Mr. Lyon for the local entertainment course, informed the audience Tuesday that he was about to engage Dr. Crane, the great lecturer of Chicago in place of Dr. Gunsaulus. It seemed impossible to get the latter to keep his dates.

Never has there been a holiday season when the stores of Denison were better prepared to serve the people or when keener competition prevailed among the merchants. The bad roads have made early December trading light, as a consequence the stores are still well stocked and merchants are mighty anxious to make sales. All this favors the buyer and with the special sales now on and the Christmas shopping Denison should have the busiest ten days ahead of it that it has ever known.

Dr. B. F. Philbrook received word this week from St. Louis where he had a number of his chickens entered in the Missouri State Show that his pullets had won fifth prize. This show is the largest one that has ever been held in the United States. There were five thousand two hundred and eighty-one birds exhibited from 550 different exhibitors. There were twenty-two states represented. Dr. feels very elated over the showing his chickens made as the best chickens from all over the country were competing.
