SAMUEL LUNEY CALLED HOME

ONE OF CRAWFORD'S OLDEST CITIZENS DIED
AT DENISON, SEPT. 22.

A REMARKABLY STRONG MAN

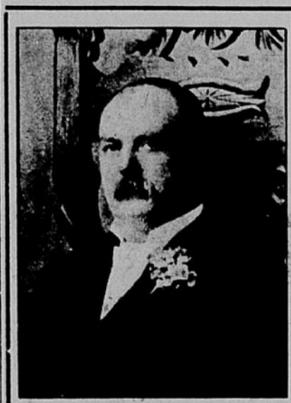

Was Head of Large Manufacturing Firm Was A Practical Mechanic, Leading Church Officer.

The angel of death has certainly been hovering about Denison of late. One of the last visitations was at the home of Samuel Luney, who was called on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Luney had been complaining for several months, but his friends evidently did not appreciate the seriousness of his illness until a short time prior to his death. He went in the spring, with his brothers to South Dakota, to assist in their farming operations, which are conducted on a large scale. While there, his condition became such, that it was thought advisable for him to return to his home. No permanent improvement came from the change, and he gradually lost in strength, until a few days before his death, when he rapidly grew worse. From that time on his friends despaired of his recovery, and his death, when it occurred, created no surprise. His wife, his brothers and sisters, and family generally, were with him at the time of his death.

Samuel Luney was a prominent citizen of Denison, and a man who was universally esteemed. For forty-two years, he had lived in this community and enjoyed the friendship and confidence of a large circle of acquaintances. He was born sixty-five years ago, in Belfast, Ireland, and when twelve years of age, came with his parents, Thomas and Mary Luney, Sr., to the United States, settling at Pontiac, Illinois. In March 1867, they came to Crawford county, and lived upon a farm a few miles east of Denison, until thirty-two years ago when Samuel came to Denison, where with his brothers he engaged in the manufacture of farm implements. Their business expanded until they established a foundry and flour mill. They retired from this business, however, a number of years ago, and since then have been interested in farming and handling real estate. The deceased was married in 1880, to Mary Jane Hughes, and to them were born, three children, Mrs. Ida Sievers, Jennie Leora and Robert Samuel Hughes. All of their children survive him. Mrs. Luney died March 13th, 1900, and afterward in 1903 he was married a second time to Lena Mundt, who survives him. They have from this union one child, Naomi, seventeen months of age. Mr. Luney's parents died a number of years ago, as well as his brother Thomas, who was associated with his other brothers in business.

Mr. Thomas Luney, Sr., his father, was a prominent farmer and lived on his fine farm east of Denison, until after his children came to Denison, when he also moved here, where he resided until his death. Samuel

Smythe, who and is much Aldrich chas curator. He also Historical plant two brothers and a sister. James, whose residence is in Los Angeles, California; William, whose residence is Denison and Mrs. Mary McWilliams, whose resides in Charter Oak, this county. Mr. Luney, during his residence in Denison, held various positions of trust and responsibility. He was a member of the school board, and was city councilman for several terms. It is needless to say that he discharged his duties as a public official, with honesty and fidelity. He was a charter member of the Presbyterian church in Denison, and served thirty years and two days, and until his death as an Elder in the church. On several occasions he was sent as a representative to the Presbytery, of his church. It is gratifying to know, that he professed entire resignation before his death, and said to those about him, that he was prepared to meet his Saviour. The funeral services were held on Friday of last week. A short service was held at the home and later regular services at the Presbyterian church.

Rev. J. J. DePree, of the Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Fresse of the German Lutheran church conducted the services, each of whom spoke feelingly and eulogistically of the deceased. After the services at the church the body was taken to Oakland cemetery for burial. The following were the pall bearers W. D. Luney, Prof. Fellows, Jacob Sims, George Richardson, Sears McHenry, Chas. McHenry, George Davis and Dr. McConaughy. The burial services at the grave were conducted by the K. P. Lodge of which order he was a prominent member. Three brothers of his former wife, Robert Hughes, John Hughes and William Hughes, accompanied by Mr. Fienholt, husband of his wife's sister, arrived from Pontiac, Illinois, to late to see him before his death, but in time for the funeral. Many of his friends from Vail and other towns in the county were in attendance at the funeral. Mr. Luney will be missed from the community. He was possessed of a genial and happy disposition and sought to make everyone his friend. It is safe to say, that within his wide range of acquaintances, he had not a single enemy. The Review extends its sympathy to the family and relatives.

A BOLD ROBBERY

Home Burglarized on Sunday Night
Money and Other Valuables Taken.

On Sunday night, one of the boldest robberies ever committed in Denison, took place at the home of Charles Tabor, at the corner of Chestnut and Main streets, between 6:30 and 7:00 o'clock. Mr. Tabor and some members of his family had been out auto riding and returned about 6:30 and repaired to the dining room for supper. They heard a noise, as if someone falling, in one of the upper rooms, and immediately rushed upstairs, to find that Mrs. Debert had fallen while endeavoring to pull down one of the shades. In passing through the rooms on the second floor it was discovered the furniture and other things had been disturbed, and on closer examination it was found the house had been robbed. Forty-five dollars of money, was taken. Two, twenty-dollar bills, and a five dollar bill, the nurses gold watch and chain and a string of beads. The thieves had evidently secured an entrance through a window over the porch roof. They must have been watching closely the movements of the house in order to enter and escape in so short a time, without being detected. It is said the electric lights were on, and the lower part of the house, as well as a portion of the upper part, was lighted up at the time. This daring robbery, should serve as a warning to Denison people, to keep their houses under close watch, if they expect to escape burglars. The police force, should exercise the highest vigilance to apprehend and punish the criminals, infesting our city, of late.

Since the last issue of this paper the district court has been occupied in the trial of the case of State of Iowa vs. Jim McGoff charged with the larceny of $30 from the barber shop of Joe Christiansen and the case of the State of Iowa against Emil Wangler which is a bastardy proceeding to hold him for the support of a child born to one Emma Rithan residing in Stockholm township. The defendant Wangler, resides at Kiron, a few miles from the Pithan home. In the former case the jury disagreed and were discharged and in the latter case the trial is still on but is nearing completion. A large number of other cases have been disposed of by settlement.

The first thing taken into consideration in buying lines of ladies' ready to wear garments and hats is Style. Every creation is exhaustively gone over, every possible design that might later prove a good one is tried out by us before it is turned down. Call and go through our lines of furs and ready to wear apparel and you will see some very beautiful styles at prices that will save you money. Geo. Menagh & Co.

Mrs. Jacobsen has returned from her trip to Denmark. She was at Copenhagen at the time Cook landed and witnessed the enthusiasm of the welcome of the Danish people to him. The Danes are a high class people, appreciate noble deeds and have a honorable history.

GREAT REVIVAL IS PROGRESSING

NOTED RELIGIOUS REVIVALS OF THE
YEAR IN IOWA

DR. HENRY OSTROM IN CHARGE.

Places of Meeting Crowded at all Appointments
Great Meeting for Men Next Sunday
Afternoon. The Business Men's Banquet a Big Success.

It would appear that Denison and the country about were in for a remarkable religious uplift from the indications at hand. Dr. Henry Ostrom with his celebrated singer, Mr. Hillis, is conducting a series of meetings which are attracting much attention and will do the people much good.

The opening meetings was on Friday night of last week in the M. E. church. The pulpit platform has been extended to allow extra room to the choir loft, for the great number of singers who are singing in the chorus. With Mr. Hillis as the leader the music is most inspiring and worth coming miles to hear. From the first meeting the attendance has been good and Dr. Ostrom feels much encouraged and the local churches with him. On Sunday afternoon there was a great meeting of men in the opera house. The singing by Mr. Hillis was fine and Dr. Ostrom gave a strong sermon calling for better living on the part of all present. At the same hour Rev. Dr. Pree spoke before the women at the Baptist church. Next Sunday there will be another men's meeting when a great attendance may be expected. The banquet attended by one hundred and twenty-five business men on Tuesday evening was one of the unique and novel incidents of the campaign thus far. A committee consisting of Messrs. Sims, Fellows and Criegwell had the affair in charge, and arranged it for the McKim hall at six sharp. Mrs. Hillis and her assistants had the preparations for the bill of fare in hand and that meant plenty of well cooked food. Sixteen of the bright boys from the high school acted as waiters.

It was a most encouraging sight to view the tables filled with the business and professional men of Denison. After the good things to eat were given full justice, Mr. Sims as chairman of the committee announced a program of talks and singing by Mr. Hillis as follows:

A Good Asset for Denison—Hon. J. P. Conner.
My Brother's Keeper—Dr. W. T. Wright.
Solo—Mr. Hillis.
Why Work?—Hon. C. F. Kuehne.
Bouquets for the Living—George Naeve.
"Come On"—Dr. Henry Ostrom.

All the speakers did well. Judge Conner considered that a good asset for Denison was a reputation for morality and high citizenship; Dr. Wright said that good citizenship meant to some extent being the keeper of, or advisor of any man or woman who were plainly on the wrong path;

Mr. Kuehne glorified the need for work for success and its dignity; and Mr. Naeve eulogized what Denison had done and could do for the making of a city praised for right things. Dr. Ostrom, the special guest of the evening expressed his pleasure on the number present and the good fellowship apparent. He plead for a uniting of forces for the best things for Denison and the setting up as the standard, the life of Jesus the Christ. The affair was a decided success.

Dr. Brannon and Addis Lally, had a rather startling experience, on Saturday night. The Doctor, had a call up East of Deloit, and took Addis, his brother-in-law, along for company. After starting home, in crossing over a small bridge, it gave way, and the horses fell down, and at the time it was supposed their limbs were broken, and both occupants of the buggy jumped out to assist the horses. No sooner had they reached the ground, than the horses extricated themselves and ran away with the Doctor's medical cases in the buggy, as well as robes, cushions etc. The Doctor and Mr. Lally pursued the team for some distance, but found they were unable to overtake them. They then returned to Deloit, secured a team and drove home. Afterwards they made an effort to find the team, but the effort proved unsuccessful. Later on, and about 2:30 on Monday morning, someone from the livery barn at Denison, located the team and buggy about seven miles from Deloit and east of Denison, where they had landed in a ditch. When rescued, it was found that no substantial damage had been done to either the team or the buggy. The Doctor later recovered his medical cases as well as the robes and cushions. The experience was of such a character that it will not soon be forgotten by either of the actors.

Miss Agnes Evans of Dow City was a Denison shopper on Tuesday.

Lorenzen-VanAlstine Wedding.

Gilmore City Globe: At North Hill Residence, the home of the bride's parents, at high twelve, on Wednesday, September 22, 1909, Miss Winnifred VanAlstine and Mr. Lorenz Lorenzen, were united in marriage. Rev. A. G. Bennett, of York, Nebraska, officiating.

The above chronicles the uniting for "better or worse" of two well known and prominent young people of this place. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. VanAlstine, whose entire life has been spent in this community, and is a most estimable young lady. The groom has been a resident of Gilmore City a little over two years, coming shortly after his graduation from the State University, and as cashier of the State Savings Bank, has proven himself a reliable and worthy young man.

As the beautiful strains of the wedding march, rendered by the Hallowell Orchestra, of Rockwell City, floated through the rooms, the bridal party descended the stairs and took their position before the large south window in the parlor, over which was a beautiful floral decoration, of white chrysanthemums, astors, smilax and golden rod. The ring service was used. The bride was gowned in a beautiful white lace net robe, garnished with white pearl medallions and white satin sash. The groom was attired in the conventional black.

After congratulations the guests were ushered to a dining tent erected on the lawn for the occasion, where a bounteous five course luncheon was served. Plates were laid for one hundred guests. The color scheme, white and yellow, was carried out in the table decorations. The dinner was in charge of Mrs. Hoopes, a cateress from Des Moines, assisted by eight young men, who wore yellow caps and white coats.

Mrs. Don Butler of Arion transacted business in this city Tuesday.
