McAlpin returned home on Saturday last but Mr. Quigley and wife expect to stay a month or longer. Mr. Quigley came from Scott county about thirty-five years ago and settled in Jackson township and lived there until they moved to Oklahoma, where they have prospered. They like the country down there and their many friends are pleased to know that they did so well.

Mr. H. C. Wertz and wife were here from Charter Oak last week and rented for the next three years a 190 acre farm from Dr. Langan. This farm is a good one, is about one and a half mile east of Vail and is known as the Burk farm.

Edward Barden, who resided in Vail for several years, was killed instantly by being hit by the fast mail train one mile west of Crescent, Iowa, on Wednesday morning of last week. He was working on the bridge gang for the Northwestern R. R. Co. Deceased was born in England in 1842. In about 1850 his father and mother with five children started on ship board for New York. On the way over both parents died of the cholera and were buried at sea. A few years after reaching New York the deceased found himself at Davenport. He lived around Scott county until 1885. He was married at Long Grove, fifteen miles north of Davenport to Miss Maguire, a sister of Rich Maguire, the present mayor of Vail. A short time after being married the deceased with his wife came to Crawford county, where he lived since. In 1883, Mr. Barden enlisted in the 20th Iowa Regiment at Davenport, Iowa, and served to the end of the war. He was in the memorable march to the sea with Sherman. His record shows he was a good and brave soldier and all who were acquainted with him since he came to this county knew him to be an honest and hard working man; kind to his family and upright in all his dealings. After Mr. Barden was killed, the Northwestern Co. took the body to Council Bluffs to an undertaking establishment, furnished a good coffin and did every thing that was necessary and delivered the corpse at Vail on Wednesday. The body was taken to the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Farley. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon. He was buried in the Vail cemetery. The funeral was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. He leaves a family of nine children, some of them live at Des Moines and the rest in Denver.

SOLE PROOF

YOU ARE INVITED to witness demonstrations of how to beautify the Home.

The SOLE-PROOF Lady will be here

Thursday Oct. 7th

at the frame building just north of the Review Office.

She will teach you how to make old furniture look like new; she will show you how easy it is to change an unsightly floor to a thing of beauty and a joy for a long time.

We are sure that every woman who likes to have things "spick and span" about the house will find these demonstrations interesting.

Married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Logsdon, Oct. 1, at high noon, their eldest daughter, Miss Gertrude M. Logsdon, and Mr. Frank J. Glassburner, Rev.

G. W. Koser of the M. E. church officiating. There was present only a few near relatives and a few of the most intimate friends. Thus another christian home is established, both being active members of the Dow City M. E. church. Both have lived almost all their lives in this immediate vicinity and are numbered among our best young people, and are so well and favorably known that they need no introduction to our people. The presents were many and very nice. After the ceremony a very fine wedding dinner was served. The happy pair took the afternoon train for a wedding trip east. Their many friends extend to them their hearty congratulations and wish for them all the happiness that life can give.

Will Butler of Woodbine was visiting his daughters and other relatives in town Saturday.
