A few years ago Mr. Robert Summerville, living half a mile southeast of Aspinwall, found some Canadian thistles on his farm and tried many plans to get rid of them. MAN BIRDS TO BE AT SIOUX CITY.

Willard and Mars to Fly in Glenn H. Curtiss' Aeroplanes at Woodland Park, June 29, 30 and July 1.

The Sioux City Commercial Club has raised among the business men of that town $10,000 to secure from Glenn H. Curtiss, the world's greatest conqueror of the air, the use of two or more of his aeroplanes and the services of Willard and Mars, his two chief assistants, for an aviation meet to be held at Woodland park, Riverside, the last two days of June and the first day of July. Incidental to the main attraction, there will be a band concert every afternoon of the meet, and in the morning there will be Western League base ball games at Mizzou park down town. The flights of the aeroplanes will start every afternoon at 1 o'clock. There will be races between Willard and Mars, and then all sorts of exhibitions will be given. These exhibitions will include flights around the course, trials for endurance and height, accurate and quick starting and landing tests, and attempts at slow flying and gliding. Indications are that the meet will be attended by 25,000 persons daily. At Los Angeles and in the few other places where these meets have been held, the crowds have been enormous. Sioux City railroads and arranging to increase their equipment for the occasion and the hotels are taking precaution against being swamped.

The Denison ball team defeated the Early ball club on Friday afternoon at the Denison ball park. The Early boys were outclassed and the home team had no trouble in running in nine scores, while the visitors only made one score. The game was well played from start to finish, very few errors being made on either side.
