Addis Lally has just succeeded in adding another feather to his cap. Under the practice in the state of Washington he was required to submit to an examination by the Supreme Court in order to be allowed to practice in the state. His diploma from Harvard and his certificate of admission to practice in the state of Iowa were not accepted in Washington and so he took the examination before the Supreme Court a few days ago and came out at the head of his class. In view of the fact there were thirty in the class, it was a great compliment for Addis.

The last meeting of the W. C. T. U. was observed as "Mother's Day," meetings at that time being held to honor motherhood and the day being the birthday of Madam Willard. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Cassaday presided and a good program was carried out. The special feature was an address by Rev. J. J. DePree upon the subject of the duty of parents to their children. It was a very earnest, thoughtful talk and elicited high commendation from the members present. Rev. DePree has promised at a future date to address an evening meeting to which all parents will be invited.
