

CARROLL WINS FOR GOVERNOR

A Very Light Vote Reduces the Governor's Majority to a Little More Than Ten Thousand.

SMITH DEFEATS BYERS BADLY.

Prouty the Only Insurgent Winner Where Contest Was Waged—Control of Convention in Doubt.

The republican primary in Iowa shows that Carroll was nominated by about 10,000 majority. The percentage was about as claimed by the Carroll managers, but the light vote cut down the majority. In the contested congressional victories the republicans won three and the insurgents one—Kennedy in the First district, Townner in the Eighth and Smith in the Ninth were the republican winners, while Prouty, insurgent, is said to have a safe majority over Hull in the Seventh district.

Palmer, and Wilson, republicans, and Thorne, insurgent, lead for railroad commissioners. It is probable that Palmer will be nominated by direct vote and that the other nomination will be thrown into the convention. Cosson is said to lead for Attorney General. The vote on State superintendent is very mixed and the nomination will be made by the convention. Ferson, for court representative, received a good vote in the county, but we have no returns as to the result throughout the state.

Some papers concede the control of the state convention to the insurgents, but the republicans have not given up hope and the returns are so meagre that as to delegates no safe prediction can be made as to the probable complexion of the state convention.

The only real contests in the congressional districts were in the First, where Kennedy, republican, won by a majority, in the Seventh, where Prouty, insurgent, is said to have beaten Hull by 1,000; the Eighth, where Townner, republican, defeats Darragh, insurgent, by 1,000 or more, and the Ninth, where Smith, republican, against whom the chief fight was centered, defeats Byers, insurgent, by 2,000, carrying all but three counties of the district. In this district the nomination of Woods was conceded and no organized effort was made in opposition, although Mayne, republican, secured quite a complimentary vote.

In the democratic party the only contest was for governor, and this contest Claude Porter won hands down. In this county Porter received more votes than both his adversaries.

The result in the state is not a complete victory for either side, which is perhaps better for party harmony than that either faction should feel hopelessly defeated. On the whole, however, the regular republicans have had the best of the argument, and it is our hope and belief that this contest is the beginning of a saner republicanism in Iowa than has been rampant for the past few years. The victories of Smith and Carroll are the first rebuffs the insurgents have had in recent years, and they should teach them moderation and tolerance if they wish to retain the votes of the people.

The Review is just as rabid, if that is the right word for it, in its stand for real republicanism as it ever was. Nevertheless, it is prepared to accept the result of the primary in good part and in good faith, providing the insurgents shall do likewise.

THE PRIMARY IN DENISON.

Tuesday was a busy day for the party workers in Denison. The democrats had little to worry about, and save for the work of Collins, Paul and Terry to get out votes for themselves, there was little doing on that side of the fence.

Among the republicans the fight narrowed to a contest for the delegations. In the First ward there was a merry war during the forenoon, but by the dinner hour it became apparent that the regulars had the victory won, and after that the contest lost interest. It served the purpose of getting out a comparatively large vote, however. In the Second ward the contest was closer, the regular ticket about 10 majority. In the Third ward it was supposed that a compromise had been effected, by which the leading insurgents and regulars both were to be recognized. It was found on the opening of the balloting, however, that the Garst followers had a complete ticket in the field. The stand-patters had abandoned all efforts to take the ward, were taken by surprise, and the Garst ticket was elected. There are one or two stand patters on this delegation, however. The fact that the ward went for Carroll is an indication that the stand patters could have carried the ward had they made the fight from the beginning. Just how and why the compromise plan fell through we are not prepared to discuss. The affair has left a bad taste in the mouths of those who were working for party harmony, and who were willing that the Garst leaders should be represented on the delegation without a contest.

A rather flighty and far fetched Garst hand bill enlivened the day, but had no effect upon the vote. Taken all in all, the primary left as little bitterness in Denison as could have been expected from the earnestness of the struggle.

KUEHNLE WINS OVER KELLOGG

Carries Crawford by Six Hundred and Monona by at Least Four Hundred Majority.

KELLOGG WINS IN HOME COUNTY

Majority Not Much Above Two Hundred, However, Giving Kuehnle District by 800 Majority.

Carl F. Kuehnle won his whirlwind campaign of this senatorial district with a whirlwind finish of which he may well be proud. Mr. Kuehnle made a thorough canvass of the district and the results have more than justified the efforts which he and his friends made in his behalf. Crawford county will give him more than six hundred majority. A large majority here was expected, but what was not expected was that he would be, almost the unanimous choice of the republicans of many precincts of Monona, and even in Harrison that he should carry precinct after precinct. In Mapleton but seven votes were cast against Kuehnle; in Rodney but four. In Dunlap Kuehnle had 40 majority and in Woodbine 60 majority, while Kellogg's majority in Harrison county will barely exceed 200. The returns justify the prediction that Mr. Kuehnle will have 800 majority, and this large vote makes it almost certain that he will be elected by a still larger majority. His opponent, Mr. Crow of Mapleton, is not well known throughout the district. Mr. Kuehnle will undoubtedly carry this county in November, and Monona and Harrison are safely republican. Mr. Kuehnle made a great campaign and he will make the most wideawake, aggressive and efficient senator this district has ever had.

ANOTHER RAILROAD VICTIM AT ARION

Mrs. Frank B. Sherwood, a Bride of Three Days, Killed by an Illinois Central Train.

HER BODY GROUND TO PIECES.

Husband Within a Few Feet of Wife When Accident Occurs.—Unable to Render Assistance.

Another appalling railroad accident occurred on Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock at Arion, at the crossing of the Illinois Central, Milwaukee and Northwestern railroads, resulting in the death of Mrs. Frank B. Sherwood, who was struck by Illinois Central train No. 5, going west. Her death was instantaneous, the body being literally ground to pieces. Her death ended a honeymoon of three days' duration, for on Wednesday she became the happy bride of Frank B. Sherwood, of Cottonwood, S. D. Mrs. Sherwood, who was Miss Mary Broderick, daughter of T. F. Broderick, 1007 East Thirteenth street, Sioux City, was a graduate of the Sioux City High School and of the normal department of Morning Side College. Her marriage was the culmination of a romance which had its growth during the time she was homesteading a claim adjoining that of her husband in Stanley County, S. D. After their marriage on Wednesday last Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood visited the parents of the bridegroom, living at Vall, in this county, and on Saturday last about noon took the Northwestern train at Vall for Sioux City, via Arion, where it was necessary to change from the Northwestern to the Milwaukee road. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, while waiting for the Milwaukee train, walked up town from the station and soon returned, and while her husband was engaged in checking their baggage, she again crossed the Illinois Central track, and went perhaps a block or more up town, and when the whistle of the Illinois Central train was heard she suddenly retraced her steps and ran for the depot, and just as she stepped to the center of the Illinois Central track the engine struck her, the entire train passing over and killing her instantly, her body being mutilated beyond recognition. Those who were near enough to witness the accident rushed to her rescue, but it was too late. Her remains were conveyed to the Illinois Central station, where they remained until Coroner William Byrne of Vall arrived three hours later. The body embalmed and afterwards placed in a casket and carried to the hotel, where it remained until Sunday morning, when it was taken on the train to Sioux City, accompanied by the hus-

MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN

Meeting Called at Court House to Consider Proposed Electric Line. Sioux City to Denison.

REPRESENTATIVES TO BE HERE.

Will Explain What is Proposed by the Company and What Our People Are Supposed to Do.

A meeting of the business men of Denison is called for Friday night at the court house to determine what shall be done respecting the proposed interurban line from Sioux City to Denison, which is at present backed by the Sioux City, Eastern and Traction Company. Representatives of the company will be on hand to explain just what is proposed by this new company, and what obligations our people are expected to assume in connection with the project. We believe it is due the company proposing to build this line, as well as the business men of Denison, that the meeting shall be fully attended. We have assumed no obligations whatever in connection with the proposed line, and it is well to thoroughly investigate the matter before doing so. Let there be a full attendance at the meeting on Friday night.

L. T. L. ANNUAL JUNE PICNIC.

It is the custom of the Loyal Temperance Legion to close its year's work with a picnic in Grace Park, and so on Monday afternoon 45 children and a dozen or more grown-ups, with well filled baskets, trooped up from the hall, and soon the woods were ringing with laughter, play and songs. At 5 o'clock a bountiful supper was served and no one slighted the task of eating. It was just cool enough to make every one hungry and there were good things to satisfy the most rapacious appetites. All the ladies insisted on being especially mentioned in the write-up, so we will disappoint all alike by suppressing each name.

Suffice it to say they were a lively party and made a jolly good time for the Legioners, who are a very happy little family with a very good feeling of comradeship. Long life and prosperity to the L. T. L., and they would all join in saying, "Long Life to the W. C. T. U., the founders of the feast."

Leslie Osborne will return tomorrow to Emporia, Kan., to resume his newspaper work, after having spent a pleasant week in Denison visiting his mother, Mrs. H. N. Osborne.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

Committee on Contributions Meets With Grand Success.

We understand that approximately $800 has been raised for the Fourth of July celebration in Denison. We congratulate the committee for the enterprise displayed in raising this money and the people for subscribing. It should insure a first class celebration.

The best ball game of the season will be played on Thursday afternoon at the College ball park, when the famous "Court House Rats" will defend their title as city champions in a contest with "Lamborn's Lambies." This undoubtedly will be a hard fought battle, and it behooves the Denison fans to attend the game and root for their favorites.
