Fifty Years of Wedded Life

Mr. and Mrs. John Sander Celebrate Their Golden Wedding on Monday.

Friends and Relatives Greet Them

Excellent German Couple are the Recipients of Many Congratulations and Valuable Gifts at Celebration.

It fell to the happy lot of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Sander of Denison to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day. Their resident children and friends did not let the occasion pass without suitable remembrance. The gathering was at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William appropriate address. The worthy pair were not forgotten with a valuable remembrance of the day and a goodly number of pieces of gold money were given them, the amount being quiet a sum. The gathering was at four in the afternoon and the guests took plenty of time to enjoy the good were born eleven children, six of whom died in Germany, and the five living are in America. In 1881 the family came to Crawford county, Iowa, and the parents have lived there and at Denison nearly every year since. The children are John and Peter Sander and Mrs. William Dettlefsen of Denison, Mrs. Nic Simons of Norden, Neb., and Mrs. Carl Naushutz of Lakefield, Minn. The honored couple have seventeen grand children and three great grandchildren. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Lena Reiter of Omaha and Mr. Peter Peters of Schleswig.

Mr. and Mrs. Sander are examples of the sturdy Germans who came to America with their families in the days of great emigration and by habits of industry and worthy living have won honorable place in the land of their adoption. We are glad to give them further honor by presenting their pictures to our readers and adding our congratulations to their golden wedding anniversary.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT

An Old Soldier Falls On a Stick Which Penetrated His Body Seventeen Inches.

S. W. Marcum, an old soldier and resident of Deolit who moved to Aitkin county, Minn., a few years ago, came suddenly to his death at his home at Glen, Minn. On July 31, 10:30 a. m. he and his wife were picking cherries a quarter of a mile from their house, when he accidentally fell from the tree on a green snag about 30 inches long and about the size of a broom handle. This ran seventeen inches into his abdomen then broke off. His wife extracted the snag and helped him to the house. He was taken sixteen miles to Aitkin in a buggy requiring seven hours to make the trip. Arriving at 6 p. m. it was found the snag did not injure the intestines or liver, but penetrated the thin lining of the right lung which caused hemorrhage of the lungs and he died at 9 p. m. the same evening. The G. A. R. had charge of the funeral and burial which took place at Aitkin August 3rd at 10 a. m. and the remains were interred in the G. A. R. cemetery. The family states the G. A. R. Post had complete charge and gave him a fine burial, for which they felt very grateful. Their eldest son, A. P. Marcum, who went with them to Minnesota was instrumental in securing the Glen postoffice of which he was the postmaster. The family have the sympathy of all their old friends at this place.

MARRIED IN MINNESOTA

Pretty Denison Girl Was Married Last Week in Duluth, Minnesota

On Wednesday, August 4th, at Duluth, Minn., occurred the wedding of Miss Doris Jetta Plough and Mr. Lawrence Alfred Waldron. The bride is a charming and beautiful young lady. She was born and raised in this county and she has many friends who will join in good wishes to her and in congratulations to the happy groom. We are sure that she will make a happy home for the fortunate young man. Mr. Waldron comes from Louisville, Neb., and is likewise well known in this county. He is a young man of ability, industry and excellent character. They will live on the farm which the groom purchased last spring at Knife River, Minn. The Review joins with their host of friends in congratulations and kindly wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

GREAT REVIVALIST COMING

Rev. Henry Ostrum One of the Most Noted Evangelists in the United States Will Visit Denison in September.

Rev. Henry Ostrum, whose fame as an evangelist ranks with that of Sunday and Chapman, comes to Denison about September 23, and there will be a revival effort of strenuous moment. No Chautauque lecturer on the platform this year can excel Dr. Ostrum as an orator and one to move the people. He comes with the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and German Methodist congregations behind him. The meetings are of such note that the people from the farms and the surrounding towns are expected en masse. Nothing will be left undone to make the meetings a landmark in religious work in fifty years of Denison history. One of the best singers in the United States will be here and the chorus singing will be a marked feature of the meetings.

Sheriff Overcomes Negroes

Single Handed He Repels Assault in Break For Liberty.

Clark Then Attempts Suicide

Negroes Held for Murder of Brakemen Make Desperate Attack Upon Sheriff Cummings on Sunday Evening. Preconcerted Plan Fails Through Sheriff's Prowess.

On Sunday evening Hubbard and Clark who are held in the county jail for the killing of two brakemen, Warner and Brechtel, on a Northwestern train near Vail on the night of June 19th, made a murderous attack upon Sheriff Cummings in a desperate attempt to escape. Failing in think they will be after us tonight, Boss?" Clark said he was ready to die, and that if they came after him they would find him at the door of the cell waiting for them. Hubbard cowered in his cell almost, literally, scared to death. It seems that the plan to attack their attempt and being in fear of lynching, Clark tried to hang himself in his cell but his attempt also failed. About seven o'clock Sunday evening Sheriff Cummings entered the jail as usual to remove the dishes after the evening meal. Hubbard was in the corridor of the jail and Clark was in the cage. Cummings put the supper dishes through the slide into the kitchen and then turned to pull the lever that locks the inner door of the jail.

sheriff was made in the morning, Hubbard is said to have conceived the plan and he communicated it to Clark. They knew the habits of the sheriff and had selected just the moment when he might be off his guard. The wonder is that the two burly men did not succeed and it must have owing to their lack of nerve rather than to their lack of muscle. Mr. Smith, the other prisoner, heard plotting but did not warn the sheriff and he failed to respond when sheriff called on him for help.

Just at this moment, Hubbard, who is a big stalwart fellow, sprang on him from behind and pinioned his arms to his sides, at the same time Hubbard called to Clark to "come on." Fortunately, Cummings had his right arm raised when Hubbard grabbed him and he was thus able to meet Clark's rush with a straight fore arm jab in the eye which sent the negro back in the cage. Hubbard retained his hold and Clark came on for another round. Cummings caught him in the stomach this time and set him back in the cage door, by a well directed kick that placed Clark out of the fight. Hubbard had in the meantime shifted his hold to a grip around the sheriff's neck. Cummings called on Smith, who is in jail on a minor charge, to help him, but Smith cowered in an inner cell, and the sheriff might well have been choked into helplessness had not the housekeeper, Mrs. Hephrey of Des Moines, heard the noise and rushed to the rescue. Cummings managed to call to her to get his gun. This she did and John Muir got it through to the fighting sheriff. This ended the battle. The negroes expected nothing less than to be shot down and they made tracks around and around the steel cage trying to dodge the expected bullets. Cummings fired once to scare them and then ordered them into their cells where they were securely locked in. Cummings was badly wounded and had received a nasty cut on the lip which was bleeding freely and he went out of the jail to repair the damage. The negroes kept up their racket in the jail until all of a sudden the silence warned the sheriff that something was the matter. He entered the jail and approaching the cage he heard a chair fall and saw through the bars that the form of Clark was hanging suspended. Cummings unlocked the door as quickly as possible but before he reached the darky, the hastily tied noose in the towel gave way and Clark fell to the floor none the worse save for his scare and a bad choking.

are informed that a discharged prisoner told a Denison man a few days ago that the negroes were going to profit, that he said he was going to telephone the sheriff before he left to aid circumstances that he did not. Mr. Cummings gives much credit to the keeper for her promptness. It is to be noted that the fact that she shouted and the window scared the prisoners and helped to disconcert them as they know the alarm was out and escape was practically impossible even though they overwhelmed the sheriff. We are pleased in this issue to present a picture of the dauntless sheriff and the two men whom he overcame. It is not at all likely that they were allowed to escape, but it would be well if these pictures were preserved by Review readers for purposes of identification in case they should succeed in making their getaway.

The Review wishes to give Sheriff Cummings full credit for his bravery and prowess.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cummings and Mrs. Carrie Goodrich of Falls, Cal., were guests at the home of Do you see McHenry over Sunday.

The negroes were thoroughly scared and expected a lynching party after them at any moment. A Review representative interviewed them and they repeatedly said
