Miss Belle Rena who plays the leading female role in The Fighting Parson in W. F. Mann's newest production had quite an amusing adventure while traveling from Chicago with the other members of the company. At a small station near St. Louis, a wild-eyed, well dressed young fellow got aboard and after looking around the car, seized Miss Rena in his arms and cried "My affinity." The other members of the company immediately came to her rescue and held the wild-eyed man until they reached St. Louis, where they turned him over to the police. At his trial the next morning he plead guilty and said he was under the influence of liquor. So the judge only fined him $10.00. This he paid and while passing Miss Rena on his way out of court, asked her pardon for his misconduct, heaved a sigh and said, "Well, it was worth it."

letters going through the post-office goes astray. The postal service looks as complicated to the average man as the works of a watch do. Uncle Sam understands the postal business and gives good service. We understand the watch business and give good service. Every man to his calling. Your watch won't go astray if we repair it. Try it.
