressions or experiences, and he urged that all endeavor to have these pictures made of things uplifting, noble, worthy to be held in pleasing remembrance. While naturally with the beginning of things people were interested in themselves alone, yet their thought and interest should broaden out to pride of family, of town, state, nation, in fact a strong patriotism. After the lecture there was an intermission and then came a vesper service with responsive scripture reading by the people, songs and a short talk by Dr. Vincent. Prof. Van Ness led the music and the closing prayer was made by Rev. DeFree.

Mrs. Brown and the Boy choir of Chicago furnished the music on Sunday but on account of the dampness the harp numbers were not what they would have been in pleasant weather, yet all were convinced that Mrs. Brown is a harpist of rare ability. The boys sang well and showed splendid training. The illustrated lecture in the evening by Dr. Charles A. Payne was a splendid portrayal of Rome as it now is, and also as it was 2000 years ago. His pictures are of fine quality and he describes them with ease and readiness, for the scenes portrayed are perfectly familiar to him. This closed the splendid Chautauqua of 1909, and it is a pleasure to us to state that over 1000 tickets are taken for next year so that the Chautauqua for 1910 is assured.

The Seton Indians were very popular as they were last year. During the morning hours they played games, listened to stories, ran races, did wood carving and in short were real Indians. The directress was exceptionally good and her work is highly commended.

We shall not endeavor to give a detailed account of the morning lectures by Prof. O. E. Behymer, for to do the subject justice would take columns of space; but will give only the general opinion of those who attended faithfully. All who heard one of his lectures felt that they must hear them all, and so the attendance was splendid through the entire week. He discussed various literary topics with a familiarity which proved him a scholar and a deep thinker. His course of lectures was a great literary uplift and will be felt in the community. All whom we have heard express their appreciation of his work are earnestly hoping that he may be the morning lecturer for Denison again in 1910.

P. F. McCarthy and family of Davenport are in Denison this week.

DEATH IN IOWA TOWNSHIP

Mr. Frank Meggers Prominent German Farmer Dies July 21, Great Attendance at Funeral

Mr. Frank Meggers, one of the best known Germans of Iowa township, died at the home of his son, Emiel, in that township on July 21, and was buried in the Hays cemetery on Sunday, July 25. The services were conducted by Rev. Fress of the Lutheran church at Denison. Such was the regard of his neighbors that over one hundred conveyances were in the funeral procession. Mr. Meggers was born at Koenigsbouch near Hohn, Schleswig Holstein January 18, 1836. He was married in 1863 to Miss Anna Tasek. To them were born eleven children, seven of whom had preceded their father in death. His wife died fifteen years ago. They came to Clinton county, Iowa, in 1868 and to Crawford county in 1879, settling in Iowa township. He became afflicted with cancer of the stomach and died at the home of his son, Emiel, aged 73 years, 6 months and 3 days. He is survived by four sons, John, Emiel, August and Frank, all of whom live in Iowa township. Three brothers and a sister also survive him, all of whom live in Germany except Mr. Peter Meggers of Denison. The deceased was a man much esteemed and there was much sympathy for him during his last painful illness.

THEY WERE HAPPILY WED

Two Young People From New York Married Here on July 22.

On Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ward occurred the wedding of Miss Ida Hubbs to Mr. Harry Williams both of Gloversville, N. Y. The bride wore an apricot colored silk dress made princess trimmed with Valenciennes lace and Madallions. The bride will be remembered as one of Denison's most popular and highly esteemed young ladies. She with her people moved to Gloversville several years ago.

The groom is a prosperous merchant in New York. We are unacquainted with Mr. Williams, but he must be a man of excellent character to be worthy of this young lady.

After the ceremony which was performed by Rev. DeFree of the Presbyterian church, a sumptuous six course luncheon was served.

The happy couple will leave Monday for their future home in Gloversville, where their many friends are expectantly awaiting their return. All join in wishing them a long and happy life and a safe journey home.

ARE UNDER QUARANTINE

Mrs. Westcott Placed Under Quarantine as Little Baby Has Scarlet Fever.

Mrs. Una Westcott and her son, Jay, submitted to quarantine yesterday in order to nurse little Eunice, who has been stricken with decided symptoms of scarlet fever. One of the other children had this disease in Des Moines but it was thought that the disinfection had been complete, on coming to Denison, however, little Eunice has been taken with the disease. Mrs. Westcott has been called upon to nurse the sick ones of her family almost continuously for the past few months and feels that she is having more than her share.

THE GLIDDEN TOURISTS

Dashed Through Denison at High Speed on Wednesday Found Good Roads in Western Iowa.

The Glidden tourists passed through Denison on Wednesday forenoon in their sprint from Fort Dodge to Council Bluffs. They may not have been racing but anyone who tried to pass them found that they were going some. They made Denison several hours before they were expected and all the cars were housed in Council Bluffs ahead of time. The tourists were delighted with the roads they found in western Iowa. They had been lead to believe that Wednesday would be their worst day, whereas it was their best. It was amusing however, when they told us that we did not know what bad roads were, as we thought we could have given them a pretty correct idea of the same had they some two weeks sooner. The Arion mud hole behaved very well. Part of the road was planked but it was really unnecessary as the part that was dragged made a fine road without planking. Mr. Boylan took his car to Jefferson making a night trip Tuesday night. He then turned about and lead the procession into Council Bluffs establishing a new record for the trip and beating the Glidden Pathfinder fifteen minutes from Missouri Valley to Council Bluffs. The roads were decorated with flags and bunting in many places and the way was lined with enthusiastic spectators so the tourists had a continual ovation. The event created much interest and has given an added impetus to motoring and to the subject of good roads.

FATAL RUNAWAY AT BUCK GROVE

FERDINAND BOGER HAS HIS BRAINS DASHED OUT AND HIS NECK BROKEN

DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS

The Terrified Team Races Down a Steep Hill Make a Sudden Turn and Hurled the Driver to the Ground

A terrible accident occurred at Buck Grove Thursday, July 22, about noon at which time Mr. Ferdinand Boger lost his life.

He had come to town in a light buggy for binding twine and other farm supplies, and starting back one of the horses threw the bridle from his head and at once started to run. Mr. Fritz Dieber, a young man of great physical strength sprang and seized the hitch rope, but was powerless to stop the animal and in an instant the team was under full headway.

There is quite a steep hill facing the home of Marshall Brewster, and the terrified and uncontrolled team came down that at terrific speed. It seemed that they must run into the house, but they turned when the buggy struck the platform of the hay scales and Mr. Boger was thrown out.

Dr. Booney was called, but at once pronounced the man dead and expressed the opinion that he died instantly, as there was a contused wound over the left temple from which the brain protruded. A subsequent examination showed also that the neck was broken.

Mr. Boger was 51 years old the 8th of this month, July, and leaves three brothers, Fritz, of Paradise township, Herman of Dolan, S. D., and August of Schleswig, and two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Reinwald of Buck Grove and Mrs. Augusta Pollog of Otter Creek township, besides a wife and eight children to mourn his tragic death.

He was born in Germany, coming to this country about 1850, where some 20 years ago he married Miss Lizzie Wolf. He was industrious, and had acquired a fine farm two miles east of town where he lived. His death was a shock to everybody, and business was practically suspended until the remains were removed to the home.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA

Review Engine Bucks Paralyzing the Whole Works and Making This Issue Decidedly Late.

Review is suffering this week from a bad case of locomotor ataxia. With both gas engines out of commission and the electric power not yet installed we have been up in the air with a vengeance. Machine composition is delightful, when the machine works, but when there is no power to run typesetting machines or presses there is the Dickens to pay. It has taken more patience than we possess to get out this paper for we lost ours some time ago. We hope mighty soon to get the motors at work and to say goodbye to gas engines for ever.

Miss Ollie Patterson returned on Saturday evening from Baltimore, where she is taking a course in nursing at John Hopkins' University.
