KUEHNLE ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The Kuehnle oratorical contest was held on Monday night at the High School assembly room, a goodly number being present. This work is very heavy for the high school students at this time of the year, and on that account but three students contested for the $25 cash prizes offered by Mr. Kuehnle for the three best creations. The speakers were required to write their own orations and were marked on both thought and composition of the subject, matter and delivery. Charles Helsley, Eunice Meyers and Pearl Richardson were the contestants, Mr. Helsley taking the first prize, Miss Meyers coming in second, and Miss Richardson third. This kind of work is of great value to the High School students, and it is hoped this contest may serve to lend enthusiasm to many others for a similar contest next year, and that Mr. Kuehnle will see fit to repeat the offer.

HOSPITAL NEWS.

The hospital continues to be a very busy place. Patients are going and coming nearly every day.

Miss Alma Abelscher, who was operated on for appendicitis Monday, is doing nicely.

Axel Lundberg, who was on his way to Kiron from St. Paul, Minn., and was taken sick at this place, and removed to the hospital, has developed quite a severe case of typhoid fever.

Mr. Bullock's condition was so much improved that his physician allowed him to be removed to his home Sunday, and his many friends hope to see him about very soon.

Mrs. Oscar Lowry is making a good recovery after the severe operation which she underwent last week.

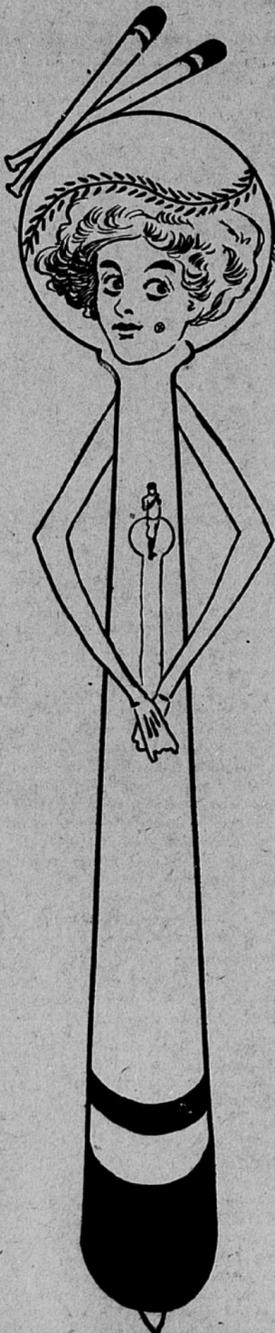

Albert Bando of Vail underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday and is doing nicely at this writing.

Carl Motter of Arion is among the plucky patients of the hospital. His physicians have had a strenuous time, but are going to succeed in saving his foot, which will mean a great deal to the young man.

B. Norwig, a Jewish patient who was suffering from paralysis, was removed to his home in Omaha Tuesday.

Grandma Hardy remains about the same and is entitled to a great deal of sympathy for her affliction.

CEDAR RAPIDS BOOSTERS.

Wholesale Jobbers of Cedar Rapids to Make Tour of State—Will Visit Denison on June Third.

The Cedar Rapids Boosters, made up of wholesale jobbers, manufacturers, bankers and other business men of the Commercial Club, will arrive in Denison at 7:00 A. M. on Friday, June 3d, by train, leaving at 8:55. While we appreciate the purpose of the visitors to be entirely selfish and to extend the wholesale trade of Cedar Rapids, we commend the spirit that prompts the trip. The Booster train consists of a finely equipped, specially chartered Pullman train of three sleepers, dining car, baggage car, day coach and parlor car, and will bring to Denison about one hundred representatives of Cedar Rapids institutions, including the 53d Regiment Band, which will furnish music during their stay with us. The train is equipped with telephone connections between all the parts of the train, and every evening will be connected with long distance phone with Cedar Rapids to permit the business men to confer with their homes or places of business. We sincerely hope that the citizens of Denison will extend to the Cedar Rapids Commercial Club and its members a proper welcome.

TO MR. AND MRS. PEARSON.

(Poem written and read by Mrs. Martin at the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pearson.)

A favored few we are tonight,
As round this table, we unite
To bring good cheer, to those we love,
And call up pleasures, long since flown.
The years, though twenty-five in number
Perhaps at times, seem even longer,
And yet again though strange it seems,
As we look back on all our dreams
The time has gone so quickly by,
We wonder where the years do fly,
And could not think it really so,
But for our baby Townsend boy,
To manhood grown, our pride and joy,
And little Laura no longer small,
A charming girl well known to all.
With Margaret, bringing up the rear
To codle, hug, and give us cheer.
The time has gone so quickly by,
We scarce have time to stop and cry
When things come up to make us sigh,
And glad we are this festive night,
The years have brought so much that's bright
To our friends, so just and right,
And as the years may come and go,
May all true blessings follow you
And bring to both that peace and joy,
That God can give without alloy.
These tokens small we bring to you,
That you may often call to mind,
The ones assembled here tonight,
And naught but joy be in your thoughts
When ere you call to mind this scene.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Nine-Year-Old Son of Austin Gibbons of East Boyer Township Thrown From Horse.

On Sunday, May 22, Willie Gibbons, the 9-year-old son of Austin Gibbons, who lives in East Boyer township, was found dead in the road near the Kinney home. Willie was sent by his parents on horseback to the Thomas Costello place, and it is thought that the horse stumbled and fell on the boy, crushing out the child's life. The accident was not discovered for some time. Some parties driving along the road found the dead body of the boy lying in the road. Willie was an exceptionally intelligent and bright youth and his sudden death comes as a great shock to his family and host of friends. Funeral services were held at Vail on Tuesday afternoon.

TO TALK GOOD ROADS.

W. C. Rollins and Henry Haag of Jefferson Preach Good Roads Today.

W. C. Rollins left on Tuesday evening for De Witt, Iowa, in response to a cordial invitation to attend the good roads convention of Clinton county, which is being held at De Witt today. Henry Haag of Jefferson will also be in attendance. It is the purpose of this meeting to organize a permanent good roads organization throughout the county. The road supervisors and township trustees from all parts of Clinton county will be in attendance and the work of making good roads will be discussed. Mr. Rollins informs us that he has made arrangements to have Henry Haag come to Denison some time in the near future and help to organize a permanent Crawford county good roads association. This association will not only look after the principal roads leading through the county, but will be an organization that will look after all the roads in the county.

A Tap from the Dead.

A remarkable incident, bearing almost on the supernatural, was related at an inquest at Whitley Bay, Eng., upon the body of Henry Fairbairn, which was found on the beach there one Sunday morning recently.

The widow related how, when her husband did not return at the usual time on Saturday night, she determined to sit up, and wait for him. About 4 a. m. she was sitting reading a newspaper, and "dozing" alternately, when she was startled by hearing a gentle knocking at the front door.

"This was followed," said Mrs. Fairbairn, "by a tap-tapping at my bedroom window. I at once went out, thinking it was my husband, but I could not see anyone. After that I became very much alarmed about my husband."

It was high tide at Whitley Bay about midnight on the Saturday in question and the fact that Fairbairn's body was found only a few yards below the high water mark shows that the man must have been dead at least four hours before his wife heard the knocking at the door and the tapping at the window.

Tired of It.

John Mitchell, discussing the shirt-waist-makers' strike, said with a smile:

"The employer must remember that working for someone else, for a pittance, is not half as much fun as working for one's self and getting rich."

"But too many employers are like the boatswain of the Sea Horse."

"There was a chap on the Sea Horse whose duty it was to clean out the quarters of the 5,000 pigs that formed the ship's cargo. This man, naturally was kept busy day and night."

"But one morning, on toward the middle of the voyage the captain noticed the pig gentleman leaning listlessly, pipe in mouth, over the rail. So the captain summoned the boatswain."

"'Boats,' he said, 'what's the matter with that pig feller? Why ain't he workin'?'"

"The boatswain looked at the spiritless pig attendant, shook his head, and answered in puzzled tones: 'Blowed if I know what's come over that man lately, sir. Somehow he don't seem to take no pleasure in his work.'"

A Lesson to Art.

"Which do you prefer, art or nature?"

"Art," replied Mr. Crosslots. "The pictures in the gardening magazines always look better than what comes up from the seeds you buy."

NOW "BIG SISTER" MOVEMENT

New York's Young Working Girls to Be Entertained, Helped and Wisely Advised.

Working on the theory that prevention is better than cure, the big sisters committee, which has just been appointed by the New York Mothers' club, will interest itself in the entertainments and amusements of working girls on their holidays and in young girls in the public schools.

The Big Sister movement has been patterned after the Big Brothers, though it cannot work along the same lines. Annually there are about 10,000 boys brought before the children's court to a scant thousand girls. Most of the girls are three, four and five years old, who have reached there through the neglect, cruelty or other fault of their parents.

"It was a serious question—where had we best give help?" Mrs. Irwin said, "and as chairman of the committee I have decided. We will help with the schoolgirls. We will supply, sane, clean, wholesome enjoyment for working girls. Any individual cases that we hear of we will help specifically."

Mrs. Irwin has always been much interested in the welfare of girls. She is one of the two women who are lecturing to the mothers of public school children of this city for the year 1910.—New York Evening Telegram.

Trouble for Bachelor.

One of the firms that sell mailing lists to commercial houses in New York is causing a certain unmarried man no end of trouble. In some way they secured his name and got the impression that he had a wife. About a year ago advertisements began arriving at his home addressed to this mythical person. She gets notices of exceptional opportunities offered by the immediate purchase of furs, opera cloaks, mining stocks, automobiles, cut flowers, tailored suits, tickets to winter and summer resorts and world tours, monogram stationery, hats and even fancy hosiery and lingerie. His friends derive pleasure from finding these scattered over his table. One of them asked him why he didn't save them all as a dowry for the young person when she finally became extant.

"Not much," he replied. "I'm not going to encourage any such extravagant ideas at the very start. A moderate estimate shows me that $25,000 a year wouldn't cover half the things that she is being induced to buy."
